Democrats Given Boost By Kennedy

$100,000 Raised During Dinner At Ohio Fairgrounds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democrats resume their political battles this week with the good will of New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and campaign coffers fatter by some $100,000.

Kennedy gave this blessing to Democratic efforts at a $50 a plate fund-raising dinner attended by 2,000 at the state fairgrounds Saturday night.

State party officials said none of the dinner proceeds was channeled into Democratic coffers and a fourth of the money was earmarked for brush-fire battles in Ohio counties.

But Kennedy brought more than money to Ohio Democrats. Flanked by former governor Michael V. DiSalle and U. S. Sen. Stephen Young, the former attorney general called for an end to the days when Democratic celebrities draw warm welcomes but few votes in Ohio.

At Port Columbus airport and at the fairgrounds dinner, Kennedy praised the state Democratic ticket headed by gubernatorial candidate Frazier Reams Jr.

A hefty share of the benefits of the Kennedy trip went to Robert N. Shamansky of Columbus, candidate in Ohio's new 12th Congressional District and a national campaign worker for the late President John F. Kennedy.

The New York senator drew a capacity crowd to a $50 per person downtown reception to bolster Shamansky's campaign resources. The appearance was considered a personal favor to Shamansky, without the likes of whom Kennedy said, "President Kennedy couldn't have won in 1960."

Kennedy's speech at the party dinner aimed at both international and domestic political issues.

At the party dinner, he coupled a call for control and eventual elimination of all nuclear weapons with a plea for a "truthful" approach to solving "deep and difficult" problems at home.

The largest problem, he said, was race relations, an issue complicated by the poverty, unemployment and want of the Negro community.

Kennedy said Negroes must be given "truly equal opportunities," but that the racial problem could not be solved by violence or a "sudden overturning of the social order."

Kennedy had made the same point at an earlier visit to the headquarters of the East Central Citizen's Committee, the nation's first self-administered neighborhood poverty program.

Kennedy's second campaign trip to Ohio in less than a month gave him a chance to continue wooing the mobs of youngsters which have become a feature of the senator's public appearances.

A rock and roll band and a crowd made up largely of students greeted Kennedy when he stepped off his plane and jestingly suggested shorter school hours, and longer holidays if Democratic candidates are elected.

When Kennedy walked toward the crowd to shake hands, the youthful onlookers toppled a restraining fence to get near him.

Afternoon Session At White House

Johnson Will Meet Today With Gromyko At Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson meets with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko late today amid a scent of slight improvement in U. S.-Soviet relations.

U. S. sources cautioned against any great expectations from the White House session, which was in the nature of a courtesy visit since Gromyko is in this country attending the U.N. General Assembly fall session.

But the mere fact of a Gromyko trip to Washington was a step above the icy atmosphere that set in with the massive U. S. military involvement in Viet Nam in 1965.

A year ago Gromyko stayed away from the U. S. capital, though he went to New York as usual for the annual U.N. opening and had stopped at the White House in previous years.

The Kremlin still supports North Viet Nam against what it terms American aggression, and it has served notice it will not move for peace talks until Hanoi wants them. Gromyko spurned another peace bid in New York Saturday, which had been presented by British Foreign Secretary George Brown.

What appears new is a Soviet interest in possible deals with the West on matters other than Viet Nam. And a major reason for this, in the opinion of U. S. analysts, is that Communist China's Red Guard convulsion has heavily damaged Peking in her rivalry with the Soviet Union for leadership of the Communist camp.

According to this theory, Moscow is now so far ahead in the Sino-Soviet contest that the Kremlin feels freer to pursue its own foreign policy ends regardless of Chinese charges of Soviet collusion with the United States.

Johnson laid a public foundation for future U. S.-Soviet relations in his major European policy speech last Friday. He favored a search for agreements despite differences over Viet Nam, and suggested a mutual reduction of forces in Europe.

Chances for progress are believed better on smaller steps than on major cold war issues, but U. S. diplomats still expect no sudden Kremlin friendliness toward the West.

More School Aid Included In Pledges

Governor Receives Applause In Attack On Troublemakers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes girded for the re-election campaign trail anew today fortified by a Republican platform pledging more financial help for schools, higher teacher pay, greater highway safety and adequate pollution abatement.

The platform, adopted with shouted approval at the GOP state convention here Saturday, included party replies to Democratic criticism of administration efforts in those fields, leaving the governor free to continue his strategy of a "positive" campaign.

But the governor drew prolonged applause from about 6,000 delegates, alternates, GOP officials and guests in the nearly filled State Fairgrounds Coliseum with an obvious warning against racial and other troublemakers.

"I will not permit the welfare or safety of any citizen to be ignored," Rhodes said. "Neither will I bow to anyone who seeks to inflame passions and create trouble anywhere in Ohio."

The platform promised adequate funds to help the Ohio Civil Rights Commission combat discrimination, called on labor and management to help "improve opportunities for minority group employment" and added:

"Republicans . . . acknowledge our duty to preserve each individual's freedom to pursue his own goals, limited only by what the common good requires."

Another plank advocated increases in needed law enforcement forces with higher pay for well qualified officers.

Rhodes will lead other touring GOP statehouse incumbents Tuesday into Youngstown, Akron and Warren. The governor will be in Cleveland Wednesday and again on Thursday for groundbreaking of Cuyahoga County Community College, in Fremont Friday and in Cincinnati and Springfield Saturday.

Education and employment were major themes stressed by Rhodes and the party platform.

Claiming 372,500 new jobs were created in Ohio during his 45 months in office, Rhodes said more are needed because of a population explosion. He added that this state leads the nation in training and retraining workers to cut unemployment.

He said local industrial de-

Reinforcements Moved Up

McNamara Now In Saigon For Visit To Battle Zones

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States moved heavy reinforcements up to the embattled demilitarized zone today as B52 bombers raided North Vietnamese infiltration routes just above the buffer area.

Simultaneously, U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara arrived in Saigon for a four-day visit to the battlefronts and a survey of the men and money needed for the war.

U.S. military headquarters announced that the two Marine divisions already in the northern provinces were moved closer to the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone which separates North and South Viet Nam.

A battalion of the 173rd Airborne Brigade was moved to Da Nang to reinforce the Leathernecks. It was the first time in the war that U.S. Army troops were deployed in the northern provinces.

U.S. reinforcements were massed in the north to help stem the mounting influx of North Vietnamese forces into South Viet Nam and to bolster the allied forces against an expected major Communist offensive.

Heavy fighting has been in progress just south of the demilitarized zone almost continuously since mid-July. In the last nine weeks, the Leathernecks have killed 1,071 North Vietnamese regulars — the equivalent of two battalions, the Marines have taken many casualties, but their losses are officially termed moderate.

The battlefront just south of the demilitarized zone was reported quiet. No contact was made with the enemy, but Marines uncovered another grave containing 25 North Vietnamese bodies at a site where heavy fighting took place last week. It raised the enemy death count to 1,071, U.S. headquarters said.

Formations of B52s struck at dawn just north of the demilitarized zone, pounding a base camp and bivouac and supply areas used by the North Vietnamese infiltrating into South Viet Nam.

It was the fifth raid by the eight-engine bombers since Sept. 21 just north of the demilitarized zone and the seventh B52 raid of the war against North Viet Nam.

Inside the six-mile-wide demilitarized zone itself, U.S. Marine and Air Force planes flew 12 missions Sunday, hitting at North Vietnamese positions west of coastal highway No. 1.

Defense Minister Criticized

Opposition Continuing Against Red China Chief

TOKYO (AP) — Red China indicated today that some of its army is still resisting Defense Minister Lin Piao's leadership, and a Hong Kong newspaper reported some of the Red Guards have criticized Lin.

Lin, boss of the Red Guards and No. 2 man to Chairman Mao Tse-tung, has issued new orders to the army to follow Mao's teachings, Peking's New China News Agency reported.

The instructions seemed to indicate that the army has not knuckled under to the Mao-Lin leadership and that Lin's position next to Mao has been questioned.

In Hong Kong, a pro-Nationalist Chinese newspaper reported that some of the young Red Guards put up posters in Peking accusing Lin of "stealing things to eat" when he was a child. "How could a thief lead a country?" The posters asked, according to the report in the Kung Sheung Daily News.

Lin's latest instructions to the armed forces to put the party and Mao in control were released by Hsiao Hua, director of the army's general political department, NCNA said.

"In fighting a war," he said, "our armed forces have always relied on people's political consciousness, on their courage, on the political factor."

Hsiao also said that Lin took charge of the party central committee military commission several years ago. The powerful commission, headed by Mao, wields party control over the armed forces.

On Formosa, Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek said in a statement that Mao Tse-tung is afraid of dethronement by anti-Mao forces on the mainland and a Nationalist counteroffensive from Formosa which would "deal a fatal, final blow to his tottering regime."

New Incidents Claim 4 Israeli Policemen

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Two weekend border incidents took the lives of four Israeli policemen and injured seven other persons.

The policemen were killed Saturday night when their jeep hit a mine in the Jordan Valley south of the Sea of Galilee as they were rushing to investigate two explosions near the village of Shaar Hagolan. Two other policemen in the jeep were injured.

A foreign office spokesman said the Israeli government views the worsening border situation with gravity.

Water Break, Shuts School, Cuts Traffic

Nearly 300 youngsters at the Garfield School received an unscheduled holiday today after a big water line broke on Pennsylvania Ave. near Mulberry St. and State St.

School authorities said 272 children in grades one through six at Garfield were given the morning off after the break was discovered in a 12-inch pumping main about 1 a. m.

After checking on the progress of the repairs this morning, school authorities said the Garfield building would be closed all day.

Distribution crews headed by Rodney Stull, foreman, were at work seeking to uncover the break, which forced one-way traffic at the site. Motorists were urged to detour around that section of Pennsylvania Ave. by using the River Rd.

Water service was reported interrupted in some sections of East End, but officials said they did not anticipate a general shutoff for the entire First Ward.

The line crew has been on the job since about 1 this morning. The work was hampered by a steady rain and the traffic on the busy thoroughfare, officials said. The repair work also was hampered at the outset by difficulty in locating a valve to shut off the line.

Power Blackout Hits New Waterford, Area

NEW WATERFORD — Electric power for an area extending as far north as Unity was interrupted Sunday night when an air switch exploded at the Ohio Edison Co. substation on the Custer Farm in the eastern part of the village.

Power went off at 9 and was not restored until 1 and 1:30 a. m. today. Utility officials said the switch may have blown as a result of the wet weather.

Multiple Deaths Occur

By The Associated Press

Still no letup. Killed: At least 27.

That's the Ohio traffic sizeup after another weekend marked by wholesale loss of life and limb.

Multiple death accidents — four killed in a Columbiana County truck-car wreck, three in a Stark County auto collision, two in a crackup on Interstate 75 near Lima, two in a Trumbull County smashup, two in a Wood County collision—shot the toll upward.

The final score compared with 28, 35 and 28 the three previous weekends.

South Texas May Escape Fury Of Inez

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Hurricane Inez slashed the Mexican Coast north of Tampico today and headed inland on a course that may spare South Texas and its multimillion-dollar citrus crop.

The Weather Bureau at New Orleans reported that Tampico, a city of 200,000 population, had wind gusts of 90 miles an hour.

A portion of the 17-day-old storm, which has taken at least 150 lives since developing out in the Caribbean, moved over the Mexican Coast, the Weather Bureau said.

It added in a 6 a.m. EDT advisory that the 50-mile-wide eye of the storm was expected to go inland this morning 25 to 100 miles north of Tampico and 150 to 225 miles south of Brownsville, near the villages of Moron El Sabino and Nuevo in the state of Tamaulipas.

The dangerous hurricane was located by Brownsville radar about 195 miles south of Brownsville. Inez was moving westward at six miles per hour.

It was the second recent change in course for the hurricane. Early today Inez swung to a more westerly path and headed toward the Tampico area.

About 24 hours earlier it had deserted a similar course and pointed its 135-mile-per-hour winds toward the South Texas coast.

The Weather Bureau said Inez' present course would put Brownsville, a city of 52,800 on the Texas-Mexico border, out of the hurricane-force area.

Hurricane warnings remained in effect from Tampico to the Brownsville-Port Isabel area, gale warnings another 150 miles northward to Corpus Christi and a hurricane watch alert to Port Arthur near the Texas-Louisiana line.

Thousands of evacuees from the flatlands surrounding Tampico jammed into the City Hall and other concrete structures there.

Grocery stores and service stations in towns near the Gulf Coast of South Texas exhausted supplies of candles and flashlight batteries.

Citrus growers in the lush Lower Rio Grande Valley said their trees were heavy with ripening fruit and a storm could inflict severe damage. In the 1933 hurricane 90 per cent of the crop was destroyed.

Inez came out of the eastern end of the Caribbean late last month, pounded parts of the West Indies and took two whacks at Cuba before moving northward toward Florida.

A 26-year-old New Brighton woman was fatally injured in a two-car collision on New Brighton's 3rd Ave. near 17th St. Saturday night.

Mrs. Martha Haswell of 3905 38th St. died at 11:30 p. m. in the emergency room of the New Brighton Unit of Beaver Valley Providence Hospital of a crashed chest received in the crash.

A car driven by David Raynolds, 17, of Aliquippa was headed north on 3rd and skidded on the wet pavement into the oncoming auto operated by the woman. Reynolds and a passenger in his car, Alan Potts of Aliquippa, were treated at the hospital for facial cuts and released.

The death was the 41st traffic death in Beaver County this year. Officers said an investigation is continuing.

The central body also paid tribute to George B. M. Kilmer, its oldest living charter member. Kilmer spoke briefly, as did guests from other labor groups.

Joyce Westlake, a soloist, provided entertainment. The invocation was by the Rev. Allen Conway of the First Methodist Church.

The committee in charge was headed by Joseph A. Winters. Aiding him were Clarence Moore, Claire Coleman, Audley Elliott, Mrs. Edith Wheatley, Miss Delores Rankin, Miss Delores Jackson, Mrs. Elsie Moore and Mrs. Ramona Treadway.

The program was arranged by Gerald Cartwright, international representative of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union and also president of Local Union 638, Printing Specialties.

Peace Pleas Turned Down By Viet Cong

TOKYO (AP) — The Viet Cong today rejected Britain's plan for peace in Viet Nam and Pope Paul VI's appeals for peace.

"It is of no avail at this moment to issue vague calls for peace in Viet Nam without pointing one's finger at the U.S. war criminals and obliging them to withdraw their troops from South Viet Nam," a commentary by the Communist Liberation Press Agency said.

On Saturday North Viet Nam and the Soviet Union rejected the plan put forward by British Foreign Secretary George Brown last week. The plan called for the Viet Cong to be present at any peace talks.

The Viet Cong commentary did not name the Pope but it referred to the mission he sent to Saigon Last week.

Archbishop Sergio Pignedoli, head of the papal mission, returned to the Vatican Sunday and expressed satisfaction with his trip. He said contact with leaders of various religions in South Viet Nam "has convinced me that there is a common denominator on which to build mutual understanding and collaborate for the good of the country."

South Texas May Escape Fury Of Inez

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Hurricane Inez slashed the Mexican Coast north of Tampico today and headed inland on a course that may spare South Texas and its multimillion-dollar citrus crop.

The Weather Bureau at New Orleans reported that Tampico, a city of 200,000 population, had wind gusts of 90 miles an hour.

A portion of the 17-day-old storm, which has taken at least 150 lives since developing out in the Caribbean, moved over the Mexican Coast, the Weather Bureau said.

It added in a 6 a.m. EDT advisory that the 50-mile-wide eye of the storm was expected to go inland this morning 25 to 100 miles north of Tampico and 150 to 225 miles south of Brownsville, near the villages of Moron El Sabino and Nuevo in the state of Tamaulipas.

The dangerous hurricane was located by Brownsville radar about 195 miles south of Brownsville. Inez was moving westward at six miles per hour.

It was the second recent change in course for the hurricane. Early today Inez swung to a more westerly path and headed toward the Tampico area.

About 24 hours earlier it had deserted a similar course and pointed its 135-mile-per-hour winds toward the South Texas coast.

The Weather Bureau said Inez' present course would put Brownsville, a city of 52,800 on the Texas-Mexico border, out of the hurricane-force area.

Hurricane warnings remained in effect from Tampico to the Brownsville-Port Isabel area, gale warnings another 150 miles northward to Corpus Christi and a hurricane watch alert to Port Arthur near the Texas-Louisiana line.

Thousands of evacuees from the flatlands surrounding Tampico jammed into the City Hall and other concrete structures there.

Grocery stores and service stations in towns near the Gulf Coast of South Texas exhausted supplies of candles and flashlight batteries.

Citrus growers in the lush Lower Rio Grande Valley said their trees were heavy with ripening fruit and a storm could inflict severe damage. In the 1933 hurricane 90 per cent of the crop was destroyed.

Inez came out of the eastern end of the Caribbean late last month, pounded parts of the West Indies and took two whacks at Cuba before moving northward toward Florida.

Governor Receives Applause In Attack On Troublemakers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes girded for the re-election campaign trail anew today fortified by a Republican platform pledging more financial help for schools, higher teacher pay, greater highway safety and adequate pollution abatement.

The platform, adopted with shouted approval at the GOP state convention here Saturday, included party replies to Democratic criticism of administration efforts in those fields, leaving the governor free to continue his strategy of a "positive" campaign.

But the governor drew prolonged applause from about 6,000 delegates, alternates, GOP officials and guests in the nearly filled State Fairgrounds Coliseum with an obvious warning against racial and other troublemakers.

"I will not permit the welfare or safety of any citizen to be ignored," Rhodes said. "Neither will I bow to anyone who seeks to inflame passions and create trouble anywhere in Ohio."

The platform promised adequate funds to help the Ohio Civil Rights Commission combat discrimination, called on labor and management to help "improve opportunities for minority group employment" and added: "Republicans . . . acknowledge our duty to preserve each individual's freedom to pursue his own goals, limited only by what the common good requires."

Another plank advocated increases in needed law enforcement forces with higher pay for well qualified officers.

Rhodes will lead other touring GOP statehouse incumbents Tuesday into Youngstown, Akron and Warren. The governor will be in Cleveland Wednesday and again on Thursday for groundbreaking of Cuyahoga County Community College, in Fremont Friday and in Cincinnati and Springfield Saturday.

Education and employment were major themes stressed by Rhodes and the party platform.

Claiming 372,500 new jobs were created in Ohio during his 45 months in office, Rhodes said more are needed because of a population explosion. He added that this state leads the nation in training and retraining workers to cut unemployment.

He said local industrial de-

Mrs. Martha Haswell of 3905 38th St. died at 11:30 p. m. in the emergency room of the New Brighton Unit of Beaver Valley Providence Hospital of a crashed chest received in the crash.

A car driven by David Raynolds, 17, of Aliquippa was headed north on 3rd and skidded on the wet pavement into the oncoming auto operated by the woman. Reynolds and a passenger in his car, Alan Potts of Aliquippa, were treated at the hospital for facial cuts and released.

Hays Speaks At Dinner Of Labor Group

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, addressed a crowd of 250 at the annual banquet of the Trades and Labor Council Saturday night at St. Aloysius School Hall.

A veteran of 18 years in Congress, the Flushing Democrat ranged over a wide spectrum of subjects from the war in Viet Nam to U.S.-Russian relations and domestic policies.

The central body also paid tribute to George B. M. Kilmer, its oldest living charter member. Kilmer spoke briefly, as did guests from other labor groups.

Joyce Westlake, a soloist, provided entertainment. The invocation was by the Rev. Allen Conway of the First Methodist Church.

The committee in charge was headed by Joseph A. Winters. Aiding him were Clarence Moore, Claire Coleman, Audley Elliott, Mrs. Edith Wheatley, Miss Delores Rankin, Miss Delores Jackson, Mrs. Elsie Moore and Mrs. Ramona Treadway.

The program was arranged by Gerald Cartwright, international representative of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union and also president of Local Union 638, Printing Specialties.

Representatives attended from most local unions in the area, as well as from trades and labor assemblies throughout the tri-state district. Various county office - holders and candidates were introduced.

Peace Pleas Turned Down By Viet Cong

TOKYO (AP) — The Viet Cong today rejected Britain's plan for peace in Viet Nam and Pope Paul VI's appeals for peace.

"It is of no avail at this moment to issue vague calls for peace in Viet Nam without pointing one's finger at the U.S. war criminals and obliging them to withdraw their troops from South Viet Nam," a commentary by the Communist Liberation Press Agency said.

On Saturday North Viet Nam and the Soviet Union rejected the plan put forward by British Foreign Secretary George Brown last week. The plan called for the Viet Cong to be present at any peace talks.

The Viet Cong commentary did not name the Pope but it referred to the mission he sent to Saigon Last week.

Archbishop Sergio Pignedoli, head of the papal mission, returned to the Vatican Sunday and expressed satisfaction with his trip. He said contact with leaders of various religions in South Viet Nam "has convinced me that there is a common denominator on which to build mutual understanding and collaborate for the good of the country."

Parked Cars Struck

Driver, 29, Cited After 2 Mishaps

A 29-year-old East Liverpool driver was cited on a charge of failure to stop following an accident after his car allegedly was involved in collisions with two parked cars on Oak St. and Minerva St. within an 11-minute span early today.

The charge was filed against Raymond Kinne of 818 Lincoln Ave., whose 1961 two - door sedan allegedly struck a parked car in the 700 block of Oak St. at 12:46 a. m. and hit a parked 1962 two - door sedan in the 700 block of Minerva St. at 12:57.

In the Oak St. mishap, Kinne's car hit a 1959 two - door sedan owned by Richard Kirkham of 7 Avondale St., damaging the left rear tail light and bumper, police said.

In the Minerva St. mishap, it struck a 1962 two-door sedan owned by Robert Stoffel of 744 Minerva St., police said, damaging the left rear of the auto and its transmission.

THE CHARGE of leaving the scene of an accident was filed in connection with the collision with the Kirkham car. The owner said he did not know his car had been struck until police knocked on his door and awakened him, officers said.

In connection with the crash that damaged Stoffel's car, officers reported a neighbor heard a crash, looked outside and saw Kinne's car backing away from Stoffel's auto. Kinne parked nearby and went to another home and knocked on the door, the witness said. However, the householder, a woman, refused to admit Kinne, police were told.

Kinne got into his car again and drove away, the witness said. Lt. Robert Pyle, given the license number and a description of the auto, said he found it abandoned at Minerva and Oak Sts. Since it was parked in such a way it was a menace to passing traffic, the auto was towed away, officers said.

Kinne later came to the police station with a friend and reported the collision with Stoffel's car, police said. He then was charged with disorderly conduct by intoxication.

The two crashes damaged the right front of Kinne's car, officers said.

TWO TEEN - AGERS were injured Sunday at 2:49 a. m. when their auto veered off Dresden Ave. 100 feet south of McKee St., police said.

Taken to City Hospital were Keith A. Johnston, 16, of 1253 Croft St., driver of the 1956 two-door sedan, and Harry Reibold, 17, of Iris Ave., a passenger.

Reibold, son of Elmer Reibold, was in "fair" condition today with a bruise of the forehead and abrasions of the left arm, chest and ankle.

Johnston, son of Harold Johnston, was released after treatment for abrasions of the head.

The auto went onto the property of Wayne Clutter of 1201 Dresden Ave., officers said. The mishap damaged the entire front end of the auto and officers said it probably will be written off as a total loss.

Johnston told police he did not know what happened.

Three cars were damaged in a collision Saturday at 10:39 p. m. on E. 4th St., officers reported.

A 1965 model auto driven by John Vishak, 17, of the Cannons Mills Rd. hit a parked 1960 car owned by Walter V. Landis of 507 E. 4th St. and a parked 1962 auto owned by Robert Glover of 2nd St., Midland, officers said.

THE COLLISION damaged the right side of the Vishak car, the left front door and rear quarter panel of the Landis auto and the left side of the Glover car.

Vishak, who went to headquarters to report the mishap, told police he halted at the scene and observed the damage and then pulled away because his car was blocking traffic. He went home and got his father and then returned to headquarters to report the collision, police said.

Another three - way collision was reported on Lisbon St. at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

It involved a 1966 model car driven by Georgia Warren, 32, of 315 Grant St., Newell, a parked 1966 hardtop owned by William A. Hargreaves of 933 Princeton Ave. and a parked 1965 model sports car owned by Robert K. Hargreaves of 846 Lisbon St., officers said.

The woman said she was seated in her parked car, waiting for a friend, when her foot slipped off the brake pedal and hit the accelerator. Her car moved forward, hitting the William Hargreaves car and shoving it into the auto owned by Robert Hargreaves.

The crash damaged the right front of the Warren car, the entire rear and the right front of William Hargreaves' car and the left rear fender, bumper and splash pan of the Robert Hargreaves auto.

MEANWHILE, Arthur B. Conkle of 830 Spring Grove Ave. told police the left rear fender of his parked 1954 sedan was damaged by a hit-skip car early Sunday while parked on Spring Grove Ave. 300 feet east of Lisbon St.

Another hit - skip crash was reported by Donald Glynn of 655 Bradshaw Ave. He said the left front and the left door of his 1960 model car were damaged early Saturday while parked on Bradshaw Ave. near Avondale St.

John F. Jack, 52, of 559 Campground Rd., Wellsville, told officers his 1965 model auto was damaged on the left front in a hit-skip collision on Shadyside Ave. at 10:08 p.m. Saturday.

Jack told officers his car was halted when struck by an auto headed downgrade. The offending car hit a bump, causing it to cross the centerline, he said. The other driver stopped, surveyed the damage and then drove away, he said.

A mishap on Lincoln Ave. near Smith St. Saturday at 1:30 p.m. involved a 1965 model car driven by Lawrence Shiveley, 58, of 112 Ravine St. and a parked 1967 model pickup owned by Norman D. Riggs of 933 St. George St., officers said. There was damage to the right rear fender of the pickup truck. Shiveley's car was undamaged, police said.

LLOYD RAMSEY of 151 Thompson Ave. told police his 1963 two - door sedan was struck by a hit - skip car between midnight Friday and 9:31 a. m. Saturday while parked on Thompson Ave. east of Elm St. The collision damaged the left door and side of his car, Ramsey said.

An auto was damaged heavily when it crashed into a utility pole today at 3:04 a. m. at Avondale St. and Mars Alley, police said.

The sedan was termed a "possible total loss," with heavy damage to the front end, officers said. The driver was not identified. Police said the auto was towed to a service station, but the driver did not report the details of the collision to headquarters. The owner is a Dresden Ave. man, according to a registration check, police said.

John F. Jack, 52, of 559 Campground Rd., Wellsville, told officers his 1965 model auto was damaged on the left front in a hit-skip collision on Shadyside Ave. at 10:08 p.m. Saturday.

Jack told officers his car was halted when struck by an auto headed downgrade. The offending car hit a bump, causing it to cross the centerline, he said. The other driver stopped, surveyed the damage and then drove away, he said.

A mishap on Lincoln Ave. near Smith St. Saturday at 1:30 p.m. involved a 1965 model car driven by Lawrence Shiveley, 58, of 112 Ravine St. and a parked 1967 model pickup owned by Norman D. Riggs of 933 St. George St., officers said. There was damage to the right rear fender of the pickup truck. Shiveley's car was undamaged, police said.

An auto was damaged heavily when it crashed into a utility pole today at 3:04 a. m. at Avondale St. and Mars Alley, police said.

The sedan was termed a "possible total loss," with heavy damage to the front end, officers said. The driver was not identified. Police said the auto was towed to a service station, but the driver did not report the details of the collision to headquarters. The owner is a Dresden Ave. man, according to a registration check, police said.

It Is Newspaper Week Again

It is Newspaper Week again.

Newspapers and their friends are going through the motions once more of calling attention to the success of a press immune to political hobbling.

This is always embarrassing. It makes newspaper people feel as though they were stepping into a role that make them sound ridiculous—something like a medical doctor would feel if he tried to thump a tub for Doctor Week.

Calling attention to the usefulness of a free press concerns an indispensable right of a free people. It is not a material thing like noodles, peanut butter—not an emotional thing like being kind to animals.

The idea of having a "week" in behalf of newspaper—the idea of pinpointing a precious quality of the American Republic as hard to define as virtue and integrity in human beings—is on the verge of being promotional sillyism.

Newspapers do not have to sell the American people on the indispensability of a free press, meaning a press free to make its own way, good, bad, or indifferent, the American people do that for themselves.

The idea of a free press is unassailable. It belongs to the people, themselves. The idea that newspapers and all other communications media relying on the printed word shall not be licensed or regulated by political authority is as unchallenged as any part of the Bill of Rights.

The only thing debatable—and this can be debated endlessly—is whether readers like or dislike the paper they read. And that is what keeps the press free. It is responsible solely to the sovereign people of the United States, not to any political authority.

It does its job hour by hour, day by day, week by week. It lets people know what is happening. It tells them what is for sale in stores. It provides a continuous record of the times, a sounding board for its readers' views, a platform for public statements, a window on the world, an ear to the ground.

It is not easy to say so, but if a free press didn't exist and Americans wanted to achieve what they cherish as their American way of life they would have to invent a free press and get it into full operation immediately.

Fascinating Information

Somewhere in the hazy journalistic past, someone devised a way to fill those little, awkward-sized holes that crop up daily in turning out a newspaper. Whoever it was came up with what is known in the "newspaper game" as "fillers."

For the benefit of the uninitiated, "fillers" are short stories—so short, in fact, they sometimes only take two lines of type to tell. But when the people who put newspapers together are confronted with a hole that will take only two lines of type, how valuable they are!

If you're not a reader of fillers, you're missing an adventure into a world of startling facts, useless tidbits of information, statistics, guesses, forecasts and plain drivel.

Let's take a look at a few, found in a single day's edition.

Did you know St. Nicholas, more popularly known as Santa Claus, was born in Demre, Turkey, a little town on the western Mediterranean coast on Dec. 6, 350 A.D.? How about that!

Or that Jamaica will be host to the eighth British Empire and Commonwealth games in August?

Here's a dandy. Portugal, the westernmost nation of continental Europe, found her destiny in the sea. What does that mean?

For the music lover, we learn Joseph Haydn was history's most prolific composer of symphonies. And for the car buff, we're told the cheapest car of all time was the Ford model T, which sold for $295.

Did you know Pliny the Elder, famous Roman author, perished in the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius? Or that meteors are composed chiefly of iron? Or that Georgia is the largest state east of the Mississippi River? Those are facts, folks!

Here's one you probably knew before. The tiny British protectorate of Basutoland plans to proclaim independence this year. This small enclave in eastern South Africa will be known as the Kingdom of Lesotho.

Know what a digamist is? He's a person who is married legally for the second time. We'll bet some digamists didn't know that either.

This won't come as any surprise to a music fan, but it's Istanbul, not Constantinople. The name of the Turkish city was changed after World War I.

And so it goes. Fascinating, what?

By the way, did you know petroleum has helped transform sand dunes into lush oases in Libya? Yep!

A Consternating Quest

U.N. diplomats are walking around these days with all their fingers crossed.

They are hoping U Thant will reconsider his decision to quit his post as U.N. secretary general.

If he goes ahead with his plan to leave, they face a most difficult task: selection of a successor.

What they have in mind is a man with the patience of Job, brain of an Einstein, physical stamina of Bob Richards and diplomacy of Winston Churchill.

They want a man meek enough not to be offensive, but strong enough to add stature to the organization; young enough to show vitality, but old enough to display wisdom and a sun lover so he can be dark skinned in summer and light skinned in winter.

And when the search begins, will it be among the top ranking men from the leading nations of the world? No, there is an unwritten rule that the secretary general be selected from some small insigificant country that has not soiled itself in previous disputes.

With world tensions at a high level, it is highly unlikely any nominee can get blanket approval.

About the only sure way to fill the spot will be to make something out of cardboard and plastic and teach it to speak Russian, French and Swahili. Then attach a number of strategic strings to keep it from getting out of hand.

Mills And Long

By Edmond Le Breton

WASHINGTON

As Congress sweeps aside the secondary bills and piles up for attention the business it must transact before adjourning, a contrast of personality and style near the top shows up more clearly than ever.

It highlights the differences between two members who must work together if vital tax legislation is to move smoothly through the legislative machinery. The two top men in this field are the chairmen of the House Ways and Means and the Senate Finance Committees, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La.

IMMEDIATE problems facing Mills and Long include an overhaul of the 31-year-old unemployment compensation system. The bill was passed in different forms by the two chambers and has been stalled for more than two months as, apparently, Mills and Long have not been able to agree even on the preliminaries of compromise. The bill may die with this Congress.

Trouble evidently awaits another bill, passed by the House, to encourage foreign investment in the United States. Long's committee loaded it with no fewer than 27 wholly extraneous amendments, ranging from new depletion rules on clamshells to a pet plan of Long himself for financing presidential campaigns. Mills is known to detest the Senate practice of tying riders to House bills. These must be handled in conference, rather than through regular House committee deliberation.

The House also has passed President Johnson's bill to suspend business tax incentives as an anti - inflation move. Besieged by requests for exceptions, which the administration opposes, Mills' Ways and Means Committee stood firm on all but two. But members are openly questioning whether the Finance Committee, and the Senate itself, will perform as firmly.

THE DIFFERENT approaches of Mills and Long have been more and more apparent since Long succeeded to the finance chairmanship last year when Sen. Harry F. Byrd Sr. of Virginia retired. Mills, Chairman of Ways and Means for some nine years, worked well enough with Byrd.

Meticulous preparation, caution and patience are Mills' characteristics. He brings bills to the floor only when there is no reasonable chance of defeat. An associate remarked, "Wilbur's idea of a consensus is 90 per cent."

Long takes chances and makes gestures. His current project for taxpayers to authorize $1 allotments to political parties of their choice is widely regarded as a trial balloon rather than a serious candidate for enactment by the present Congress.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

The only fool-proof way to know what people are thinking is to eavesdrop on unguarded conversations, which is illegal and unethical. I have no confidence in guarded answers forthcoming when people are polled.

For the life of me, I can't think of a reason an auto owner who has lost his right to drive a car legally should not be deprived of the license plates for his car, to take temptation out of the way.

When my fellow Americans talk as if they believed presidential candidates of the United States always were the most meritorious citizens, I am aghast. I can think of only one nominee in this century who came close to that description — Herbert Hoover. All others were chosen solely for political expediency and political manipulation.

It is noteworthy that few schools ever studied the Bible for appreciation of its classical content, though this is permissible under the Supreme Court ruling on the separation of religion and the school curriculum.

I hope no one in the U.S. war party holds it against Pope Paul VI for promoting a peace settlement in Viet Nam. At least no one can yelp that the Pope is a "Consymp." The Roman Catholic church has two million members in South Viet Nam.

I wish my fellow motorists would not put ornaments in their autos. These offend my sense of propriety, especially trinkets supposed to amuse drivers of other cars, like plastic dogs that blink their eyes for right and left turns.

Freedom's Safety Valve

McNamara Is Riding Shotgun

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — At high noon one recent Sunday, Lyndon Johnson turned to the man who more and more these days is riding shotgun for him on the home front as well as in more explosive foreign fields — namely, 50-year-old Robert S. McNamara.

Victor Riesel

At that moment the President was faced with an escalating nationwide war between the labor movement and the General Electric Co.

The President knew what the public didn't — that the national labor leaders were planning to rush to Washington for an emergency session on Tuesday morning if a strike had flared against the company at midnight Sunday.

This gathering of labor's most powerful men would not have been just a propaganda convocation. It would have been the real thing—an emergency meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

They would have pledged millions of dollars to the striking coordinated steering group of the Committee on Collective Bargaining of 11 national unions.

EACH AFL-CIO Executive Council member would have peeled off hundreds of men under a joint chiefs of staff to direct the mass picketing of 125,000 men at GE and later for the 75,600 who would have walked out at Westinghouse, you can be sure.

They would have committed themselves to the proposition that neither the General Electric Co. nor any other corporation regardless of size could defeat a strike run by the latest thing in labor—the steering committee.

There is no doubt of this. Paul Jennings, the young and fledgling president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, had called such stalwarts as Paul Hall, leader of the seafarers and Walter Reuther, auto union chief, to reserve Tuesday for the great concentration.

This activity was relayed to the White House through the still anonymous Joe Califano, one of the brightest minds ever quartered in the White House, and, of course, Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz. At the other end of the wire was the other specialist in anonymity, Lane Kirkland, George Meany's brilliant one-man task force.

ALL SIDES KNEW that the rank and file might get out of hand—as indeed it did at several installations — including the critical, though now little - known, Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory of GE near Schenectady.

Somewhere along the line the President moved instinctively toward the man he now counts on most in his Cabinet—Defense Secretary McNamara.

To those deep on the inside this may not be lacking in political significance in the next two years.

The President and McNamara talked several times. The defense secretary was blunt. There could be no hard-hitting war on the foreign front if labor and General Electric fought it out on the home front for several months—as had happened in the summertime airline strike.

McNamara pointed out that GE produced a spectrum of jet aircraft engines without which U.S. forces would have to fight a kiwi war in Viet Nam.

So the President and McNamara agreed that if there were a strike—the basic issue being the union's demand for some sort of cost of living escalator clause—then Mr. Johnson would send the Justice Department into the courts for an 80-day Taft-Hartley "cooling off" injunction.

MR. McNAMARA assured the White House that he could back up such a move, though it involved an almost unprecedented action against just one company in a vast field of armaments. This positiveness the President wanted to hear.

So he was set and word went to the labor people, via the Lane Kirkland grapevine.

The labor leaders worked that Sunday. They did not want the government to move against them with the implication that they were hurting the defense effort—nor did they want to get tied up for 80 days. They might not have been able to restrain the wildcatters and things might have gotten out of control.

So they bargained by phone to prevent the use of Taft-Hartley. An unprecedented Cabinet level mediation committee was suggested by the White House, since Mr. Johnson refused to get himself positioned in another strike crisis.

Yes, the labor leaders would take the friendly Willard Wirtz. The GE people approved Secretary of Commerce John Connor. He thought they had made a fine offer to the union. The President decided to let himself be represented by the man who now is riding shotgun for the U.S.

There will be more of this sort of thing. McNamara will ride again.

A New Era?

By David Lawrence

Johnson's Trip 'International'

Republicans are making a mistake in interpreting President Johnson's trip to Manila and other Asian capitals as being motivated solely by political considerations in this country.

The forthcoming mission of the President to the Far East is basically an international maneuver.

Republicans would be on more logical ground if they pointed out that a Democratic administration has belatedly begun to carry out the concepts which President Eisenhower and the late John Foster Dulles proclaimed to the world when the Southeast Asia Treaty was signed in Manila 12 years ago.

It has taken America a long time to realize that among the factors which could bring about World War III there are some in Asia more dangerous than have arisen anywhere else in the world.

In September 1954, Secretary of State Dulles, in historic speeches delivered at the opening of the Manila conference and in the United States shortly after the Southeast Asia Treaty was signed, emphasized the importance to Asia of "unity for security and peace," including economic planning and military cooperation.

In ratifying the new treaty, commitments for defense against aggression by armed attack had been made by several of the same countries whose representatives are again assembling in Manila Oct. 24 to meet with President Johnson.

MR. DULLES declared that the "treaty recognizes also the danger of subversion and indirect aggression" and "deals with this difficult problem more explicitly than any other security treaty that has been made."

He pointed out that this country also had agreed to "cooperate in the development of economic measures which will promote economic and social well-being" in the treaty area as well as in certain states not actually parties.

He said that "the protocol also extends the treaty benefits to Cambodia and Laos and the free territory of Viet Nam" and that the treaty will, "to the extent that is practicable, throw a mantle of protection over these young nations."

The speeches made by Mr. Dulles at Manila and subsequently on his return home show a remarkable parallel with what is being said today by President Johnson and Secretary of State Rusk about the purposes of the United States in cementing the relationships of the free countries of Asia.

In recent months, substantial progress has been made among the free countries of Asia toward recognition of the fact that, with American participation, much can be accomplished to bolster the Asian alliance of free nations and build it up by strengthening the economic position of each.

U. Alexis Johnson, who is shortly to leave his post as deputy undersecretary of state to become our new ambassador to Japan, has emphasized that the United States is seeking "a community of truly independent states" in the far east.

He said this country will not "flag in its efforts to join with any country which is prepared to work with good will and sincerity toward the goal of peace, stability, prosperity, and security for all the nations of Asia."

He expressed the hope that "the great Chinese people will ultimately recognize that this is also in their true interest."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON will dramatize the importance of closer working arrangements between the United States and Asia by visiting a half-dozen countries in that region late this month and attending the seven-nation conference to be held in Manila.

By going to New Zealand, Australia, the Philippines, Thailand, Malaysia and South Kora, Mr. Johnson will be the first U.S. president to make such a journey.

The truth is, President Johnson's mission to the Far East is a milestone in American diplomacy.

It could result in the development of such a mutually beneficial relationship between the Asian countries and the United States that the leaders of Red China would get the point, too.

If he goes ahead with his plan to leave, they face a most difficult task: selection of a successor.

What they have in mind is a man with the patience of Job, brain of an Einstein, physical stamina of Bob Richards and diplomacy of Winston Churchill.

They want a man meek enough not to be offensive, but strong enough to add stature to the organization; young enough to show vitality, but old enough to display wisdom and a sun lover so he can be dark skinned in summer and light skinned in winter.

And when the search begins, will it be among the top ranking men from the leading nations of the world? No, there is an unwritten rule that the secretary general be selected from some small insigificant country that has not soiled itself in previous disputes.

With world tensions at a high level, it is highly unlikely any nominee can get blanket approval.

About the only sure way to fill the spot will be to make something out of cardboard and plastic and teach it to speak Russian, French and Swahili. Then attach a number of strategic strings to keep it from getting out of hand.

Mills And Long

By Edmond Le Breton

WASHINGTON

As Congress sweeps aside the secondary bills and piles up for attention the business it must transact before adjourning, a contrast of personality and style near the top shows up more clearly than ever.

It highlights the differences between two members who must work together if vital tax legislation is to move smoothly through the legislative machinery. The two top men in this field are the chairmen of the House Ways and Means and the Senate Finance Committees, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La.

IMMEDIATE problems facing Mills and Long include an overhaul of the 31-year-old unemployment compensation system. The bill was passed in different forms by the two chambers and has been stalled for more than two months as, apparently, Mills and Long have not been able to agree even on the preliminaries of compromise. The bill may die with this Congress.

Trouble evidently awaits another bill, passed by the House, to encourage foreign investment in the United States. Long's committee loaded it with no fewer than 27 wholly extraneous amendments, ranging from new depletion rules on clamshells to a pet plan of Long himself for financing presidential campaigns. Mills is known to detest the Senate practice of tying riders to House bills. These must be handled in conference, rather than through regular House committee deliberation.

The House also has passed President Johnson's bill to suspend business tax incentives as an anti - inflation move. Besieged by requests for exceptions, which the administration opposes, Mills' Ways and Means Committee stood firm on all but two. But members are openly questioning whether the Finance Committee, and the Senate itself, will perform as firmly.

THE DIFFERENT approaches of Mills and Long have been more and more apparent since Long succeeded to the finance chairmanship last year when Sen. Harry F. Byrd Sr. of Virginia retired. Mills, Chairman of Ways and Means for some nine years, worked well enough with Byrd.

Meticulous preparation, caution and patience are Mills' characteristics. He brings bills to the floor only when there is no reasonable chance of defeat. An associate remarked, "Wilbur's idea of a consensus is 90 per cent."

Long takes chances and makes gestures. His current project for taxpayers to authorize $1 allotments to political parties of their choice is widely regarded as a trial balloon rather than a serious candidate for enactment by the present Congress.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

The only fool-proof way to know what people are thinking is to eavesdrop on unguarded conversations, which is illegal and unethical. I have no confidence in guarded answers forthcoming when people are polled.

For the life of me, I can't think of a reason an auto owner who has lost his right to drive a car legally should not be deprived of the license plates for his car, to take temptation out of the way.

When my fellow Americans talk as if they believed presidential candidates of the United States always were the most meritorious citizens, I am aghast. I can think of only one nominee in this century who came close to that description — Herbert Hoover. All others were chosen solely for political expediency and political manipulation.

It is noteworthy that few schools ever studied the Bible for appreciation of its classical content, though this is permissible under the Supreme Court ruling on the separation of religion and the school curriculum.

I hope no one in the U.S. war party holds it against Pope Paul VI for promoting a peace settlement in Viet Nam. At least no one can yelp that the Pope is a "Consymp." The Roman Catholic church has two million members in South Viet Nam.

I wish my fellow motorists would not put ornaments in their autos. These offend my sense of propriety, especially trinkets supposed to amuse drivers of other cars, like plastic dogs that blink their eyes for right and left turns.

McNamara Is Riding Shotgun

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — At high noon one recent Sunday, Lyndon Johnson turned to the man who more and more these days is riding shotgun for him on the home front as well as in more explosive foreign fields — namely, 50-year-old Robert S. McNamara.

Victor Riesel

At that moment the President was faced with an escalating nationwide war between the labor movement and the General Electric Co.

The President knew what the public didn't — that the national labor leaders were planning to rush to Washington for an emergency session on Tuesday morning if a strike had flared against the company at midnight Sunday.

This gathering of labor's most powerful men would not have been just a propaganda convocation. It would have been the real thing—an emergency meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

They would have pledged millions of dollars to the striking coordinated steering group of the Committee on Collective Bargaining of 11 national unions.

EACH AFL-CIO Executive Council member would have peeled off hundreds of men under a joint chiefs of staff to direct the mass picketing of 125,000 men at GE and later for the 75,600 who would have walked out at Westinghouse, you can be sure.

They would have committed themselves to the proposition that neither the General Electric Co. nor any other corporation regardless of size could defeat a strike run by the latest thing in labor—the steering committee.

There is no doubt of this. Paul Jennings, the young and fledgling president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, had called such stalwarts as Paul Hall, leader of the seafarers and Walter Reuther, auto union chief, to reserve Tuesday for the great concentration.

This activity was relayed to the White House through the still anonymous Joe Califano, one of the brightest minds ever quartered in the White House, and, of course, Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz. At the other end of the wire was the other specialist in anonymity, Lane Kirkland, George Meany's brilliant one-man task force.

ALL SIDES KNEW that the rank and file might get out of hand—as indeed it did at several installations — including the critical, though now little - known, Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory of GE near Schenectady.

Somewhere along the line the President moved instinctively toward the man he now counts on most in his Cabinet—Defense Secretary McNamara.

To those deep on the inside this may not be lacking in political significance in the next two years.

The President and McNamara talked several times. The defense secretary was blunt. There could be no hard-hitting war on the foreign front if labor and General Electric fought it out on the home front for several months—as had happened in the summertime airline strike.

McNamara pointed out that GE produced a spectrum of jet aircraft engines without which U.S. forces would have to fight a kiwi war in Viet Nam.

So the President and McNamara agreed that if there were a strike—the basic issue being the union's demand for some sort of cost of living escalator clause—then Mr. Johnson would send the Justice Department into the courts for an 80-day Taft-Hartley "cooling off" injunction.

MR. McNAMARA assured the White House that he could back up such a move, though it involved an almost unprecedented action against just one company in a vast field of armaments. This positiveness the President wanted to hear.

So he was set and word went to the labor people, via the Lane Kirkland grapevine.

The labor leaders worked that Sunday. They did not want the government to move against them with the implication that they were hurting the defense effort—nor did they want to get tied up for 80 days. They might not have been able to restrain the wildcatters and things might have gotten out of control.

So they bargained by phone to prevent the use of Taft-Hartley. An unprecedented Cabinet level mediation committee was suggested by the White House, since Mr. Johnson refused to get himself positioned in another strike crisis.

Yes, the labor leaders would take the friendly Willard Wirtz. The GE people approved Secretary of Commerce John Connor. He thought they had made a fine offer to the union. The President decided to let himself be represented by the man who now is riding shotgun for the U.S.

There will be more of this sort of thing. McNamara will ride again.

A New Era?

By David Lawrence

Johnson's Trip 'International'

Republicans are making a mistake in interpreting President Johnson's trip to Manila and other Asian capitals as being motivated solely by political considerations in this country.

The forthcoming mission of the President to the Far East is basically an international maneuver.

Republicans would be on more logical ground if they pointed out that a Democratic administration has belatedly begun to carry out the concepts which President Eisenhower and the late John Foster Dulles proclaimed to the world when the Southeast Asia Treaty was signed in Manila 12 years ago.

It has taken America a long time to realize that among the factors which could bring about World War III there are some in Asia more dangerous than have arisen anywhere else in the world.

In September 1954, Secretary of State Dulles, in historic speeches delivered at the opening of the Manila conference and in the United States shortly after the Southeast Asia Treaty was signed, emphasized the importance to Asia of "unity for security and peace," including economic planning and military cooperation.

In ratifying the new treaty, commitments for defense against aggression by armed attack had been made by several of the same countries whose representatives are again assembling in Manila Oct. 24 to meet with President Johnson.

MR. DULLES declared that the "treaty recognizes also the danger of subversion and indirect aggression" and "deals with this difficult problem more explicitly than any other security treaty that has been made."

He pointed out that this country also had agreed to "cooperate in the development of economic measures which will promote economic and social well-being" in the treaty area as well as in certain states not actually parties.

He said that "the protocol also extends the treaty benefits to Cambodia and Laos and the free territory of Viet Nam" and that the treaty will, "to the extent that is practicable, throw a mantle of protection over these young nations."

The speeches made by Mr. Dulles at Manila and subsequently on his return home show a remarkable parallel with what is being said today by President Johnson and Secretary of State Rusk about the purposes of the United States in cementing the relationships of the free countries of Asia.

In recent months, substantial progress has been made among the free countries of Asia toward recognition of the fact that, with American participation, much can be accomplished to bolster the Asian alliance of free nations and build it up by strengthening the economic position of each.

U. Alexis Johnson, who is shortly to leave his post as deputy undersecretary of state to become our new ambassador to Japan, has emphasized that the United States is seeking "a community of truly independent states" in the far east.

He said this counlry will not "flag in its efforts to join with any country which is prepared to work with good will and sincerity toward the goal of peace, stability, prosperity, and security for all the nations of Asia."

He expressed the hope that "the great Chinese people will ultimately recognize that this is also in their true interest."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON will dramatize the importance of closer working arrangements between the United States and Asia by visiting a half-dozen countries in that region late this month and attending the seven-nation conference to be held in Manila.

By going to New Zealand, Australia, the Philippines, Thailand, Malaysia and South Kora, Mr. Johnson will be the first U.S. president to make such a journey.

The truth is, President Johnson's mission to the Far East is a milestone in American diplomacy.

It could result in the development of such a mutually beneficial relationship between the Asian countries and the United States that the leaders of Red China would get the point, too.

Senate Vote Due Today On Home Rule Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on a motion to block a threatened filibuster against a proposal to give home rule to the District of Columbia.

The cloture motion needs a two-thirds majority of those voting. And opponents predicted its failure — particularly because a filibuster had not even begun.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, in calling for today's cloture vote, said prolonged dispute over home rule "would snuff out the last flicker of hope for an October adjournment" of the 89th Congress. Leaders still hope for adjournment by the end of next week.

Home rule, which has racial overtones because the nation's capital is 63 per cent Negro, has been strongly opposed by Southern senators.

The district now is governed by Congress and by three commissioners appointed by the President.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., offered the home rule proposal Friday as an amendment to a $4.4-billion bill that would extend the Higher Education Act for three years. Morse's amendment would provide a district government with an elected mayor and an elected city council.

Action on several major bills must await the outcome of the home rule test.

One of those requiring such action is the college aid bill, which the Senate is expected to pass speedily once it comes up. That would clear the way for calling up three appropriation bills and important tax legislation.

The House has scheduled action on some minor, but fiercely contested bills before taking up the last major piece of President Johnson's legislature program: A far-ranging housing bill authorizing money to rebuild whole sections of cities. The Senate passed it earlier in the session.

One minor bill would establish an 11,000-acre national park in the Indiana dunes along the south shore of Lake Michigan. It has been caught in controversy for years.

Marlene French of Wellsville forfeited a $50 bond when she failed to appear on a charge of driving without an operator's license. She was cited Friday night.

A Funeral Is An Opportunity To Express Sympathy To The Family.

A bereaved family is often deeply touched by the expressions of sympathy they receive. The people who visit the funeral home or send flowers or letters are letting the family members know that they are not alone in this time of crisis.

A Funeral Shows Respect To The Person Who Has Died.

The family and friends want to pay their last respects in a dignified and appropriate way.

Your NSM funeral director provides dignified and reverent service. He is always willing to answer your questions about the service he gives and the prices he offers.

Patrol Lists 13 Mishaps In District On Weekend

A series of 13 highway mishaps — ranging from a near head-on crash in which four were hurt and two hit-skip collisions to a truck ramming a house at Hanoverton and station wagon overturning near Wellsville — were reported over the weekend by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

A truck driven by Clifford Botts, 62, of Pittsburgh struck a house owned by Louise Raneri of Hanoverton along Route 30 in Hanoverton Sunday night at 10:20.

BOTTS, headed east, was unable to halt for another vehicle stopped at a traffic signal, and his truck went off the north side of the road and hit the building. He was charged with traveling too fast for conditions.

Mary Jane Hunt, 40, of Toronto and four youngsters in her station wagon were shaken and bruised when she apparently fell asleep while driving south on Route 45, and the vehicle went off the roadway at 9:10 p. m., some five miles north of Wellsville.

The station wagon went off the left side of the road, hit an embankment and overturned on its side. Passengers in the car were James Hunt, 15; Mary Ann Hunt, 13; John Hunt, 11, and Larry Hunt, 9.

A couple from Cleveland and their son and a man from near Wellsville were hurt Saturday afternoon in a collision of two cars on Route 45 a mile south of West Point.

Leonard Hawkins, 23, of Weirton was headed north in a 1966 coach and went left of center, colliding with a 1961 sedan operated by Richard Thomas, 39, of Cleveland, causing heavy damage to both vehicles.

TREATED AT East Liverpool City Hospital wree Thomas, who had bruises of the knee and skull and abrasions of an arm; his wife, Helen, 45, who suffered abrasions of the forehead and bruises of the wrist, and their son, Robert, 1, who received bruises of the mouth.

Ronald Newlun, 21, of Campground Rd., Wellsville, a passenger in Hawkins' car, was injured slightly, officers said. Hawkins and James Merriman, 50, of 243 Wells Ave., Wellsville, were shaken but uninjured.

Hawkins was cited for driving left of center.

Delores Mae Farnsworth, 26, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, was cited by the patrol Sunday after her 1965 compact auto struck another car in the rear on Route 62 just north of Salem.

Officers said her car hit the back of one operated by Dianne Lee Everhart, 20, of Salem who had stopped to make a left turn.

Sidney Trevina, 24, of 78 S. Market St., East Palestine, reported an unknown driver failed to halt after colliding with his 1962 coach on Route 14 about three miles west of Unity Sunday morning at 2:35. He said the other car was passing him and struck his car in the side.

Dale Robert Burt, 30, of Columbiana R.D. was arrested after his 1955 pickup truck collided with a car driven by Daniel Lewis Hudson, 29, of Cogswell Ave., Lisbon, on Route 154 five miles east of Lisbon at 2:55 a.m. yesterday.

Burt was headed east on Route 154 and made a turn in front of the oncoming car of Hudson. He was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

—:—

NO ONE was injured in a collision of cars operated by Irwin D. McConnell, 36, of East Liverpool and Henry Dobkowski, 62, of Pittsburgh on Route 170 and 30 Saturday. The patrol said Dobkowski pulled from Route 30 into the path of the other auto.

Ethel Harley, 31, of Columbiana R.D. escaped injury when her car veered off County Rd. 422 a mile west of Route 7 Saturday afternoon.

The 1957 sedan went off the left side after she lost control passing another car, hit a mail box, then went back on the highway and off the other side, overturning in a field. She was cited for traveling too fast for conditions.

Officers are continuing to investigate a mishap involving Harold Detwiler, 38, of 135 Morton St., Lisbon, Saturday morning at 4 on Route 30 about three miles west of Lisbon. Detwiler was taken to Salem City Hospital.

Statement Issued By Doris Duke In Death Of Friend

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Doris Duke, once called "the richest girl in the world," has made a formal statement about an auto mishap which took the life of a companion, but police declined to disclose its contents immediately.

Eduardo Tirella, 42, of Dover, N.J., an interior decorator and actor who had been Miss Duke's companion in recent years, died instantly Friday night when a car slammed him against the iron gates in the driveway of her showplace estate, "Rough Point."

Police say Tirella had stepped from the car driven by Miss Duke to open the gates when it lurched forward, throwing him against the gates and then dragging him across Bellevue Avenue.

Miss Duke, 53, apparently the only witness to the incident, suffered shock and facial cuts. She was found wandering dazed near the scene and taken to Newport hospital for overnight observation, police said.

Miss Duke came to public attention at age 21 when she began to inherit her father's tobacco fortune. It had been valued at $100 million when he died in 1925.

Hope Of Pictures Growing Dimmer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Hope of getting pictures from America's revived Surveyor 1 mooncraft faded today as the spidery spaceship's battery power system was diagnosed as probably too weak for the task.

Spokesmen for the Jet Propulsion Laboratory — which controlled the 620-pound craft in its controlled landing and television survey last June—said the craft appeared to be operating on its auxiliary battery, which wasn't intended to be used after landing.

"It (the auxiliary battery) was designed to back up the main battery while in flight only, and was not shielded in any way to withstand thermal shock — the 500-degree variation in temperature on the moon's surface," spokesmen said.

The first faint signals from the spacecraft—which had been presumed dead—were received Friday.

Classes Started Here After Federal Grant

The East Liverpool School District has received approval of a $58,157.14 Title I federal project for secondary students, according to Tony LaNeve, local coordinator of federal programs.

LaNeve said the announcement was received from Clayton Corke in the Title I office of the State Department of Education at Columbus.

The latest project is entitled "Life Adjustment Curriculum." An administrative and instructional staff meeting was held Saturday morning at Westgate School and classes began today.

The program will cover art, reading, industrial arts, physical education and recreation and vocational projects.

Reading skills will be improved through the use of materials, equipment and teaching techniques adjusted to the needs and reading levels of the students, LaNeve said. Opportunities for personal growth will be provided in the areas of music, art and life training, he added, with the latter area providing experiences in sewing, shop and basic electronics.

Two developmental reading laboratories will be utilized and a full program offered in the cultural, health and life training aspects. The latter phase is designed to appeal to the potential dropout and the socially disadvantaged.

The art and vocational phases will be conducted during the week and the others on Saturdays. The project will be conducted over a 12 month period but not all phases will be conducted simultaneously.

Eleven instructors will be used.

Shapp Terms Pennsylvania Behind Times

Beaver County's highway needs were discussed by Milton Shapp, Democratic candidate for Pennsylvania governor, at a rally attended by 240 Saturday night at the Rochester High School.

"Pennsylvania has failed to come into the 20th century," Shapp declared, saying the state's health programs, housing, transportation and education are obsolete and need a major overhaul.

He vowed support for the planned Beaver Valley Expressway, as did Sen. Joseph Clark who accompanied him.

Shapp rapped the highway system, citing lack of planning and failure to follow the proposed 25-year development project of Park Martin.

He said highway maintenance and construction should be separate departments and placed under civil service. "There is no place in highway programs for politics."

The world "tulip" springs from a Turkish word for turban. Early Turkish gardeners hybridized wild species of this flower and it was introduced to Holland, now the "tulip capital of the world," in the latter part of the 16th century.

velopment would be augmented with more foreign trade missions and airports for supersonic jet planes to stimulate commerce with other countries.

Efforts to keep jobless benefits and workmen's compensation abreast of economic changes also were pledged.

National Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss of Akron told the convention that inflation is the hottest domestic political issue of the day. He said a poll shows mounting sentiment among voters for reductions in federal spending to curb high prices.

Surveys show that the measure of those "greatly concerned" over inflation has jumped from 44 per cent in May to a current 67 per cent and predicted that Republicans could regain numerous congressional seats from Democrats in the Nov. 8 election.

Rhodes recalled that Ohio last year made a record 35 per cent budget increase in operating appropriations for elementary and secondary education for any two-year period and said "Ohio is going to have the finest higher education system in the United States."

"We shall further upgrade our public school system and increase teacher salaries," he pledged.

The platform promised careful attention to recommendations of study commissions and added:

"The state should carry the initiative in proposing cooperative agreements in curriculum among school districts and such revision of school districts and taxing districts as will contribute to the effective and equitable use of local and state revenues available for education."

It was explained that revisions of school and taxing districts would provide more even distribution of school funds and help adjust financial burdens at the local level.

To meet the growing demand for safer highways, Republicans called for motor vehicle inspection, more highway patrolmen, automatic suspension of driving licenses for accumulating 12 penalty points, and tighter laws against drunk driving and uninsured motorists.

Rhodes said Ohio currently leads the nation in pollution abatement and added that the state is developing a master plan for water development.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP) — Television actor Adam "Batman" West and U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Arthur J. Goldberg were listed Sunday among the 10 best-dressed men in America by the Custom Tailors Guild of America.

Others were actor Hugh O'Brian; singer Vic Damone; night club entertainer Don Rickles; comedian Don Adams; actor Paul Newman; Earl Cohen, Beverly Hills, Calif., banker; Philip J. Levin, board chairman of the bank of Bloomfield, N.J., and Arthur Rubloff, head of a Chicago real estate firm.

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny had to postpone his visit to Vienna, Austria, "because he caught a cold," a Moscow government spokesman said today.

Break

erson, water department superintendent, reported there is a long crack in the main which the crew expects to fix temporarily with a repair clamp if one can be located.

He said the excavation was slowed by the fact the line lies in an area near an old streetcar right-of-way and at a spot where the street has been surfaced several times with various materials.

A valve has been turned off as tight as possible in order to close the line, but some water still is seeping into the site of the break, he said.

The line connects the Thompson Hill reservoir and the pumping and filtration plant in Klondyke. It is termed an auxiliary pumping main.

Peterson said water service was off this morning only to a small area in the immediate area of the break. He said the break might affect other areas later.

Court At Lisbon Launches Trial In Check Charge

LISBON — John T. Fowler, 22, former manager of Fowler's American Service Station at Damascus, went on trial this morning in Common Pleas Court on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check for $559.12.

The check was dated March 29, made payable to Lyden Oil Co., and drawn on the First National Bank of Sebring.

James D. Primm Jr., assistant prosecuting attorney, told the jury the evidence will show Fowler knew he had insufficient funds in the bank.

Fowler is represented by Phillip A. Millstone and Fred Kannensohn of Youngstown. Millstone said the evidence will show Fowler took over the station last January, was having a hard time financially, and told the Lyden firm which supplied him with gasoline that the check should be held for several days until he could make arrangements to cover it.

On the jury sworn in this morning by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard are Virginia White, Goldie M. Cook, Mary Jacobs, Ethel A. Gloeckner and Jenny Lind McNutt, East Liverpool; Mary Jane McLean and Ray McBane, Wellsville; Ilene Smith and Karle C. Peterson, Lisbon; Margaret M. Green, Rogers; Albert E. Blosser, Columbian, and A. G. Thompson, Minerva. Betty Howell, East Liverpool, is the alternate.

Shapp Terms Pennsylvania Behind Times

Beaver County's highway needs were discussed by Milton Shapp, Democratic candidate for Pennsylvania governor, at a rally attended by 240 Saturday night at the Rochester High School.

"Pennsylvania has failed to come into the 20th century," Shapp declared, saying the state's health programs, housing, transportation and education are obsolete and need a major overhaul.

He vowed support for the planned Beaver Valley Expressway, as did Sen. Joseph Clark who accompanied him.

Shapp rapped the highway system, citing lack of planning and failure to follow the proposed 25-year development project of Park Martin.

He said highway maintenance and construction should be separate departments and placed under civil service. "There is no place in highway programs for politics."

The world "tulip" springs from a Turkish word for turban. Early Turkish gardeners hybridized wild species of this flower and it was introduced to Holland, now the "tulip capital of the world," in the latter part of the 16th century.

velopment would be augmented with more foreign trade missions and airports for supersonic jet planes to stimulate commerce with other countries.

Efforts to keep jobless benefits and workmen's compensation abreast of economic changes also were pledged.

National Republican Chairman Ray C. Bliss of Akron told the convention that inflation is the hottest domestic political issue of the day. He said a poll shows mounting sentiment among voters for reductions in federal spending to curb high prices.

Surveys show that the measure of those "greatly concerned" over inflation has jumped from 44 per cent in May to a current 67 per cent and predicted that Republicans could regain numerous congressional seats from Democrats in the Nov. 8 election.

Rhodes recalled that Ohio last year made a record 35 per cent budget increase in operating appropriations for elementary and secondary education for any two-year period and said "Ohio is going to have the finest higher education system in the United States."

"We shall further upgrade our public school system and increase teacher salaries," he pledged.

The platform promised careful attention to recommendations of study commissions and added:

"The state should carry the initiative in proposing cooperative agreements in curriculum among school districts and such revision of school districts and taxing districts as will contribute to the effective and equitable use of local and state revenues available for education."

It was explained that revisions of school and taxing districts would provide more even distribution of school funds and help adjust financial burdens at the local level.

To meet the growing demand for safer highways, Republicans called for motor vehicle inspection, more highway patrolmen, automatic suspension of driving licenses for accumulating 12 penalty points, and tighter laws against drunk driving and uninsured motorists.

Rhodes said Ohio currently leads the nation in pollution abatement and added that the state is developing a master plan for water development.

erson, water department superintendent, reported there is a long crack in the main which the crew expects to fix temporarily with a repair clamp if one can be located.

He said the excavation was slowed by the fact the line lies in an area near an old streetcar right-of-way and at a spot where the street has been surfaced several times with various materials.

A valve has been turned off as tight as possible in order to close the line, but some water still is seeping into the site of the break, he said.

The line connects the Thompson Hill reservoir and the pumping and filtration plant in Klondyke. It is termed an auxiliary pumping main.

Peterson said water service was off this morning only to a small area in the immediate area of the break. He said the break might affect other areas later.

Court At Lisbon Launches Trial In Check Charge

LISBON — John T. Fowler, 22, former manager of Fowler's American Service Station at Damascus, went on trial this morning in Common Pleas Court on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check for $559.12.

The check was dated March 29, made payable to Lyden Oil Co., and drawn on the First National Bank of Sebring.

James D. Primm Jr., assistant prosecuting attorney, told the jury the evidence will show Fowler knew he had insufficient funds in the bank.

Fowler is represented by Phillip A. Millstone and Fred Kannensohn of Youngstown. Millstone said the evidence will show Fowler took over the station last January, was having a hard time financially, and told the Lyden firm which supplied him with gasoline that the check should be held for several days until he could make arrangements to cover it.

On the jury sworn in this morning by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard are Virginia White, Goldie M. Cook, Mary Jacobs, Ethel A. Gloeckner and Jenny Lind McNutt, East Liverpool; Mary Jane McLean and Ray McBane, Wellsville; Ilene Smith and Karle C. Peterson, Lisbon; Margaret M. Green, Rogers; Albert E. Blosser, Columbian, and A. G. Thompson, Minerva. Betty Howell, East Liverpool, is the alternate.

Potters Push Streak To 3 With 20-7 Victory Over Akron

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

McVay Tallies 2, Musuraca One; Defense Stymies Foes' Speed

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Akron East's touted backfield speed was slowed to a walk for more than three quarters by a stout East Liverpool defense as the Potters pushed their victory streak to three straight with a 20-7 decision Saturday night at Patterson Field.

The poorest crowd of the home season so far, some 3,400 fans, watched the Potters move to a 20-0 lead before giving up a touchdown in the final period.

It also was the Potters' fourth victory in five games as the season reached the halfway point.

—:—

EAST LIVERPOOL turned in a big second period, producing two touchdowns, and picked up another TD in the third. Quarterback Mike McVay punched two scores across, both from the one-yard line, while sophomore back Jim Musuraca registered the other on a four - yard burst.

Akron East, which now stands at 2-2 on the season, is the defending Akron City champs and was billed as one of the stronger teams in the Akron area.

THE ORIENTALS, with three dash men in the backfield, never quite got started as Coach Bob McNea's alert defensive forces kept the speed merchants hemmed in throughout the contest.

Only once did an Akron back break into the open and on that occasion the play was called back. East, not known as a passing team, finally relied on an aerial attack which proved to be its most effective weapon and led to the visitors' only touchdown.

A few errors by Akron helped the Potters considerably as the game progressed, including three fumbles which East Liverpool recovered and two interceptions.

ANOTHER was Akron's failure to cover a punt in the third period. East didn't send a receiver back as McVay punted from the Potter 32 and the ball rolled dead on the Akron 12-yard line.

Coach Dom Patella explained after the game he thought East Liverpool might try for a first down and didn't send a punt receiver back. The Potters had a fourth and one situation from their own 32 in this particular instance and had gone into punt formation.

McNea was pleased with the way the defense handled Akron's speed, but said "I was discouraged because we played well at times, but poorly at other times." We made a lot of mistakes offensively."

—:—

THE POTTER coach reported that guard Bill Hopper suffered a twisted ankle and knee which may sideline him for a few days.

The Review Sports
MONDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1966 PAGE 14

After a scoreless first quarter, the Potters got rolling late in the period after taking over on a punt on their own 45.

Musuraca got the drive under way with a 10-yard gain around right end, then Darryl (Tweetie) Herring picked up 14 to the Akron 31.

McVay and Denny Smith in three carries moved the ball to the Akron nine, and Herring scooted seven yards to the two.

—:—

AKRON held for two downs, but McVay, on a sneak, pushed across the goal line for a 6-0 lead with 6:55 left in the first half. McVay was stopped short on his conversion attempt.

The Potters' defense went to work and in two plays threw East back eight yards on some sharp tackling by Hopper on one play and Bill Carter and Chuck Harris on another.

Akron punted out to the Potter 39, where another touchdown drive started. McVay turned in a good piece of running when he picked up 21 yards to put the ball deep in Akron territory on the 22.

After getting six more, McVay flipped 12 yards to Herring, who carried to the Akron four, setting the stage for Musuraca to muscle through the middle for the second tally. Smith's run for the conversion was stopped with 2:14 left in the half.

BEFORE the half ended, Akron on a 32-yard pass play, moved to the Potter 24, where time ran out.

Linebacker Dan Bekar set up East Liverpool's final touchdown when he intercepted an Akron aerial on the visitors' 40 and returned the ball to the 24.

Orioles Take Short Cut To Series Title With 4 Straight

Robinson's Homer Wins It; Dodgers Shut Out For 33

Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Outside Memorial Stadium, on one of the approaches to the ball park, a big, bold sign asks the question:

"Would you believe four straight?"

The sign belongs to the city of Baltimore and so does the World Series following the Orioles' amazing and convincing-four-game sweep of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

But now a bigger question is being kicked around:

Did the Orioles, in holding the Dodgers scoreless for a record 33 consecutive innings while putting together the first American League sweep in 16 years, destroy the myth of National League superiority?

Strangely enough, Frank Robinson, the guy who did the most to destroy the National League representatives, thinks not.

"I believed that when I was in the National League," said Robinson, who supplied the only homer in Sunday's 1-0 Series finale. "I still think over-all the National League is stronger, but it's not so much different in the two leagues as you're led to believe."

Not many experts agreed before the Series. The myth of superiority had been built through three straight World Series triumphs by National League teams and a succession of All-Star Game victories, and the Dodgers were quickly installed as 8-5 favorites for the Series.

Then it happened. The names were Moe Drabowsky, Jim Palmer, Wally Bunker and Dave McNally — and they completely stifled the Dodgers, holding them scoreless from the third inning of the first game to the end of the Series.

Was it American League superiority?

The answer, as it came from the dressing rooms, depended on the point of view. Harry Brecheen, the Orioles' pitching coach, said it was Baltimore's pitching superiority. Maury Wills, the Dodgers captain, saw it more as Los Angeles' inadequacy at the plate.

"To me I gotta say it's good pitching," Brecheen explained. "We didn't hit and they didn't hit. It's gotta be real fine pitching. I think the kids were able to pitch against Koufax and Drysdale because it was a challenge that they were pitching against a superstar and a star."

"With all due respect to their pitching a lot of it had to do with the fact that we were lousy with the bat," said Wills. "We had a bad hitting Series. They had a good pitching series. It was a combination of both.

"They say when you watch the Dodger bats, it's just like watching a silent movie."

It was just that after McNally was lifted in the third inning of the opener, Drabowsky pitched 6 2-3 innings of shutout relief in winning 5-2, Palmer won 6-0 while allowing only four hits, Bunker won 1-0 while allowing only six hits and then McNally came back Sunday and finished it off with another four-hitter.

The only run was supplied by Frank Robinson, who powered the first pitch to him by Don Drysdale in the fourth inning some 410 feet into the left field stands for a homer and the final revenge shot heard back in Cincinnati.

Robinson had been traded to the Orioles on Dec. 9 last winter and labeled with an old-man tag. And his only thought had been wiping it out.

"I've been playing this season since Dec. 9," he said after the game. "I wanted to have a good year—it was the first thought on my mind. I wanted to show the people that I wasn't washed up."

The Dodgers' feeble hitting turned out to be the worst in the 63 years of the World Series. They hit only .142, compared to the previous low, .161 by the Philadelphia A's in the 1905 Series against the New York Giants.

And by not scoring a run for 33 innings, they cruised past the A's record in that department. The A's had been held scoreless for 28 innings back in 1905.

The Orioles, meanwhile, completed the first sweep by an American League team since the 1950 New York Yankees took four straight from the Philadelphia Phillies.

And they brought the city of Baltimore its first major league championship since the days of Ned Hanlon's old Orioles of the National League in 1894, 1895 and 1896.

Third Straight Eyed By Royals Over Celts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals will be going for a third successive exhibition victory over the National Basketball Association champion Boston Celtics here tonight. The Royals tacked a 104-100 triumph at Dayton Sunday night onto a Saturday night victory at Muncie, Ind.

Oscar Robertson's 33 points led the Cincinnati attack at Dayton. Jerry Lucas didn't play because of a hip injury incurred at Muncie, but rookie Walt Wesley replaced him and played good defense against Celtics player-coach Bill Russell as the Royals made their preseason record 9-3 to Boston's 4-8.

French Horse Wins

PARIS (AP) — French-owned Bot Mot came on in the stretch Sunday and won the Prix Arc de Triomphe by a half-length over Sigebert. The 3-year-old colt earned $219,000 of the $374,000 purse.

THE OFFICIAL SIGNALS touchdown and under this pile up of players is East Liverpool's Jim Musuraca who scored the second touchdown for the Potters in Saturday's 20-7 victory over Akron East at Patterson Field.

Wanted To Show People He Could Still Play

'Greatest Thing That Ever Happened To Me,' Says Oriole Star Robinson

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Robinson, baseball's first Triple Crown winner in a decade, leaned against the dugout railing, waiting for his turn in the batting cage and talking about the World Series that would start the next day.

"The big men know the other team is concentrating on them, and they feel the pressure more; they try too hard," the Baltimore superstar said in reply to a question about picking a Series hero.

"The little fellows don't get as much fanfare, and they go out real easy. Sure, I feel pressure, I feel I got to get some hits and drive in some runs. The team expects it."

The next day, in his first time at bat at Los Angeles, Robinson drilled a Don Drysdale pitch into the left-field stands for a two-run homer, and the Orioles were headed toward a first-game victory.

Robinson hit another home run off Drysdale into the left field stands at Baltimore Sunday and wrapped up a 1-0 victory over the Dodgers and a four-game sweep of the Series.

No "little fellow" had come through for the Orioles the way the "big man" had. He led them to the American League pennant with a .316 average, 49 homers and 122 runs batted in, and now he had led them to a Series championship in as little time as a team can win it.

"This is the greatest thing that's ever happened to me," said the 31-year-old outfielder who came to the Orioles from Cincinnati last December in what has turned out to be one of the most one-sided trades ever.

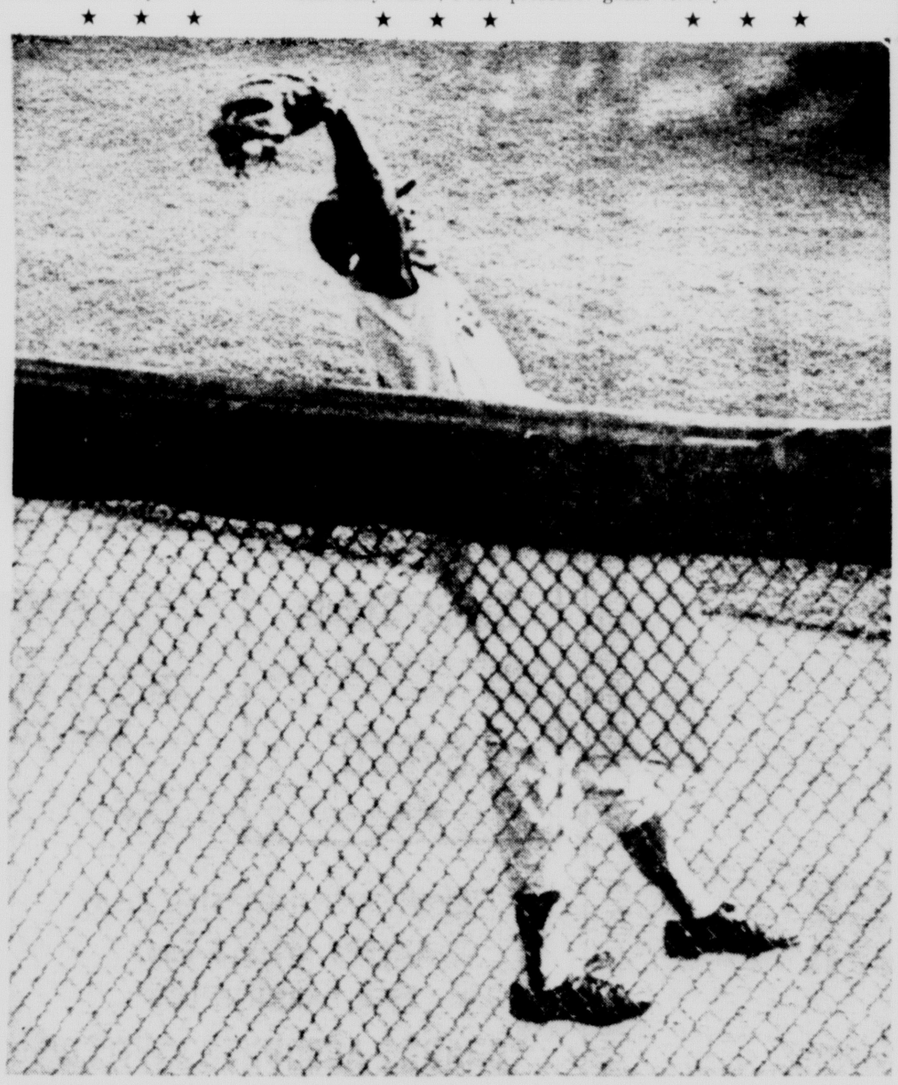
"I've been playing this season since Dec. 9. I wanted to have a good year — it was the first thought in my mind at that time.

"I wanted to have a good year especially to show the people in the front office there that I wasn't washed up, and I wanted to show them I could have a good year.

"And I wanted to show the people, the officials and the city of Baltimore they were getting a guy who still could play baseball.

"Now it's all gone. Next year I don't have to show Mr. DeWitt (the Cincinnati owner). I don't have to show him what I can do again. As far as that's concerned, it's gone."

When the Reds traded Robinson, a 10-year veteran, to Baltimore for pitchers Milt Pappas and Jack Baldschun and outfielder Dick Simpson, Bill DeWitt justified the trade to shocked and angered Cincinnati fans by saying Robinson was getting old.



DODGER CENTERFIELDER Willie Davis, the goat of the second game, leaped high against the fence to rob Oriole Boog Powell of a home run with a sensational catch in the fourth inning of Sunday's game. (UPI Telephoto)

Tigers Drop 3rd Game At Weirton

After trading touchdowns in the first period, Weirton Madonna broke through a tough Wellsville defense for a TD in the second period then added a field goal in the fourth quarter for a 17-7 victory Saturday night at Weirton.

The loss was Wellsville's third in five starts while Weirton shows a 3-2 record.

Wellsville's defensive forces gave up two touchdowns but were called upon to stop Madonna on four other occassions inside the Tiger 20.

Punt and kickoff returns kept Wellsville on the defense during the contest as Madonna backs were returning for good yardage.

The Tigers scored first in the opening period when Rich Hall flipped an 18 yard touchdown pass to Jack Young. Butch Davis kicked the conversion and the Tigers led 7-0 with 6:27 still remaining in the first quarter.

A 47-yard run by halfback Tom Gurrera put Madonna on the Wellsville 22 and a few plays later quarterback Bill Vertar went over from the two. Vertar added the extra point for a 7-7 deadlock.

Madonna went in front for good in the second period with a sustained drive climaxed by Gurrera's five yard run to the end zone. Vertar again kicked the extra point to put Weirton on top 14-7 at halftime.

Madonna added three insurance points in the fourth quarter when Vertar booted a 23 yard field goal.

While halfbacks Jack Young and Todd Weekley were tied up most of the way, fullback Dick Stevens was the leading ground gainer with 84 yards in 14 carries.

Giving shining performances defensively for the Tigers were Darryl West and Bob Duffield.

Weirton had a 14-9 edge in first downs and picked up 274 yards rushing to Wellsville's 158.

The Tigers will play host to Mingo Junction Friday night.

Potters Push Streak To 3 With 20-7 Victory Over Akron

McVay Tallies 2, Musuraca One; Defense Stymies Foes' Speed

Akron East's touted backfield speed was slowed to a walk for more than three quarters by a stout East Liverpool defense as the Potters pushed their victory streak to three straight with a 20-7 decision Saturday night at Patterson Field.

The poorest crowd of the home season so far, some 3,400 fans, watched the Potters move to a 20-0 lead before giving up a touchdown in the final period.

It also was the Potters' fourth victory in five games as the season reached the halfway point.

—:—

EAST LIVERPOOL turned in a big second period, producing two touchdowns, and picked up another TD in the third. Quarterback Mike McVay punched two scores across, both from the one-yard line, while sophomore back Jim Musuraca registered the other on a four - yard burst.

Akron East, which now stands at 2-2 on the season, is the defending Akron City champs and was billed as one of the stronger teams in the Akron area.

THE ORIENTALS, with three dash men in the backfield, never quite got started as Coach Bob McNea's alert defensive forces kept the speed merchants hemmed in throughout the contest.

Only once did an Akron back break into the open and on that occasion the play was called back. East, not known as a passing team, finally relied on an aerial attack which proved to be its most effective weapon and led to the visitors' only touchdown.

A few errors by Akron helped the Potters considerably as the game progressed, including three fumbles which East Liverpool recovered and two interceptions.

ANOTHER was Akron's failure to cover a punt in the third period. East didn't send a receiver back as McVay punted from the Potter 32 and the ball rolled dead on the Akron 12-yard line.

Coach Dom Patella explained after the game he thought East Liverpool might try for a first down and didn't send a punt receiver back. The Potters had a fourth and one situation from their own 32 in this particular instance and had gone into punt formation.

McNea was pleased with the way the defense handled Akron's speed, but said "I was discouraged because we played well at times, but poorly at other times." We made a lot of mistakes offensively."

—:—

THE POTTER coach reported that guard Bill Hopper suffered a twisted ankle and knee which may sideline him for a few days.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Potters got rolling late in the period after taking over on a punt on their own 45.

Musuraca got the drive under way with a 10-yard gain around right end, then Darryl (Tweetie) Herring picked up 14 to the Akron 31.

McVay and Denny Smith in three carries moved the ball to the Akron nine, and Herring scooted seven yards to the two.

—:—

AKRON held for two downs, but McVay, on a sneak, pushed across the goal line for a 6-0 lead with 6:55 left in the first half. McVay was stopped short on his conversion attempt.

The Potters' defense went to work and in two plays threw East back eight yards on some sharp tackling by Hopper on one play and Bill Carter and Chuck Harris on another.

Akron punted out to the Potter 39, where another touchdown drive started. McVay turned in a good piece of running when he picked up 21 yards to put the ball deep in Akron territory on the 22.

After getting six more, McVay flipped 12 yards to Herring, who carried to the Akron four, setting the stage for Musuraca to muscle through the middle for the second tally. Smith's run for the conversion was stopped with 2:14 left in the half.

BEFORE the half ended, Akron on a 32-yard pass play moved to the Potter 24, where time ran out.

Linebacker Dan Bekar set up East Liverpool's final touchdown when he intercepted an Akron aerial on the visitors' 40 and returned the ball to the 24.

Orioles Take Short Cut To Series Title With 4 Straight

Robinson's Homer Wins It; Dodgers Shut Out For 33

Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Outside Memorial Stadium, on one of the approaches to the ball park, a big, bold sign asks the question:

"Would you believe four straight?"

The sign belongs to the city of Baltimore and so does the World Series following the Orioles' amazing and convincing-four-game sweep of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

But now a bigger question is being kicked around:

Did the Orioles, in holding the Dodgers scoreless for a record 33 consecutive innings while putting together the first American League sweep in 16 years, destroy the myth of National League superiority?

Strangely enough, Frank Robinson, the guy who did the most to destroy the National League representatives, thinks not.

"I believed that when I was in the National League," said Robinson, who supplied the only homer in Sunday's 1-0 Series finale. "I still think over-all the National League is stronger, but it's not so much different in the two leagues as you're led to believe."

Not many experts agreed before the Series. The myth of superiority had been built through three straight World Series triumphs by National League teams and a succession of All-Star Game victories, and the Dodgers were quickly installed as 8-5 favorites for the Series.

Then it happened. The names were Moe Drabowsky, Jim Palmer, Wally Bunker and Dave McNally — and they completely stifled the Dodgers, holding them scoreless from the third inning of the first game to the end of the Series.

Was it American League superiority?

The answer, as it came from the dressing rooms, depended on the point of view. Harry Brecheen, the Orioles' pitching coach, said it was Baltimore's pitching superiority. Maury Wills, the Dodgers captain, saw it more as Los Angeles' inadequacy at the plate.

"To me I gotta say it's good pitching," Brecheen explained. "We didn't hit and they didn't hit. It's gotta be real fine pitching. I think the kids were able to pitch against Koufax and Drysdale because it was a challenge that they were pitching against a superstar and a star."

"With all due respect to their pitching a lot of it had to do with the fact that we were lousy with the bat," said Wills. "We had a bad hitting Series. They had a good pitching series. It was a combination of both.

"They say when you watch the Dodger bats, it's just like watching a silent movie."

It was just that after McNally was lifted in the third inning of the opener, Drabowsky pitched 6 2-3 innings of shutout relief in winning 5-2, Palmer won 6-0 while allowing only four hits, Bunker won 1-0 while allowing only six hits and then McNally came back Sunday and finished it off with another four-hitter.

The only run was supplied by Frank Robinson, who powered the first pitch to him by Don Drysdale in the fourth inning some 410 feet into the left field stands for a homer and the final revenge shot heard back in Cincinnati.

Robinson had been traded to the Orioles on Dec. 9 last winter and labeled with an old-man tag. And his only thought had been wiping it out.

"I've been playing this season since Dec. 9," he said after the game. "I wanted to have a good year—it was the first thought on my mind. I wanted to show the people that I wasn't washed up."

The Dodgers' feeble hitting turned out to be the worst in the 63 years of the World Series. They hit only .142, compared to the previous low, .161 by the Philadelphia A's in the 1905 Series against the New York Giants.

And by not scoring a run for 33 innings, they cruised past the A's record in that department. The A's had been held scoreless for 28 innings back in 1905.

The Orioles, meanwhile, completed the first sweep by an American League team since the 1950 New York Yankees took four straight from the Philadelphia Phillies.

And they brought the city of Baltimore its first major league championship since the days of Ned Hanlon's old Orioles of the National League in 1894, 1895 and 1896.

Third Straight Eyed By Royals Over Celts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals will be going for a third successive exhibition victory over the National Basketball Association champion Boston Celtics here tonight. The Royals tacked a 104-100 triumph at Dayton Sunday night onto a Saturday night victory at Muncie, Ind.

Oscar Robertson's 33 points led the Cincinnati attack at Dayton. Jerry Lucas didn't play because of a hip injury incurred at Muncie, but rookie Walt Wesley replaced him and played good defense against Celtics player-coach Bill Russell as the Royals made their preseason record 9-3 to Boston's 4-8.

Wanted To Show People He Could Still Play

'Greatest Thing That Ever Happened To Me,' Says Oriole Star Robinson

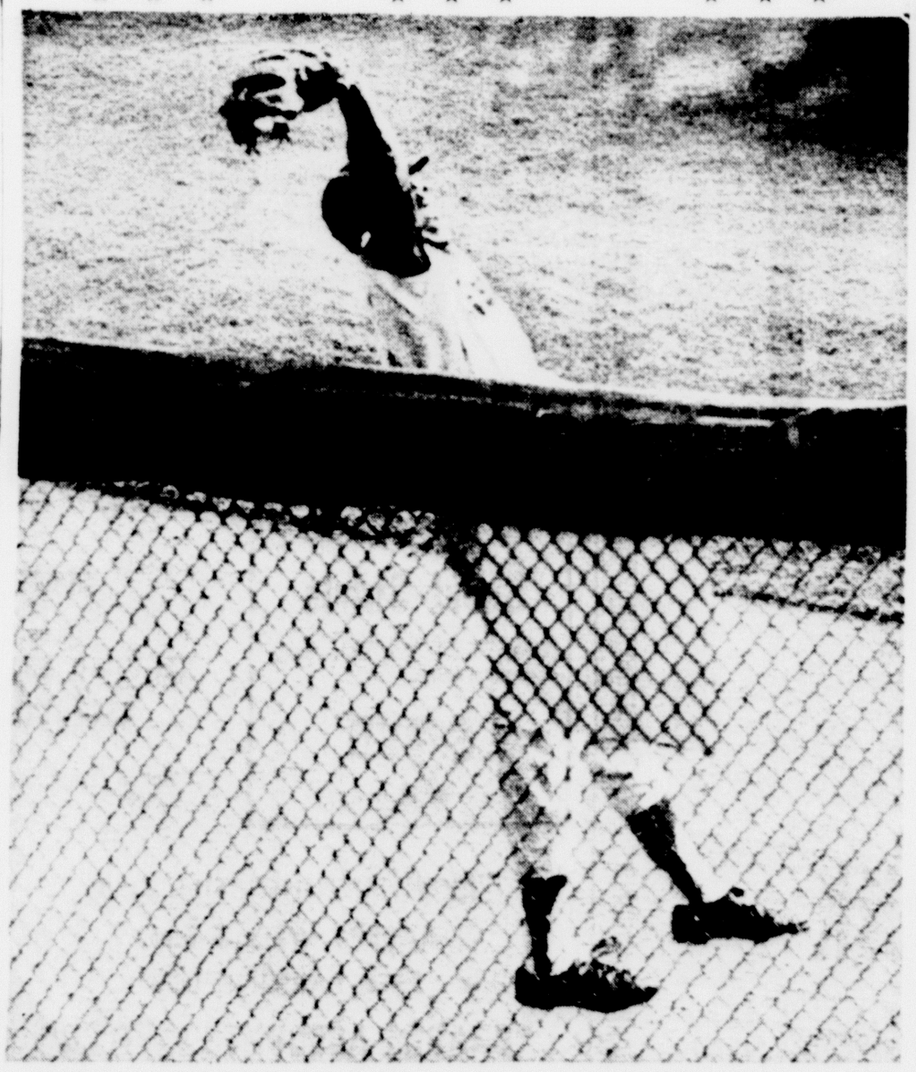
By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Robinson, baseball's first Triple Crown winner in a decade, leaned against the dugout railing, waiting for his turn in the batting cage and talking about the World Series that would start the next day.

"The big men know the other team is concentrating on them, and they feel the pressure more; they try too hard," the Baltimore superstar said in reply to a question about picking a Series hero.

"The little fellows don't get as much fanfare, and they go out real easy. Sure, I feel pressure. I feel I got to get some hits and drive in some runs. The team expects it."

The next day, in his first time at bat at Los Angeles, Robinson drilled a Don Drysdale pitch into the left-field stands for a two-run homer, and the Orioles were headed toward a first-game victory.



DODGER CENTERFIELDER Willie Davis, the goat of the second game, leaped high against the fence to rob Oriole Boog Powell of a home run with a sensational catch in the fourth inning of Sunday's game. (UPI Telephoto)

Robinson hit another home run off Drysdale into the left field stands at Baltimore Sunday and wrapped up a 1-0 victory over the Dodgers and a four-game sweep of the Series.

No "little fellow" had come through for the Orioles the way the "big man" had. He led them to the American League pennant with a .316 average, 49 homers and 122 runs batted in, and now he had led them to a Series championship in as little time as a team can win it.

"This is the greatest thing that's ever happened to me," said the 31-year-old outfielder who came to the Orioles from Cincinnati last December in what has turned out to be one of the most one-sided trades ever.

"I've been playing this season since Dec. 9. I wanted to have a good year — it was the first thought in my mind at that time.

"I wanted to have a good year especially to show the people in the front office there that I wasn't washed up, and I wanted to show them I could have a good year.

"And I wanted to show the people, the officials and the city of Baltimore they were getting a guy who still could play baseball.

"Now it's all gone. Next year I don't have to show Mr. DeWitt (the Cincinnati owner). I don't have to show him what I can do again. As far as that's concerned, it's gone."

When the Reds traded Robinson, a 10-year veteran, to Baltimore for pitchers Milt Pappas and Jack Baldschun and outfielder Dick Simpson, Bill DeWitt justified the trade to shocked and angered Cincinnati fans by saying Robinson was getting old.

Tigers Drop 3rd Game At Weirton

After trading touchdowns in the first period, Weirton Madonna broke through a tough Wellsville defense for a TD in the second period then added a field goal in the fourth quarter for a 17-7 victory Saturday night at Weirton.

The loss was Wellsville's third in five starts while Weirton shows a 3-2 record.

Wellsville's defensive forces gave up two touchdowns but were called upon to stop Madonna on four other occassions inside the Tiger 20.

Punt and kickoff returns kept Wellsville on the defense during the contest as Madonna backs were returning for good yardage.

The Tigers scored first in the opening period when Rich Hall flipped an 18 yard touchdown pass to Jack Young. Butch Davis kicked the conversion and the Tigers led 7-0 with 6:27 still remaining in the first quarter.

A 47-yard run by halfback Tom Gurrera put Madonna on the Wellsville 22 and a few plays later quarterback Bill Vertar went over from the two. Vertar added the extra point for a 7-7 deadlock.

Madonna went in front for good in the second period with a sustained drive climaxed by Gurrera's five yard run to the end zone. Vertar again kicked the extra point to put Weirton on top 14-7 at halftime.

Madonna added three insurance points in the fourth quarter when Vertar booted a 23 yard field goal.

While halfbacks Jack Young and Todd Weekley were tied up most of the way, fullback Dick Stevens was the leading ground gainer with 84 yards in 14 carries.

Giving shining performances defensively for the Tigers were Darryl West and Bob Duffield.

Weirton had a 14-9 edge in first downs and picked up 274 yards rushing to Wellsville's 158.

The Tigers will play host to Mingo Junction Friday night.

Midland Continues In WPIAL Race, Tops Hopewell, 13-6

Mahurt Tallies 2 In 5th Straight

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Midland remained one of two schools in the running for the coveted WPIAL Class A football crown after posting its fifth straight victory with a 13-6 decision at Hopewell Saturday afternoon.

Only Midland and Montour continue with unblemished records in the Class A race. The victory Saturday also placed Midland in first place in the Midwestern Athletic Conference.

Midland's victory spoiled Hopewell's homecoming celebration Saturday before some 3,500 fans.

While Joe Hamilton's Leopards remained undefeated, they were given a big scare by Hopewell, which now shows a 2-2-1 record. Midland did not turn in its best brand of football and was hampered on several occasions by questionable penalties.

—:—

HARD-RUNNING Rich Mahurt registered both Midland touchdowns, going over from the five in the first quarter then plunging from the one in the last minute of the contest.

Midland took advantage of a Hopewell gamble that didn't pay off in the first period.

Hopewell, with a fourth and one situation on its own 39, gambled for a first down, but was short by an inch and the Leopards took over with ideal field position.

—:—

THE LEOPARDS moved to the Hopewell five and Mahurt, running wide, was chased back to the 12, but shook off three tacklers and raced in for the touchdown. John Granito's placement was perfect and Midland owned a 7-0 lead.

Hopewell came roaring back in the second period and marched to the Midland nine, but Tony Ditommaso fumbled and Granito was there to recover and end the threat.

In the third period, quarterback Jim Greenawalt engineered a drive as he picked up 50 yards in three carries, with his last a 17-yard gain to the one. Greenawalt sneaked over from the one to put Hopewell back in the running.

The all - important conversion which would have tied the game failed when Al Kosinski's kick was far short of the goal posts and Midland held to a 7-6 lead.

—:—

JAN SAMUELS, who wasn't getting a great deal of distance on his punts, received good rolls, however, and put Hopewell in the hole early in the fourth quarter on a boot to the 12-yard line.

Hopewell couldn't get moving and a short punt went out on its own 41.

Midland ate up the clock, taking 13 plays to move to the Hopewell one, with Mahurt picking up two important first downs during the drive.

MAHURT punched in his second touchdown from the one with only 41 seconds remaining in the game. Granito's kick went short.

Hopewell's final chance to score was stopped when Joe Noah intercepted a pass and returned it to the Hopewell 35 as the final whistle blew.

As far as statistics go, the two teams were virtually even. Midland had a 10-8 edge in first downs while the rushing yardage showed only one yard difference. Midland owned 152 and Hopewell 153.

The Leopards were charged with 74 yards in penalties with Hopewell assessed 20.

Midland returns to action Saturday night at home meeting neighboring South Side.

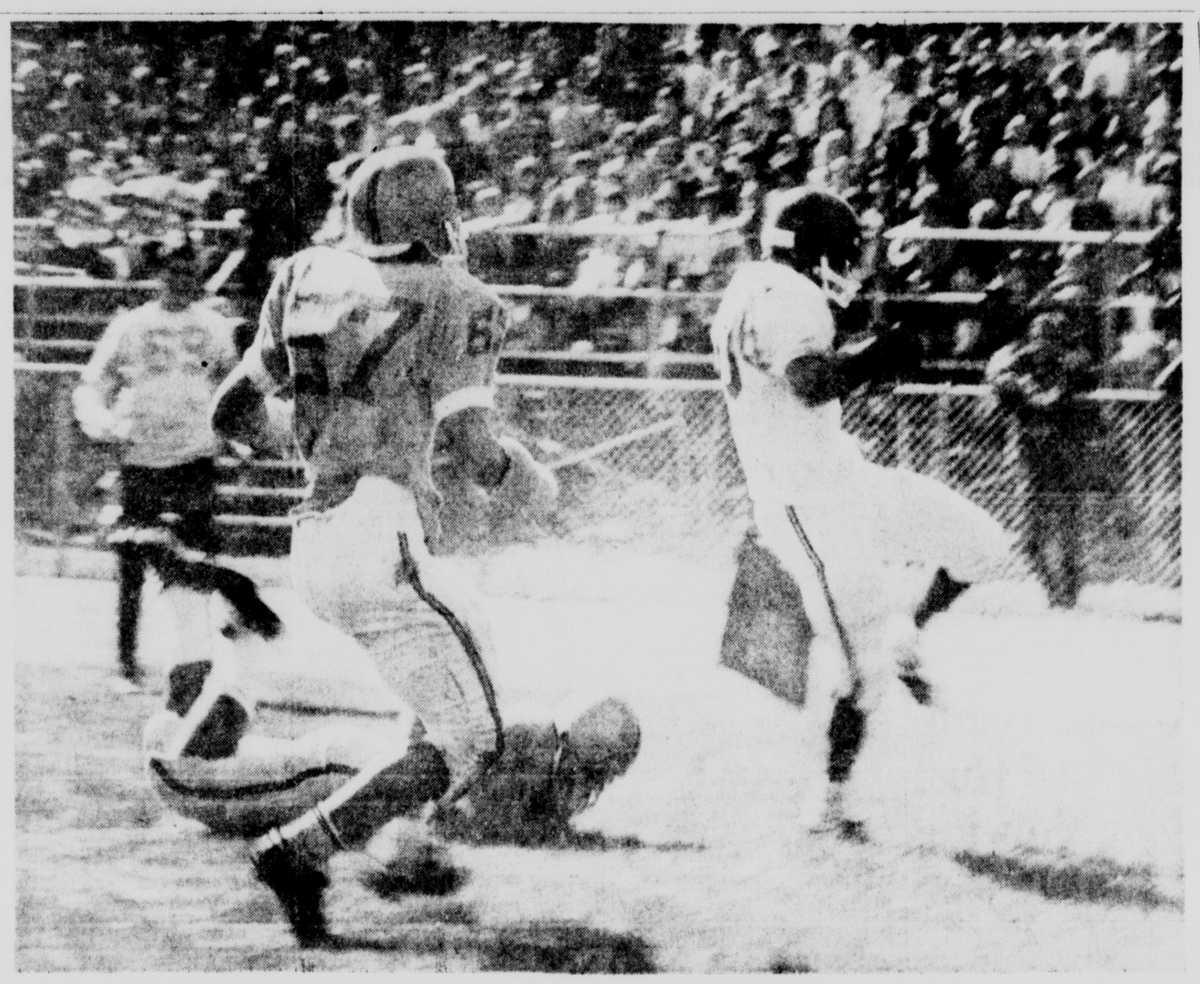
Beaver Local Nipped In Last 2 Minutes



MIDLAND FULLBACK Rich Mahurt (extreme right) races into a corner of the end zone as he eludes a driving tackle by a Hopewell defender to score the Leopards first touchdown Saturday at Hopewell. Mahurt also registered a second touchdown as Midland continued unbeaten with a 13-6 victory.

United Notches 12-7 Win; All Scoring Comes In Last 6 Minutes

After three scoreless periods, all the action was packed into the last six minutes as United rallied to edge Beaver Local 12-7 Saturday night before some 1,500 at the Beaver Local gridiron.

Coach Don Ross of Beaver Local must be wondering what he has to do to win a game after his team went in front with four minutes to go but lost out in the last two minutes when Tom Coffee flipped a 10-yard touchdown pass to Bill Kibler for the margin of victory.

United broke a 0-0 tie with six minutes left in the game when Coffee went over from the one but a conversion kick failed. United got to the one on two pass plays one for 30 yards from Coffee to Rick Engle and the other to Jim Conser for 25 yards.

The Fighting Beavers came storming back with Dennis Klembara's passing and marched downfield where Klembara cracked over from the one with about four minutes remaining in the game to tie the score at 6-6.

Don Sowards put Beaver a point in front with a placement but the lead was shortlived.

Lee Syx turned out to be the man of the hour for United when he raced 55 yards and was finally caught on the Beaver 10. A play later Coffee and Kibler hooked up for the winning touchdown.

The loss by Beaver Local and the win by United leaves both schools with 2-3 records.

Beaver Local had a 9-6 advantage in first downs and showed 126 yards rushing and 84 passing. United's offense clicked for 135 on the ground and 110 in the air.

Klembara completed eight of 25 passes while Coffee hit on four of 11.

Rams Tied With Green Bay

Mira Leads San Francisco's 21-20 Upset Of Packers; Bears Top Colts

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco Coach Jack Christiansen thinks some people might want him to make a halfback out of quarterback George Mira. Some people are wishful thinkers.

True, Mira did run well against Green Bay Sunday. But he also called a good game, faked well and threw two touchdown passes as the 49ers upset the Packers 21-20 and dropped them into a first-place tie with Los Angeles in the National Football League's Western Conference.

Los Angeles gained a tie with Green Bay at 4-1 by defeating Detroit 14-7, while St. Louis and Dallas remained unbeaten in the Eastern Conference — St. Louis scoring a comeback 24-19 victory over the New York Giants for a 5-0 record and Dallas blasting Philadelphia 57-6 for a 4-0 mark.

Chicago beat Baltimore and Washington whipped Atlanta 33-20 in other Sunday games. Cleveland trounced Pittsburgh 41-10 Saturday night.

Mira, starting in place of $700,000 quarterback John Brodie who has a groin injury, got the previously winless 49ers a 7-0 halftime lead by throwing a 27-yard touchdown pass to John David Crow.

Then with the 49ers leading 14-13 in the fourth quarter, Mira hit Crow with an eight-yard TD pass after setting up a score with a 38-yard run.

Los Angeles got two touchdowns from Tom Moore and a tough defense in beating Detroit. Moore scored on a four-yard run in the first quarter and combined with Roman Gabriel on a 30-yard TD pass in the fourth before Detroit scored.

It looked as if St. Louis was headed for its first defeat and New York for its first victory until Charley Johnson hit Billy Gambrell with a fourth down, 30-yard scoring passing in the closing minutes of the game.

In Dallas, there was no mention of turning Don Meredith into a halfback as the Cowboys' quarterback led the rout of Philadelphia with 19 pass completions in 26 attempts for 394 yards and five touchdowns. Bob Hayes caught three of the TD tosses.

Gayle Sayers scored on runs of 30 and seven yards and Joe Fortunato and Bennie McRae led a fired-up Chicago defense against Baltimore. Fortunato ran 24 yards with a recovered fumble for a TD, and McRae intercepted two Johnny Unitas passes and batted at least three others out of receivers' hands.

Washington scored its third straight victory and made new Atlanta 0-0-5 as Charley Taylor scored on a 12-yard run and again on an 86-yard pass play.

Football Coach Saves Soccer Player's Life

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — Quick action by a Menlo College football coach was credited with saving the life of a soccer player George Boza, 18, of Lima, Peru, after Boza was knocked unconscious in a soccer game here Saturday.

Coach Bo Molenda, a spectator, noticed Boza had gone into convulsions after being knocked unconscious in a collision with another soccer player.

Molenda pried Boza's mouth open with his pipe and pulled Boza's tongue clear of his windpipe.

Canfield Hands Clippers 2nd Loss In 18-13 Finish

CANFIELD — Host Canfield, aroused after a first period touchdown by Columbiana, bounced back for two scores in the second then added the clincher in the fourth quarter for an 18-13 decision here Saturday.

Columbiana which now owns a 3-2 record, registered a first period TD on a one yard plunge by Bill Ward.

Canfield came back to tie it on a 28-yard pass play from Jeff Williams to Ron Leupe. The home team went in front for good later in the same period when George Diggles intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards to the score.

The winners took an 18-6 lead in the fourth quarter when Gary Marinelli hit paydirt from five yards out.

Al Rydel scored the Clippers final touchdown from the one and Bob Hum added the conversion.

Potters

Herring, who gave a good second effort as he shook off tackle after tackle, moved 12 yards. McVay, Musuraca and Smith then alternated carries to the one, from where McVay went over the right side for his second touchdown.

—:—

THE TALLY came with 1:49 left in the third period and a McVay-to-Musuraca pass netted the two - point conversion.

In the fourth quarter, Akron put its most effective weapon to use, the forward pass, and wound up with 162 yards through the air.

In the first half, East had been limited to three first downs, but in the second half — mostly in the fourth quarter — the Orientals rolled in high gear, picking up seven first downs passing.

Quarterback Chuck Shuman picked out 210-pound end Ron Powers and halfback Larry Ratcliffe as his main targets.

AKRON started on its 30 and Shuman completed five passes for 54 yards, carring to the Potters' three, from where halfback Dave Richards went over for East's lone touchdown with 5:23 left in the contest.

Apparently aroused, East stopped the Potters and began another drive as an interference call gave the Orientals a first down on the Potters 33. But a play later the Potters rushed Shuman, causing him to fumble, and Darryl Jackson recovered for the Potters on the Akron 44.

East Liverpool failed to get moving again and Akron took over with less than two minutes remaining. After two completions to the Potter 34, Herring intercepted a Shuman pass to end the contest.

While winding up on the short end of the score, Akron had an edge in overall offense. East showed a 13-8 lead in first downs and 61 yards rushing and 162 in the air for a total offense production of 223.

—:—

THE POTTERS moved for a net of 149 yards on the ground and only completed one pass good for 12 yards.

The contest saw few penalties, with each team being assessed only five yards.

Western Beaver Drops 21-18 Tilt

Western Beaver matched Avonworth in touchdowns but lost by the margin of three conversions, 21-18, Saturday at Avonworth.

Both teams traded touchdowns in the first quarter but Avonworth went on to score in the second and third periods. Western rallied in the fourth period for two touchdowns but remained on the short end.

All of Western's scoring came through the air. Quarterback Pat Lacey tossed 51 yards to Jim Jarrett for one TD while Atherton took a 23-yard scoring pass. John Petchel threw to Lacey for Western's final TD.

Avonworth's end Bill Richardson caught two touchdown passes of 46 and 13 yards from quarterback Tom O'Malley and Ron Skundrich ran six yards for the third touchdown.

Don Tater's accurate kicking gave Avonworth the edge with three straight conversions.

Midland Continues In WPIAL Race, Tops Hopewell, 13-6

Mahurt Tallies 2 In 5th Straight

BY BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Midland remained one of two schools in the running for the coveted WPIAL Class A football crown after posting its fifth straight victory with a 13-6 decision at Hopewell Saturday afternoon.

Only Midland and Montour continue with unblemished records in the Class A race. The victory Saturday also placed Midland in first place in the Midwestern Athletic Conference.

Midland's victory spoiled Hopewell's homecoming celebration Saturday before some 3,500 fans.

While Joe Hamilton's Leopards remained undefeated, they were given a big scare by Hopewell, which now shows a 2-2-1 record. Midland did not turn in its best brand of football and was hampered on several occasions by questionable penalties.

HARD-RUNNING Rich Mahurt registered both Midland touchdowns, going over from the five in the first quarter then plunging from the one in the last minute of the contest.

Midland took advantage of a Hopewell gamble that didn't pay off in the first period.

Hopewell, with a fourth and one situation on its own 39, gambled for a first down, but was short by an inch and the Leopards took over with ideal field position.

—:—

THE LEOPARDS moved to the Hopewell five and Mahurt, running wide, was chased back to the 12, but shook off three tacklers and raced in for the touchdown. John Granito's placement was perfect and Midland owned a 7-0 lead.

Hopewell came roaring back in the second period and marched to the Midland nine, but Tony Ditommaso fumbled and Granito was there to recover and end the threat.

In the third period, quarterback Jim Greenawalt engineered a drive as he picked up 50 yards in three carries, with his last a 17-yard gain to the one. Greenawalt sneaked over from the one to put Hopewell back in the running.

The all - important conversion which would have tied the game failed when Al Kosinski's kick was far short of the goal posts and Midland held to a 7-6 lead.

—:—

JAN SAMUELS, who wasn't getting a great deal of distance on his punts, received good rolls, however, and put Hopewell in the hole early in the fourth quarter on a boot to the 12-yard line.

Hopewell couldn't get moving and a short punt went out on its own 41.

Midland ate up the clock, taking 13 plays to move to the Hopewell one, with Mahurt picking up two important first downs during the drive.

MAHURT punched in his second touchdown from the one with only 41 seconds remaining in the game. Granito's kick went short.

Hopewell's final chance to score was stopped when Joe Noah intercepted a pass and returned it to the Hopewell 35 as the final whistle blew.

As far as statistics go, the two teams were virtually even. Midland had a 10-8 edge in first downs while the rushing yardage showed only one yard difference. Midland owned 152 and Hopewell 153.

The Leopards were charged with 74 yards in penalties with Hopewell assessed 20.

Midland returns to action Saturday night at home meeting neighboring South Side.

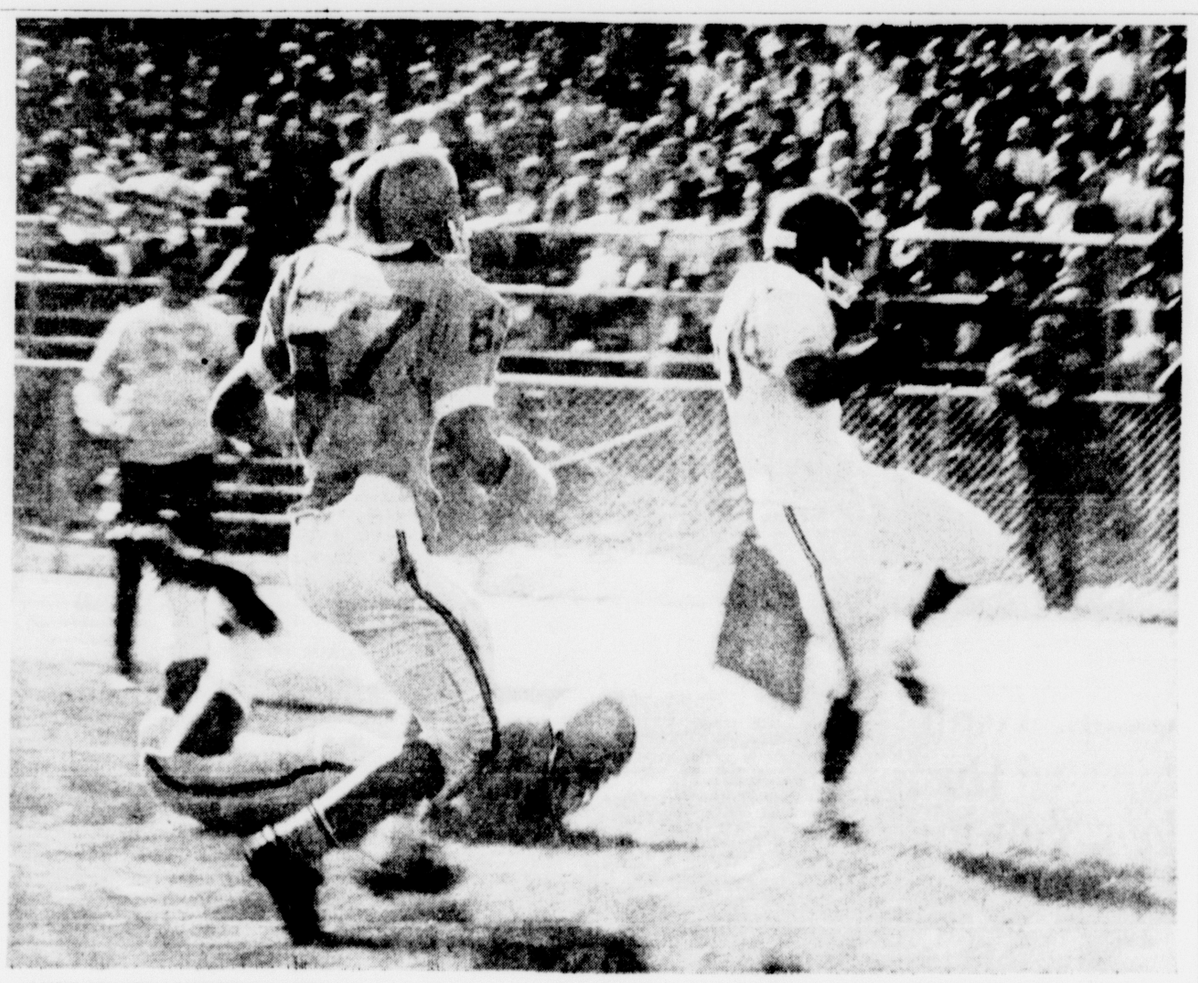
Beaver Local Nipped In Last 2 Minutes



MIDLAND FULLBACK Rich Mahurt (extreme right) races into a corner of the end zone as he eludes a driving tackle by a Hopewell defender to score the Leopards first touchdown Saturday at Hopewell. Mahurt also registered a second touchdown as Midland continued unbeaten with a 13-6 victory.

United Notches 12-7 Win; All Scoring Comes In Last 6 Minutes

After three scoreless periods, all the action was packed into the last six minutes as United rallied to edge Beaver Local 12-7 Saturday night before some 1,500 at the Beaver Local gridiron.

Coach Don Ross of Beaver Local must be wondering what he has to do to win a game after his team went in front with four minutes to go but lost out in the last two minutes when Tom Coffee flipped a 10-yard touchdown pass to Bill Kibler for the margin of victory.

United broke a 0-0 tie with six minutes left in the game when Coffee went over from the one but a conversion kick failed. United got to the one on two pass plays one for 30 yards from Coffee to Rick Engle and the other to Jim Conser for 25 yards.

The Fighting Beavers came storming back with Dennis Klembara's passing and marched downfield where Klembara cracked over from the one with about four minutes remaining in the game to tie the score at 6-6.

Don Sowards put Beaver a point in front with a placement but the lead was shortlived.

Lee Syx turned out to be the man of the hour for United when he raced 55 yards and was finally caught on the Beaver 10. A play later Coffee and Kibler hooked up for the winning touchdown.

The loss by Beaver Local and the win by United leaves both schools with 2-3 records.

Beaver Local had a 9-6 advantage in first downs and showed 126 yards rushing and 84 passing. United's offense clicked for 135 on the ground and 110 in the air.

Klembara completed eight of 25 passes while Coffee hit on four of 11.

Rams Tied With Green Bay

Mira Leads San Francisco's 21-20 Upset Of Packers; Bears Top Colts

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco Coach Jack Christiansen thinks some people might want him to make a halfback out of quarterback George Mira. Some people are wishful thinkers.

True, Mira did run well against Green Bay Sunday. But he also called a good game, faked well and threw two touchdown passes as the 49ers upset the Packers 21-20 and dropped them into a first-place tie with Los Angeles in the National Football League's Western Conference.

Los Angeles gained a tie with Green Bay at 4-1 by defeating Detroit 14-7, while St. Louis and Dallas remained unbeaten in the Eastern Conference — St. Louis scoring a comeback 24-19 victory over the New York Giants for a 5-0 record and Dallas blasting Philadelphia 57-6 for a 4-0 mark.

Chicago beat Baltimore and Washington whipped Atlanta 33-20 in other Sunday games. Cleveland trounced Pittsburgh 41-10 Saturday night.

Mira, starting in place of $700,000 quarterback John Brodie who has a groin injury, got the previously winless 49ers a 7-0 halftime lead by throwing a 27-yard touchdown pass to John David Crow.

Then with the 49ers leading 14-13 in the fourth quarter, Mira hit Crow with an eight-yard TD pass after setting up a score with a 38-yard run.

Los Angeles got two touchdowns from Tom Moore and a tough defense in beating Detroit. Moore scored on a four-yard run in the first quarter and combined with Roman Gabriel on a 30-yard TD pass in the fourth before Detroit scored.

It looked as if St. Louis was headed for its first defeat and New York for its first victory until Charley Johnson hit Billy Gambrell with a fourth down, 30-yard scoring passing in the closing minutes of the game.

In Dallas, there was no mention of turning Don Meredith into a halfback as the Cowboys' quarterback led the rout of Philadelphia with 19 pass completions in 26 attempts for 394 yards and five touchdowns. Bob Hayes caught three of the TD tosses.

Gayle Sayers scored on runs of 30 and seven yards and Joe Fortunato and Bennie McRae led a fired-up Chicago defense against Baltimore. Fortunato ran 24 yards with a recovered fumble for a TD, and McRae intercepted two Johnny Unitas passes and batted at least three others out of receivers' hands.

Washington scored its third straight victory and made new Atlanta 0-0-5 as Charley Taylor scored on a 12-yard run and again on an 86-yard pass play.

Football Coach Saves Soccer Player's Life

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP)—Quick action by a Menlo College football coach was credited with saving the life of a soccer player George Boza, 18, of Lima, Peru, after Boza was knocked unconscious in a soccer game here Saturday.

Coach Bo Molenda, a spectator, noticed Boza had gone into convulsions after being knocked unconscious in a collision with another soccer player.

Molenda pried Boza's mouth open with his pipe and pulled Boza's tongue clear of his windpipe.

Canfield Hands Clippers 2nd Loss In 18-13 Finish

CANFIELD — Host Canfield, aroused after a first period touchdown by Columbiana, bounced back for two scores in the second then added the clincher in the fourth quarter for an 18-13 decision here Saturday.

Columbiana which now owns a 3-2 record, registered a first period TD on a one yard plunge by Bill Ward.

Canfield came back to tie it on a 28-yard pass play from Jeff Williams to Ron Leupe. The home team went in front for good later in the same period when George Diggles intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards to the score.

The winners took an 18-6 lead in the fourth quarter when Gary Marinelli hit paydirt from five yards out.

Al Rydel scored the Clippers final touchdown from the one and Bob Hum added the conversion.

Potters

Herring, who gave a good second effort as he shook off tackle after tackle, moved 12 yards. McVay, Musuraca and Smith then alternated carries to the one, from where McVay went over the right side for his second touchdown.

—:—

THE TALLY came with 1:49 left in the third period and a McVay-to-Musuraca pass netted the two - point conversion.

In the fourth quarter, Akron put its most effective weapon to use, the forward pass, and wound up with 162 yards through the air.

In the first half, East had been limited to three first downs, but in the second half — mostly in the fourth quarter — the Orientals rolled in high gear, picking up seven first downs passing.

Quarterback Chuck Shuman picked out 210-pound end Ron Powers and halfback Larry Ratcliffe as his main targets.

AKRON started on its 30 and Shuman completed five passes for 54 yards, carring to the Potters' three, from where halfback Dave Richards went over for East's lone touchdown with 5:23 left in the contest.

Apparently aroused, East stopped the Potters and began another drive as an interference call gave the Orientals a first down on the Potters 33. But a play later the Potters rushed Shuman, causing him to fumble, and Darryl Jackson recovered for the Potters on the Akron 44.

East Liverpool failed to get moving again and Akron took over with less than two minutes remaining. After two completions to the Potter 34, Herring intercepted a Shuman pass to end the contest.

While winding up on the short end of the score, Akron had an edge in overall offense. East showed a 13-8 lead in first downs and 61 yards rushing and 162 in the air for a total offense production of 223.

—:—

THE POTTERS moved for a net of 149 yards on the ground and only completed one pass good for 12 yards.

The contest saw few penalties, with each team being assessed only five yards.

'Bama Rolls On 26-0

Baylor, Georgia, Florida Bring Surprises To South

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baylor, Georgia and Florida, disguised as also rans, have ended the masquerade and turned the college football party in the South into a real swinger.

Baylor started the festivities last Saturday, rearranging the Southwest Conference race into a free-for-all by upending mighty Arkansas 7-0 to shake up the Razorbacks' bid for a third straight title.

Unbeaten Georgia and Florida, each 2-0 in league play, turned the Southeastern Conference into a hot affair as the Bulldogs nudged Mississippi 9-3 and the Gators slipped by Florida State 22-19.

But No. 3 ranked Alabama, the favorite, still lurks in the background after crushing Clemson 26-0 in a non-conference game.

Baylor unveiled its Cotton Bowl dreams when Terry Southall connected on a touchdown pass in the final minutes to hand Arkansas, ranked No. 5, its first season loss in 25 games.

The Bears, ranked among the Top Ten before losing to Colorado several weeks ago, rest their 1-0 league record next Saturday, but co-leaders Texas and Texas A&M can expect no waltz.

Texas, losing to revitalized Oklahoma 18-9 for the first time in nine tries when Mike Vashon kicked four field goals, must meet Arkansas on the rebound and A&M has to stop Texas Christian, a 6-3 winner over Texas Tech on Bruce Alford's two field goals.

Up North, Michigan State, No. 1, continued its two-step to the Big Ten championship. The Spartans can't go to the Rose Bowl, but they are having plenty to say about who will get the nod.

State called the tune against title hopeful Michigan 20-7 as Jimmy Raye threw for one score and ran for another in the cross-state rivalry. The Spartans get their chance against another contender, Purdue, in two weeks.

The Boilermakers, who clash with Michigan Saturday, moved into the favorite roll by cruising past Iowa 35-0 as Bob Griese clicked for 215 yards and one touchdown through the air.

Elsewhere, Southern California, staggering under the loss of injured quarterback Tory Winslow in the first period, finally drove 71 yards for a last-quarter touchdown to beat Washington 17-14 and remain a co-favorite with UCLA in the Pacific Fight.

The Uclans also had their troubles. Lulled by Rice for three quarters, the nation's second-ranked team awoke in the final period. Gary Began, who had run for two touchdowns, hit Harold Busby for a 33-yard touchdown and Kurt Zimmerman kicked a 17-yard field goal with seven seconds left to beat the Owls 27-24.

Southern Cal, ranked sixth, plays Stanford Saturday while UCLA remains out of the conference against Penn State.

The other two teams in the top 10, Notre Dame and Nebraska, easily remained unbeaten.

The Cornhuskers, No. 7, trounced Wisconsin 31-3 while the Irish again unleased Terry Hanratty and Jim Seymour against outmanned Army 35-0. Hanratty hit Seymour on eight passes and hit 11 of 20 overall before the pair sat out the last half.

Alston, Team Dejected On Poor Showing

BALTIMORE (AP) — Would the Dodgers play it any differently after losing four straight to the Baltimore Orioles?

"We'd try to score some runs," said Manager Walter Alston as he and the defeated National League champions prepared to fly home today.

The Dodgers broke the World Series record by going 33 scoreless innings. The old mark was 28.

"But I don't think we have anything to be ashamed of," Alston insisted. "We've won two pennants and a World Series in two years."

While Alston retained his sense of humor, neither he nor the Dodgers took the licking with anything less than deep dejection.

Don Drysdale, off whom Frank Robinson belted the game-winning home run in the fourth inning Sunday choked with emotion as he sat in front of his dressing nook.

Willie Davis, the goat of the second game in Los Angeles when he dropped two routine fly balls in center field, made the circus catch of the last game.

Boog Powell, second batter to follow Robinson in the fourth, plated a pitch over the seven-foot fence, 410 feet away, but Willie D. leaped and caught it with one hand just behind the fence.

"Naw," said Davis when asked if perhaps this hadn't redeemed his distressing fortune in the previous game.

"They deserved everything they got," said Drysdale, a remark that was echoed by the team.

After his interview, Alston went over to congratulate the Orioles manager, Hank Bauer.

"I'm going over where it's merrier," said Alston.

Flores' Passing Sparks Raiders

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Art Powell is looking forward to the next four miles. Tom Flores will settle for 261 yards and a full-time job every weekend.

Flores and Powell, Oakland's veteran pass-and-catch combination, traveled the high road together Sunday in the Raiders' 21-10 American Football League victory over the Miami Dolphins.

Flores, a six-year pro, started at quarterback for the first time this season and went the distance, firing three touchdown passes and completing 14 of 24 for 261 yards.

Powell made only two catches but one was a 25-yard touchdown strike and the other, a 13-yarder, made him the first player in AFL history to reach the four-mile mark on pass receptions. The 29-year-old end, in his seventh AFL season, has gained 7,053 yards — 13 over four miles — on 432 career receptions.

The Raiders' second victory — both over the winless Dolphins—in five starts kept them alive in the Western Division race, two games behind co-leaders San Diego and Kansas City.

The Chargers fell into a first-place tie with Kansas City, at 4-1, Saturday night when they bowed to the New York Jets 17-16 while the Chiefs battered Denver 37-10. Boston stunned Buffalo 20-10 in another Saturday night game, helping the Jets take a commanding lead in the Eastern race.

Powell's touchdown grab sent Oakland ahead 7-3 in the second quarter. After Joe Auer's three-yard scoring plunge gave the Dolphins the lead again, Flores hit fullback Roger Hagberg with a 24-yard TD pass, giving the Raiders a 14-10 edge at halftime.

Joe Namath passed 44 yards to Bill Mathis and 17 to George Sauer midway in the fourth quarter, setting up an eighty-yard touchdown burst by Emerson Boozer that lifted the Jets past San Diego before a Shea Stadium crowd of 63,497 — the largest in AFL history.

The Jets hung on in the closing minutes as Dick Van Raaphorst, who had booted three field goals for San Diego, missed on 30 and 21-yard attempts. The Jets, 4-0-1, are the only unbeaten club in the league.

Bert Coan's 18-yard touchdown pass to Chris Burford started Kansas City on a 21-yard first-quarter binge and the Chiefs breezed the rest of the way as Mike Garrett scored twice and Mike Mercer added three field goals.

The Patriots, who tied New York a week ago, handed Buffalo's defending league champions their third setback in six games. Boston jumped to an early lead on Gino Cappelletti's 10-yard field goal and a 19-yard touchdown run by Jim Nance, then held off the Bills with a blitzing defensive charge.

Baylor, Georgia, Florida Bring Surprises To South

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baylor, Georgia and Florida, disguised as also rans, have ended the masquerade and turned the college football party in the South into a real swinger.

Baylor started the festivities last Saturday, rearranging the Southwest Conference race into a free-for-all by upending mighty Arkansas 7-0 to shake up the Razorbacks' bid for a third straight title.

Unbeaten Georgia and Florida, each 2-0 in league play, turned the Southeastern Conference into a hot affair as the Bulldogs nudged Mississippi 9-3 and the Gators slipped by Florida State 22-19.

But No. 3 ranked Alabama, the favorite, still lurks in the background after crushing Clemson 26-0 in a non-conference game.

Baylor unveiled its Cotton Bowl dreams when Terry Southall connected on a touchdown pass in the final minutes to hand Arkansas, ranked No. 5, its first season loss in 25 games.

The Bears, ranked among the Top Ten before losing to Colorado several weeks ago, rest their 1-0 league record next Saturday, but co-leaders Texas and Texas A&M can expect no waltz.

Texas, losing to revitalized Oklahoma 18-9 for the first time in nine tries when Mike Vashon kicked four field goals, must meet Arkansas on the rebound and A&M has to stop Texas Christian, a 6-3 winner over Texas Tech on Bruce Alford's two field goals.

Up North, Michigan State, No. 1, continued its two-step to the Big Ten championship. The Spartans can't go to the Rose Bowl, but they are having plenty to say about who will get the nod.

State called the tune against title hopeful Michigan 20-7 as Jimmy Raye threw for one score and ran for another in the cross-state rivalry. The Spartans get their chance against another contender, Purdue, in two weeks.

The Boilermakers, who clash with Michigan Saturday, moved into the favorite roll by cruising past Iowa 35-0 as Bob Griese clicked for 215 yards and one touchdown through the air.

Elsewhere, Southern California, staggering under the loss of injured quarterback Tory Winslow in the first period, finally drove 71 yards for a last-quarter touchdown to beat Washington 17-14 and remain a co-favorite with UCLA in the Pacific Fight.

The Uclans also had their troubles. Lulled by Rice for three quarters, the nation's second-ranked team awoke in the final period. Gary Began, who had run for two touchdowns, hit Harold Busby for a 33-yard touchdown and Kurt Zimmerman kicked a 17-yard field goal with seven seconds left to beat the Owls 27-24.

Southern Cal, ranked sixth, plays Stanford Saturday while UCLA remains out of the conference against Penn State.

The other two teams in the top 10, Notre Dame and Nebraska, easily remained unbeaten.

The Cornhuskers, No. 7, trounced Wisconsin 31-3 while the Irish again unleased Terry Hanratty and Jim Seymour against outmanned Army 35-0. Hanratty hit Seymour on eight passes and hit 11 of 20 overall before the pair sat out the last half.

Alston, Team Dejected On Poor Showing

BALTIMORE (AP) — Would the Dodgers play it any differently after losing four straight to the Baltimore Orioles?

"We'd try to score some runs," said Manager Walter Alston as he and the defeated National League champions prepared to fly home today.

The Dodgers broke the World Series record by going 33 scoreless innings. The old mark was 28.

"But I don't think we have anything to be ashamed of," Alston insisted. "We've won two pennants and a World Series in two years."

While Alston retained his sense of humor, neither he nor the Dodgers took the licking with anything less than deep dejection.

Don Drysdale, off whom Frank Robinson belted the game-winning home run in the fourth inning Sunday choked with emotion as he sat in front of his dressing nook.

Willie Davis, the goat of the second game in Los Angeles when he dropped two routine fly balls in center field, made the circus catch of the last game.

Boog Powell, second batter to follow Robinson in the fourth, plated a pitch over the seven-foot fence, 410 feet away, but Willie D. leaped and caught it with one hand just behind the fence.

"Naw," said Davis when asked if perhaps this hadn't redeemed his distressing fortune in the previous game.

"They deserved everything they got," said Drysdale, a remark that was echoed by the team.

After his interview, Alston went over to congratulate the Orioles manager, Hank Bauer.

"I'm going over where its merrier," said Alston.

Ohioan Runs Third

WENTZVILLE, Mo., (AP)— Jack Bowsher of Springfield, Ohio, finished third Sunday in a 1966 Ford in the 200-mile U.S. Auto Club stock car race won by Norm Nelson of Racine, Wis., in a 1966 Plymouth. Sal Tovella of Chicago finished second while Polesitter Parnelli Jones had to quit after 20 laps of the 71-lap grind with engine failure.

Flores' Passing Sparks Raiders

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Art Powell is looking forward to the next four miles. Tom Flores will settle for 261 yards and a full-time job every weekend.

Flores and Powell, Oakland's veteran pass-and-catch combination, traveled the high road together Sunday in the Raiders' 21-10 American Football League victory over the Miami Dolphins.

Flores, a six-year pro, started at quarterback for the first time this season and went the distance, firing three touchdown passes and completing 14 of 24 for 261 yards.

Powell made only two catches but one was a 25-yard touchdown strike and the other, a 13-yarder, made him the first player in AFL history to reach the four-mile mark on pass receptions. The 29-year-old end, in his seventh AFL season, has gained 7,053 yards — 13 over four miles — on 432 career receptions.

The Raiders' second victory — both over the winless Dolphins—in five starts kept them alive in the Western Division race, two games behind co-leaders San Diego and Kansas City.

The Chargers fell into a first-place tie with Kansas City, at 4-1, Saturday night when they bowed to the New York Jets 17-16 while the Chiefs battered Denver 37-10. Boston stunned Buffalo 20-10 in another Saturday night game, helping the Jets take a commanding lead in the Eastern race.

Powell's touchdown grab sent Oakland ahead 7-3 in the second quarter. After Joe Auer's three-yard scoring plunge gave the Dolphins the lead again, Flores hit fullback Roger Hagberg with a 24-yard TD pass, giving the Raiders a 14-10 edge at halftime.

Joe Namath passed 44 yards to Bill Mathis and 17 to George Sauer midway in the fourth quarter, setting up an eighty-yard touchdown burst by Emerson Boozer that lifted the Jets past San Diego before a Shea Stadium crowd of 63,497 — the largest in AFL history.

The Jets hung on in the closing minutes as Dick Van Raaphorst, who had booted three field goals for San Diego, missed on 30 and 21-yard attempts. The Jets, 4-0-1, are the only unbeaten club in the league.

Bert Coan's 18-yard touchdown pass to Chris Burford started Kansas City on a 21-yard first-quarter binge and the Chiefs breezed the rest of the way as Mike Garrett scored twice and Mike Mercer added three field goals.

The Patriots, who tied New York a week ago, handed Buffalo's defending league champions their third setback in six games. Boston jumped to an early lead on Gino Cappelletti's 10-yard field goal and a 19-yard touchdown run by Jim Nance, then held off the Bills with a blitzing defensive charge.

Miami Edges Stubborn Kent For 10th In Row

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Remember the last time you saw a college football game in which there wasn't a completed pass?

It happened Saturday in Miami's 7-0 Mid-American Conference triumph over Kent State.

Kent tried seven aerials and Miami four but no one could find the target. Ironically, there was one reception when an alert Redskin defender intercepted a desperation pass late in the game that checked a Kent drive.

Bruce Matte burst into the end zone on a three-yard run capping a 67-yard march in the fourth quarter that brought Coach Bo Schembechler's team its 10th straight victory, the nation's longest winning streak.

The Golden Flashes, who have a knack for losing the close ones, stormed back late in the period but ran out of gas on Miami's three-yard stripe.

In other top attractions last Saturday, Ohio State lost its Big Ten opener to Illinois, 10 - 9; surging Ohio University copped its third straight by beating Toledo 21-6; Western Michigan upset Bowling Green 16-14; Dayton surprised Louisville 20-17, Xavier clipped Cincinnati 25-13 and Akron stunned Wittenberg 14-7.

Woody Hayes, losing for the first time at Champaign after seven straight successes, now faces the difficult task of getting the Buckeyes "up" for mighty Michigan State.

Not since the war year of 1943, when Ohio finished with a 3-6 record, have the Bucks lost three games in a row.

Hayes, who said afterwards "this is a real bad way to start the conference season," didn't need a doctorate in mathematics to observe:

"About all I can say is that a touchdown and a field goal beats three field goals." He forgot to mention that Jim Stotz, who kicked the field goal for the Fighting Illini, also booted the all-important extra point. That came after Illinois drove 74 yards in the final quarter for the game's only touchdown.

On the bright side, Gary Cairns, a junior from Canton, set two conference records with three field goals. The three were a modern record for a single Big Ten game and his second boost, a 55-yarder, also established a modern mark.

Toledo jumped ahead to a first half 6-0 lead on field goals by Bob Buchs but quarterback Ron DeLucca fired touchdown strikes of 23 and 45 yards, respectively, to Sam Bogan and Jay Maupin. Ohio, now 2-0 in the MAC, added another second half score in its home opener.

Alert Western recovered three Bowling Green fumbles by fullback Stew Williams and turned the mistakes into two touchdowns and a field goal. Jim Boreland hit Sam Antonazzo on a 31-yard scoring pass for the winning points.

Bob Thomas' second field goal, a 24-yard effort with 4:44 left, brought Dayton its third triumph of the season against a lone setback. The Flyers are shooting to equal the six victories turned in during the 1957 season.

300 Take Part In Services At Boyce 'Old-Timers Night'

More than 300 attended the "Old-Timers Night" Sunday at the Boyce Methodist Church, with kerosene lamps adding a realistic atmosphere to the observance.

Other features included the "Amen" corner, an old pipe organ and the hitching post. Bearded men wore suits which were in style of many years ago, including wide ties, and the women were attired in long dresses, bonnets and high button shoes. The men were seated on one side of the church and the women on the other, another custom from the past.

Old favorite songs were sung, including "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There," "Power in the Blood," "What a Friend We Have In Jesus" and "Where the Gates Swing Outward Never."

Other music included "The Old Rugged Cross" by the Men's Choir, "The Great Judgment Morning" by the Rev. Paul George and "Jesus Loves Me" by the Junior MYF group. Rev. George's sermon topic was "The Changeless and Unchanging Christ."

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?*

If you take vitamins and still feel tired, your trouble may be due to iron-poor blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! Because just two GERITOL tablets, or two tablespoons of liquid GERITOL contain 7 vitamins plus twice the iron in a pound of calf's liver.

In only one day GERITOL-iron is in your bloodstream carrying strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor, and if you've been feeling tired because of iron-poor blood, take GERITOL, liquid or tablets, every day. You'll feel stronger fast in just 7 days or money back from GERITOL.

Meeting Planned For Unit Formed To Aid Children

A new group called ACTION, formed to assist so-called disadvantaged children, will hold its organization meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the cafeteria at Westgate School.

The unit was formed by teachers, principals and other school personnel. The letters of its name stand for its purpose: "Activate community training in our neighborhoods."

Invitations have been sent to various community leaders, civic organizations, service clubs, teachers, psychologists and psychiatrists.

The topic of the initial meeting will be "Disadvantaged Youth and What Can Be Done to Assist Them."

As an example of the group's purpose, a sponsor said the group will work with youngsters who have been referred to Juvenile Court. In addition to the restrictions placed on the youngster by the court, the unit will attempt to persuade the child to join a movement such as the 4-H Club or the Big Brother movement "to try to get something meaningful into their lives rather than return them to the situation that caused the trouble initially."

Interstate Highway May Run Into Delay

CLEVELAND (AP)—Completion of the nation's interstate highway system may be delayed four years beyond the 1973 target date, according to a report prepared for the annual convention of the American Automobile Association.

The report of the AAA's highway committee, released Sunday night by William G. Walters of Birmingham, Mich., notes that the government apparently will not increase motorists' taxes to pay for completing the system by 1972 but instead will extend the life of present taxes.

The committee blamed the situation on rising construction costs, which have gone up 2.5 per cent annually.

Total price for the system was set at $51 billion, up $10 billion from the 1961 official estimate.

Termed Legal

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A midnight-to-5 a. m. curfew for adults in the city of West Point, Ky., has been termed legal by the state Attorney General's office, as long as it is not used to prevent anyone from walking for exercise or for social purposes.

Ohio Storm Hits In Greene County

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A storm whipped across Greene County early today, causing damage—direct and indirect—in both the northwest and northeast sectors.

High winds accompanying a rain front damaged at least six homes in Beavercreek Township between here and Dayton shortly after midnight. One house's roof was blown off, sheriff's deputies reported. No injuries were reported.

Then, at Central State University in Wilberforce, the storm knocked out electricity and in the ensuing confusion several dormitory windows were shattered—by rampaging boys, not winds, officers said.

Youths reportedly disturbed the campus tranquility for more than an hour until highway patrolmen and sheriff's men restored order.

The broken windows were in girls' dormitories.

PTA Sets Nov. 10-11 As Dates Of Minstrel

Anyone having an act or wishing to sing in the chorus is asked to attend a practice Friday at 7:30 p. m. or contact Vincent DeFilippo, president.

The next meeting of the PTA will be Thursday night at 7:45. The November meeting has been changed to Nov. 15 due to the minstrel.

300 Take Part In Services At Boyce 'Old-Timers Night'

More than 300 attended the "Old-Timers Night" Sunday at the Boyce Methodist Church, with kerosene lamps adding a realistic atmosphere to the observance.

Other features included the "Amen" corner, an old pipe organ and the hitching post. Bearded men wore suits which were in style of many years ago, including wide ties, and the women were attired in long dresses, bonnets and high button shoes. The men were seated on one side of the church and the women on the other, another custom from the past.

Old favorite songs were sung, including "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There," "Power in the Blood," "What a Friend We Have In Jesus" and "Where the Gates Swing Outward Never."

Other music included "The Old Rugged Cross" by the Men's Choir, "The Great Judgment Morning" by the Rev. Paul George and "Jesus Loves Me" by the Junior MYF group. Rev. George's sermon topic was "The Changeless and Unchanging Christ."

Meeting Planned For Unit Formed To Aid Children

A new group called ACTION, formed to assist so-called disadvantaged children, will hold its organization meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the cafeteria at Westgate School.

The unit was formed by teachers, principals and other school personnel. The letters of its name stand for its purpose: "Activate community training in our neighborhoods."

Invitations have been sent to various community leaders, civic organizations, service clubs, teachers, psychologists and psychiatrists.

The topic of the initial meeting will be "Disadvantaged Youth and What Can Be Done to Assist Them."

As an example of the group's purpose, a sponsor said the group will work with youngsters who have been referred to Juvenile Court. In addition to the restrictions placed on the youngster by the court, the unit will attempt to persuade the child to join a movement such as the 4-H Club or the Big Brother movement "to try to get something meaningful into their lives rather than return them to the situation that caused the trouble initially."

Interstate Highway May Run Into Delay

CLEVELAND (AP)—Completion of the nation's interstate highway system may be delayed four years beyond the 1973 target date, according to a report prepared for the annual convention of the American Automobile Association.

The report of the AAA's highway committee, released Sunday night by William G. Walters of Birmingham, Mich., notes that the government apparently will not increase motorists' taxes to pay for completing the system by 1972 but instead will extend the life of present taxes.

The committee blamed the situation on rising construction costs, which have gone up 2.5 per cent annually.

Total price for the system was set at $51 billion, up $10 billion from the 1961 official estimate.

Termed Legal

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A midnight-to-5 a. m. curfew for adults in the city of West Point, Ky., has been termed legal by the state Attorney General's office, as long as it is not used to prevent anyone from walking for exercise or for social purposes.

Ohio Storm Hits In Greene County

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A storm whipped across Greene County early today, causing damage—direct and indirect—in both the northwest and northeast sectors.

High winds accompanying a rain front damaged at least six homes in Beavercreek Township between here and Dayton shortly after midnight. One house's roof was blown off, sheriff's deputies reported. No injuries were reported.

Then, at Central State University in Wilberforce, the storm knocked out electricity and in the ensuing confusion several dormitory windows were shattered—by rampaging boys, not winds, officers said.

Youths reportedly disturbed the campus tranquility for more than an hour until highway patrolmen and sheriff's men restored order.

The broken windows were in girls' dormitories.

PTA Sets Nov. 10-11 As Dates Of Minstrel

The second annual minstrel of the Hillcrest Fairview Parent - Teacher Association will be held Nov. 10 and 11 at 8 p.m. at the MacDonald school. The date was set by the executive committee when it met Friday at the school.

Anyone having an act or wishing to sing in the chorus is asked to attend a practice Friday at 7:30 p. m. or contact Vincent DeFilippo, president.

The next meeting of the PTA will be Thursday night at 7:45. The November meeting has been changed to Nov. 15 due to the minstrel.

Officers Are Elected By Camp Fire Group

Officers were elected during the first meeting of Camp Fire Girls Group 27 at the Fairview United Presbyterian Church in Pughtown.

They are: Ann Flowers, president; Donna Riter, vice president; Mary Lou Yeater, secretary; Cathy Smith, treasurer, and Lugenia Gittings, reporter.

Refreshments were served. The meeting concluded with group singing.

Mrs. Loretta Yeater is Camp Fire guardian and is being assisted by Mrs. Mary Gittings.

Decorating? Inject Own 'Tastes'

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Big indoor projects are under way. Those who want to avoid the crying towel had better inject their own taste into the plans.

It matters not whether the plan maker is husband, architect, interior designer, carpenter or builder. Objections should be made before it is too late.

The only reason one should be utterly dependent on experts is that one lacks the background to make decisions. But one can still have opinions.

You can build awareness by reading good books on architecture and decorating, by visiting museums and important homes. Pass on your thoughts and see what happens.

YOU SHOULD be simpatico with the decorator. If you are a simple type, don't choose a way-out character to execute your plans.

One of the most widely publicized decorators in the United States is considered a "dud" by members of his profession. It isn't professional jealousy. Nobody digs him. There doesn't seem to be any point to what he does.

It can't be called eclectic or far-out. He just isn't with it. But he has traded on his name a long time.

Some interior designers still work on the "this color is in" or "this furniture style is in" idea. But no color or style is "in" with you, unless you like it.

If a couple will never have books or bibelots, the architect should be told before he puts in shelves and niches all over a room. If they dislike blue, they should tell their decorator.

One homemaker points out that her happy relationship with her kitchen ceased when she changed the color scheme from yellow to blue at her interior designer's suggestion. It is so dreary, she can't bear it. But she can't correct the look with a coat of paint.

—:—

A WOMAN painted a bedroom a lively pumpkin shade, a far-out idea in her area. Result: Her husband refuses to sleep in it. The decorator said he'd be surprised. He was.

Architects often give their clients credit for more savvy than they can command.

For example, one man walked around the framing of his new house and suggested that the dining room was too large for their needs, but, that he could use some of the area as a place to work.

At the finish line, the dining room is just big enough to squeeze into the other room will just about hold a desk, chair and a couple of book shelves.

The man was thinking in terms of a den — day bed, bookshelves, desk and so on, but he neglected to tell the architect, who could have advised him that he was overestimating the space.

People are intimidated by interior designers, but shouldn't be. Good decorators believe their function should be one of co-ordinating objects and materials that a client likes.

The challenge is to fit it into a home. This may mean livening up an old Victorian sofa with polka dots or striped fabric. It could mean softening a contemporary piece of furniture with velvet. Or — refinishing and lacquering an old table and turning an old figurine into a charming lamp base.

A good decorator seldom suggests discarding worthwhile furnishings. The home owner often does this on her own, following the neighborhood piper who has "everything new."

One can see beautiful old furnishings being sacrificed at barn tag sales. The shocker is to enter the house and see some of the horrible new stuff the owner has chosen for her surroundings.

There is available a good deal of contemporary furniture and accessories. It is a pitty that people go haywire when they decide to switch to modern furnishings.

Raise Averts Youngstown School Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The threat of a strike today against the Youngstown School Board and its 42 schools was ended late Sunday night when representatives of the board and six unions reached tentative agreement on a contract.

The Public Employes Union and five building trade craft unions had threatened to strike at midnight if agreement were not reached on an initial contract covering some 250 non-teaching employes.

School officials had been expected to cancel classes today if the bus drivers, maintenance men, custodians, and building trades workers carried out their threat to picket.

The agreement reached in talks in the offices of Mayor Anthony B. Flask provides a 5-per cent cost-of-living wage adjustment which had been a major demand for the unions.

The unions scheduled a meeting tonight for a ratification vote. The school board is expected to act on the contract proposal at its Oct. 17 meeting.

Pickup Slows Delivery For Steel Orders

CLEVELAND (AP)—Because of a slight pickup in demand, "steel users should allow a little more time for delivery from mills," Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly said that "orders placed now will take generally a week more for shipment than those placed a month ago . . . Exceptions to the general upturn in orders include hot rolled and cold rolled carbon steel sheets — products used extensively in the automobile industry."

Coated sheets and heavy materials such as structural shapes bars and railroad rails are in steadiest demand and have the largest backlogs, Steel said.

The magazine said "the situation reflects the high rates of activity reported by the construction industry, machinery and equipment builders, the railroads and builders of freight cars."

A major steel producer says promises for delivery range from one week to eight weeks, depending on the products, the magazine said.

The auto industry has made light steel orders and is living off its inventories, despite record output of passenger cars in September, Steel said. September's output was about 660,000 units, compared to the previous high of 572,846 in the same month in 1964.

Steel said carmakers may be holding steel "orders to a minimum until they get a fix on new model sales."

"The lengthening of leadtimes is assurance that steel production will maintain its present high level, maybe rise slightly, for at least the next month," Steel said, adding that if present production rates are maintained, this year's output may reach a record 135 million tons.

The magazine estimates production of ingots and castings last week at 2,640,000 net tons, slightly changed from the preceding week's 2,645,000 tons, "and 18.4 per cent above the 2,229,000 tons made in the same 1965 week when inventories were being liquidated."

Steel also noted that so far this year, 23 per cent of all steel has been produced through the basic oxygen furnace process, compared to 17.4 per cent all last year.

The magazine's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting scrap dropped 17 cents to $28.50 a gross ton last week.

3 Prisoners Escape At West Virginia Jail

PARSONS, W.Va. (AP) — Three prisoners pried off a door and pushed down a wall at the Tucker County Jail Sunday to flee from the jail's second floor. Sheriff Carl Hedrick said seven other prisoners could have fled, but didn't.

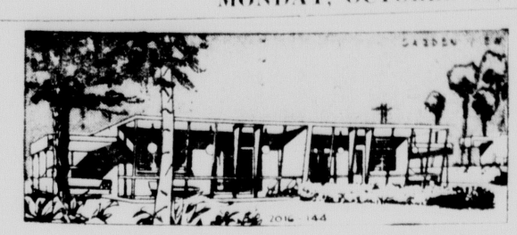
The jail adjoins Hedrick's house and the men escaped while he was preparing to serve them breakfast.

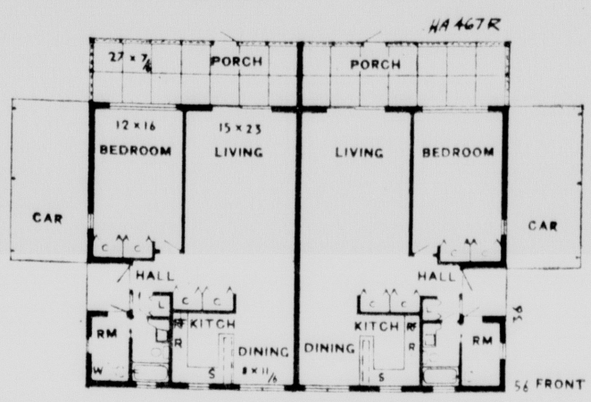
Claimed At 84

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Faith L. Gorrell, 84, retired director of the Ohio State University home economics department, died Sunday at a nursing home here. A member of the OSU faculty from 1918 to 1957, she headed the home economics department 1920-45.

Given Dental Award

CLEVELAND (AP)—An Akron dentist was presented the Ohio College of Podiatry's first award for outstanding service in professional practice management. The award was presented Sunday night to Dr. Robert K. Stinaff at a dinner at the Wade Park Manor.





THIS DUPLEX HAS FIVE ROOMS plus a porch and carport for each unit. There is 1,800 square feet of livable space for each unit. The symmetrical floor plan is built around an 8 inch thick masonry wall. Each unit contains a large cross-ventilated living-dining room, bedroom, U-type kitchen and a service room accessible from the outside. Sliding glass doors connect the living and the sleeping areas with the screened porch. The 8 foot by 11½ foot dining room can be separated from the living area by a folding partition. It Very Often Pays Off To Save Your Old Junk

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It may be junk to you, but to someone else it's a pile of useful material.

Odds and ends of lumber left after the house was built, pieces of pipe, lengths of screen. Or if you have bought an old house, it is likely that basement, garage and attic are crammed with things about which the first impulse is to throw them out.

Resist the impulse. Fight off your wife's demands that everything be hauled out without looking twice at any of it.

If you don't resist, your first moment of regret will come when you pay the bill at the lumberyard for a piece or two of lumber that you could easily have salvaged from that pile of boards squirreled away in the attic. But then it's too late.

—:—

OBVIOUSLY, you can't save everything, nor should you try. Junk needs sorting. Even then it's wise to live with it awhile until you know what is there. It also needs proper storing.

Don't wait until you need those old gate hinges to dress up a door. Pull them off now, clean them, and store them away. In a building supply house they call these antique hinges and you pay a premium for them.

Lumber is tricky. First of all save nothing that shows signs of rotting. Do not save pieces that are split or badly warped. Size is no criterion.

A small piece of wood can be used for a wedge or brace. Cut off badly damaged ends. Pull nails. You will have to pull them eventually and meanwhile it will make the lumber safer and easier to handle. Store it in an out of the way place that is dry.

Do not store it where there might be danger of fire. There should be ventilation. A few strips of lumber nailed across the rafters under the garage roof will serve as a support to store all the longer pieces.

DON'T IGNORE special cuts of lumber — siding, flooring, molding and such. Sometimes these need replacing and only a small piece is needed. If you tried to buy it you would discover that you had to buy a full length.

What about an old shed that is being torn down? Most of the lumber will be usable. Sort it, clean it up and store it. It could make attractive, weathered paneling in a remodeling project.

Fence, chicken wire and sometimes screening are bought by the roll and generally there's a length left over. Save it. If you need a piece, it will save your having to buy a whole roll.

Chicken wire is great around the garden to keep out small animals and around young trees to keep them from chewing the bark. Extra screening is good for repairs and can be used to sift top soil.

OLD STORM doors and window frames may seem useless but they are not. Make a framework of lumber and set it on the ground, put the door or window on top and you have a cold frame. Or prop the window or door against the house and use plastic on the sides.

Pipes may look rusty, but they may be sound. Throw away badly bent lengths and save the rest. Even if you don't need it for plumbing, consider how useful a piece of pipe is as a brace for a young tree.

A partial package of roof shingles should not be discarded. You never know when you may need one or two to repair the roof after a storm.

That's the thing about most so-called junk — you never know.

Wood 'Coloring' Tips Are Offered

AP Newsfeatures

Question: Some time ago I saw a piece of pine furniture in a department store. It had a kind of pastel pink color, but you could see through it right to the wood. I now have purchased a similar piece of furniture made from what appears to be the same kind of pine. How can I color it yet not hide the surface of the wood?

Answer: This can be done in a number of ways. One of the best is to use a ready - made oil stain of the desired shade. Test it first on the underside of the furniture to be sure you get the tone you want. Adding a little turpentine will make the stain a bit lighter than it is.

But the shade can be controlled by the length of time it is left on the wood. Brush it on, then wipe it off in about 10 seconds. If the wood hasn't darkened sufficiently, allow a 30-second interval between the application and the wiping. Experiment until you get the shade you want, then go ahead with the full job.

After the stain is thoroughly dry (wait 12 hours or more if possible), give the furniture a coat of sealer. When that is dry, apply two coats of varnish or whatever finishing material you have selected. Incidentally, don't forget the sanding of the wood before you begin—no matter how smooth the piece of furniture appears to be. Wipe off all traces of grit, then go ahead.

400,000 Waiting

BOMBAY, India (AP) — A telephone official told newsmen 300,000 persons were on the waiting list for telephones five years ago. The list had grown to 400,000 when India began its new five-year economic development plan in 1966, he said.

Hole In One At 11

AUCKLAND (AP) — Golfers begin holing out in one at an early age in New Zealand. Evelyn year-old Ashton Johnston, of Flemington, scored a 110-yarder at the 12th in the Central Hawke's Bay junior tournament at Waipukurau recently. His 18-hole total was 123.

Decorating? Inject Own 'Tastes'

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Big indoor projects are under way. Those who want to avoid the crying towel had better inject their own taste into the plans.

It matters not whether the plan maker is husband, architect, interior designer, carpenter or builder. Objections should be made before it is too late.

The only reason one should be utterly dependent on experts is that one lacks the background to make decisions. But one can still have opinions.

You can build awareness by reading good books on architecture and decorating, by visiting museums and important homes. Pass on your thoughts and see what happens.

YOU SHOULD be simpatico with the decorator. If you are a simple type, don't choose a way-out character to execute your plans.

One of the most widely publicized decorators in the United States is considered a "dud" by members of his profession. It isn't professional jealousy. Nobody digs him. There doesn't seem to be any point to what he does.

It can't be called eclectic or far-out. He just isn't with it. But he has traded on his name a long time.

Some interior designers still work on the "this color is in" or "this furniture style is in" idea. But no color or style is "in" with you, unless you like it.

If a couple will never have books or bibelots, the architect should be told before he puts in shelves and niches all over a room. If they dislike blue, they should tell their decorator.

One homemaker points out that her happy relationship with her kitchen ceased when she changed the color scheme from yellow to blue at her interior designer's suggestion. It is so dreary, she can't bear it. But she can't correct the look with a coat of paint.

—:—

A WOMAN painted a bedroom a lively pumpkin shade, a far-out idea in her area. Result: Her husband refuses to sleep in it. The decorator said he'd be surprised. He was.

Architects often give their clients credit for more savvy than they can command.

For example, one man walked around the framing of his new house and suggested that the dining room was too large for their needs, but, that he could use some of the area as a place to work.

At the finish line, the dining room is just big enough to squeeze into the other room will just about hold a desk, chair and a couple of book shelves.

The man was thinking in terms of a den — day bed, bookshelves, desk and so on, but he neglected to tell the architect, who could have advised him that he was overestimating the space.

People are intimidated by interior designers, but shouldn't be. Good decorators believe their function should be one of co-ordinating objects and materials that a client likes.

The challenge is to fit it into a home. This may mean livening up an old Victorian sofa with polka dots or striped fabric. It could mean softening a contemporary piece of furniture with velvet. Or — refinishing and lacquering an old table and turning an old figurine into a charming lamp base.

A good decorator seldom suggests discarding worthwhile furnishings. The home owner often does this on her own, following the neighborhood piper who has "everything new."

One can see beautiful old furnishings being sacrificed at barn tag sales. The shocker is to enter the house and see some of the horrible new stuff the owner has chosen for her surroundings.

There is available a good deal of contemporary furniture and accessories. It is a pitty that people go haywire when they decide to switch to modern furnishings.

Raise Averts Youngstown School Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The threat of a strike today against the Youngstown School Board and its 42 schools was ended late Sunday night when representatives of the board and six unions reached tentative agreement on a contract.

The Public Employes Union and five building trade craft unions had threatened to strike at midnight if agreement were not reached on an initial contract covering some 250 non-teaching employes.

School officials had been expected to cancel classes today if the bus drivers, maintenance men, custodians, and building trades workers carried out their threat to picket.

The agreement reached in talks in the offices of Mayor Anthony B. Flask provides a 5-per cent cost-of-living wage adjustment which had been a major demand for the unions.

The unions scheduled a meeting tonight for a ratification vote. The school board is expected to act on the contract proposal at its Oct. 17 meeting.

Pickup Slows Delivery For Steel Orders

CLEVELAND (AP)—Because of a slight pickup in demand, "steel users should allow a little more time for delivery from mills," Steel Magazine said today.

The metalworking weekly said that "orders placed now will take generally a week more for shipment than those placed a month ago . . . Exceptions to the general upturn in orders include hot rolled and cold rolled carbon steel sheets — products used extensively in the automobile industry."

Coated sheets and heavy materials such as structural shopes bars and railroad rails are in steadiest demand and have the largest backlogs, Steel said.

The magazine said "the situation reflects the high rates of activity reported by the construction industry, machinery and equipment builders, the railroads and builders of freight cars."

A major steel producer says promises for delivery range from one week to eight weeks, depending on the products, the magazine said.

The auto industry has made light steel orders and is living off its inventories, despite record output of passenger cars in September, Steel said. September's output was about 660,000 units, compared to the previous high of 572,846 in the same month in 1964.

Steel said carmakers may be holding steel "orders to a minimum until they get a fix on new model sales."

"The lengthening of leadtimes is assurance that steel production will maintain its present high level, maybe rise slightly, for at least the next month," Steel said, adding that if present production rates are maintained, this year's output may reach a record 135 million tons.

The magazine estimates production of ingots and castings last week at 2,640,000 net tons, slightly changed from the preceding week's 2,645,000 tons, "and 18.4 per cent above the 2,229,000 tons made in the same 1965 week when inventories were being liquidated."

Steel also noted that so far this year, 23 per cent of all steel has been produced through the basic oxygen furnace process, compared to 17.4 per cent all last year.

The magazine's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting scrap dropped 17 cents to $28.50 a gross ton last week.

3 Prisoners Escape At West Virginia Jail

PARSONS, W.Va. (AP) — Three prisoners pried off a door and pushed down a wall at the Tucker County Jail Sunday to flee from the jail's second floor. Sheriff Carl Hedrick said seven other prisoners could have fled, but didn't.

The jail adjoins Hedrick's house and the men escaped while he was preparing to serve them breakfast.

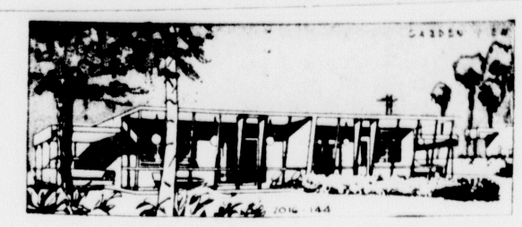
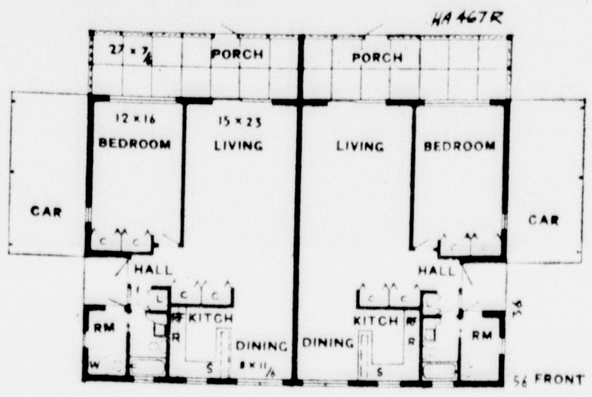
Given Dental Award

CLEVELAND (AP)—An Akron dentist was presented the Ohio College of Podiatry's first award for outstanding service in professional practice management. The award was presented Sunday night to Dr. Robert K. Stinaff at a dinner at the Wade Park Manor.





THIS DUPLEX HAS FIVE ROOMS plus a porch and carport for each unit. There is 1,800 square feet of livable space for each unit. The symmetrical floor plan is built around an 8 inch thick masonry wall. Each unit contains a large cross-ventilated living-dining room, bedroom, U-type kitchen and a service room accessible from the outside. Sliding glass doors connect the living and the sleeping areas with the screened porch. The 8 foot by 11½ foot dining room can be separated from the living area by a folding partition. It Very Often Pays Off To Save Your Old Junk

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It may be junk to you, but to someone else it's a pile of useful material.

Odds and ends of lumber left after the house was built, pieces of pipe, lengths of screen. Or if you have bought an old house, it is likely that basement, garage and attic are crammed with things about which the first impulse is to throw them out.

Resist the impulse. Fight off your wife's demands that everything be hauled out without looking twice at any of it.

If you don't resist, your first moment of regret will come when you pay the bill at the lumbervard for a piece or two of lumber that you could easily have salvaged from that pile of boards squirreled away in the attic. But then it's too late.

—:—

OBVIOUSLY, you can't save everything, nor should you try. Junk needs sorting. Even then it's wise to live with it awhile until you know what is there. It also needs proper storing.

Don't wait until you need those old gate hinges to dress up a door. Pull them off now, clean them, and store them away. In a building supply house they call these antique hinges and you pay a premium for them.

Lumber is tricky. First of all save nothing that shows signs of rotting. Do not save pieces that are split or badly warped. Size is no criterion.

A small piece of wood can be used for a wedge or brace. Cut off badly damaged ends. Pull nails. You will have to pull them eventually and meanwhile it will make the lumber safer and easier to handle. Store it in an out of the way place that is dry.

Do not store it where there might be danger of fire. There should be ventilation. A few strips of lumber nailed across the rafters under the garage roof will serve as a support to store all the longer pieces.

DON'T IGNORE special cuts of lumber — siding, flooring, molding and such. Sometimes these need replacing and only a small piece is needed. If you tried to buy it you would discover that you had to buy a full length.

What about an old shed that is being torn down? Most of the lumber will be usable. Sort it, clean it up and store it. It could make attractive, weathered paneling in a remodeling project.

Fence, chicken wire and sometimes screening are bought by the roll and generally there's a length left over. Save it. If you need a piece, it will save your having to buy a whole roll.

Chicken wire is great around the garden to keep out small animals and around young trees to keep them from chewing the bark. Extra screening is good for repairs and can be used to sift top soil.

OLD STORM doors and window frames may seem useless but they are not. Make a framework of lumber and set it on the ground, put the door or window on top and you have a cold frame. Or prop the window or door against the house and use plastic on the sides.

Pipes may look rusty, but they may be sound. Throw away badly bent lengths and save the rest. Even if you don't need it for plumbing, consider how useful a piece of pipe is as a brace for a young tree.

A partial package of roof shingles should not be discarded. You never know when you may need one or two to repair the roof after a storm.

That's the thing about most so-called junk — you never know.

Wood 'Coloring' Tips Are Offered

AP Newsfeatures

Question: Some time ago I saw a piece of pine furniture in a department store. It had a kind of pastel pink color, but you could see through it right to the wood. I now have purchased a similar piece of furniture made from what appears to be the same kind of pine. How can I color it yet not hide the surface of the wood?

Answer: This can be done in a number of ways. One of the best is to use a ready-made oil stain of the desired shade. Test it first on the underside of the furniture to be sure you get the tone you want. Adding a little turpentine will make the stain a bit lighter than it is.

But the shade can be controlled by the length of time it is left on the wood. Brush it on, then wipe it off in about 10 seconds. If the wood hasn't darkened sufficiently, allow a 30-second interval between the application and the wiping. Experiment until you get the shade you want, then go ahead with the full job.

After the stain is thoroughly dry (wait 12 hours or more if possible), give the furniture a coat of sealer. When that is dry, apply two coats of varnish or whatever finishing material you have selected. Incidentally, don't forget the sanding of the wood before you begin—no matter how smooth the piece of furniture appears to be. Wipe off all traces of grit, then go ahead.

100,000 Waiting

BOMBAY, India (AP) — A telephone official told newsmen 300,000 persons were on the waiting list for telephones five years ago. The list had grown to 400,000 when India began its new five-year economic development plan in 1966, he said.

Hole In One At 11

AUCKLAND (AP) — Golfers begin holing out in one at an early age in New Zealand. Evelyn year-old Ashton Johnston, of Flemington, scored a 110-yarder at the 12th in the Central Hawke's Bay junior tournament at Waipukurau recently. His 18-hole total was 123.

Construction Plans Offered For Clever Breakfast Nook

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Flexible, half-inch-thick finishing strip and plywood will enable anyone to build a comfortable and good-looking circular breakfast nook.

The job starts with the building of a plain frame of 2-by-4 common studding worked into a box-frame. The base of this frame is nailed securely into the floor and the inner horizontal members nailed to the walls.

A good height for the seat is 18 inches and the best width the same, but these dimensions may be changed to work into space restrictions.

When the frame is finished, the front is sheathed with plywood bent in an arc and the seat covered in like manner. Another sheet is bent in corresponding style to furnish the back and the open frame ends are covered. Half-inch finishing strip is used for both top and bottom face moldings and to finish the frame edges.

The upholstering is probably the most difficult part of the work, but it can be done neatly if the inside edge of the material is turned up and tacked in place first, the wadding then laid and the fabric drawn down tight over the curved face and tacked into place. The half-inch molding will hide the raw edge.

The wadding of the seat may be done in several ways. Old blankets or quilts are ideal and have the advantage of not bunching; cotton wadding also may be laid in several layers. Even standard insulating batts or blankets make excellent upholstery backing.

When the assembly is painted or finished to conform to the general color scheme of the walls and trim, and the seat material in keeping, the unit is most attractive.

A half-moon table which will fit into the circular seat may be cut of half-inch plywood, reinforced with the strip and fitted with three legs. In many cases a portable or folding table is used instead of one particularly designed for the seat.

October Steel Picture Good

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel production has been edging downward for three weeks, but the present rate is high enough to make October's output second only to the record set in October, 1964, Steel Magazine said today.

Last week's production was estimated at 2.6 million tons, compared with 2,615,000 in the preceding week and down only 2.6 per cent from three weeks ago, the weekly journal of metalworking said.

Steel finishing is continuing almost unabated, and the let-up is primarily in ingot production, Steel said. "Ordering by the automotive industry has not been up to the level steel companies had expected," the magazine added.

"It's becoming apparent that automakers will operate on narrow inventories while they appraise sales prospects for 1967 models," Steel said. And building construction requirements are beginning to slow seasonally.

A growing tonnage of steel is going into defense business indirectly, although direct defense orders take only 2 to 4 per cent of production, steelmakers reported to the magazine.

Service centers are buying actively, with accent on plates, structurals and other heavy products, Steel said.

"The U. S. Steel industry is faring better than some producers abroad," the magazine noted. "West German and other European mills reportedly have a significant amount of unbooked capacity."

The magazine's 31-member panel of economic consultants issued its fall prediction of upcoming business conditions and foresaw 1967's business topping this year's, but with a slightly slackened growth rate.

The panel predicted gross national product would gain 6 per cent, against an 8 per cent gain this year; capital spending will persist with wholesale prices rising 2.5 per cent against an expected 3.4 per cent rise in 1966.

"About two-thirds of the panelists look for steel ingot output to decline to 132 million tons next year, following this year's estimated 134 million net tons," Steel said.

Steel's composite on No. 1 heavy melting grade scrap was down 17 cents last week to $28.33 a ton, due chiefly to a decline at the Pittsburgh market.

Suggestions Are Given On Many Types Of Tile

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Confused by the many types and varieties of ceramic tile now on the market? Here's an attempt to clear up the situation a bit.

Probably the best known ceramic tile is that we customarily see on bathroom floors.

They are known as ceramic mosaics and usually are ¼-inch thick and less than 6 square inches in diameter. Once they were known simply as "floor tile," but today they have many uses.

Also, once they came only unglazed; now they can be purchased glazed and in a wide range of colors. Ceramic mosaics are so small that it would be a difficult job to install them one by one.

Therefore, manufacturers usually mount them on sheets which permit the installation of groups of tiles at one time. Although most ceramic mosaics we see on floors are square or rectangular, you can buy triangular or other shapes for special installations.

The next best-known ceramic is glazed wall tile. It has a glass-like surface which is fused to the basic tile by firing at temperatures of about 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit in special ovens. The glazes can be bright or with a reduced gloss or with a texture. There is also a heavy-duty glazed wall tile.

These tiles come in many sizes, the most usual of which are 4¼ inches by 4¼ inches and 6 inches by 6 inches.

Quarry tile, used principally for floors, both inside and outside, come in 6-inch squares. Most people think they can be purchased only in an earthy red color, but they are available in several other colors, with patterned and textured designs.

Some persons make the mistake of purchasing ceramic tiles and then spending a lot of time rounding edges and trying to reshape tiles to fit in corners. For a little extra, they can buy specially shaped pieces of tiles that will perform those functions. Furthermore, the finished job will have a far more professional appearance.

It is a moot point, even within the industry, whether the installation of ceramic tile is for the do-it-yourselfer. One thing is sure. The home handyman who works with ceramic tile these days has a big advantage over the one who handled it years ago.

This is because he can use the relatively new dry-set mortar, especially suitable for masonry or concrete surfaces. It does away with the old method of soaking each tile in water to prevent it from drawing moisture from the mortar.

Ralph Bunche's Daughter Falls Or Jumps To Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Jane Pierce, daughter of Nobel Peace prize-winner Ralph J. Bunche, fell or jumped to her death from her apartment residence in the Riverdale section of the Bronx.

The fully clothed body of Mrs. Pierce, 33, and mother of three children, was found early Sunday in the courtyard of the nine-story building.

It was not known from what height she fell. The Pierces live on the first floor. No notes were found. An autopsy report said she was killed by a fall from "a good height."

The body was found by Samuel Salamon, the building superintendent. He told police that he had heard a roof alarm go off, went to investigate, but found no one there. The alarm is set to sound when the roof door opens. When he checked the outside of the building he discovered Mrs. Pierce.

Mrs. Pierce's husband, Burton, returned home from a night football game to find his wife missing. He awakened their daughter, Karen, 9, who told him she thought her mother was visiting friends. It was then that the superintendent reported finding the body.

The Pierces were married in September, 1956. Their other two children are Nina, 4, and John, 7.

Pierce, an alumnus of Cornell University, is a labor relations executive.

Bunche is United Nations undersecretary for special political affairs.

Suggestions Are Given On Many Types Of Tile

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Confused by the many types and varieties of ceramic tile now on the market? Here's an attempt to clear up the situation a bit.

Probably the best known ceramic tile is that we customarily see on bathroom floors.

They are known as ceramic mosaics and usually are ¼-inch thick and less than 6 square inches in diameter. Once they were known simply as "floor tile," but today they have many uses.

Also, once they came only unglazed; now they can be purchased glazed and in a wide range of colors. Ceramic mosaics are so small that it would be a difficult job to install them one by one.

Therefore, manufacturers usually mount them on sheets which permit the installation of groups of tiles at one time. Although most ceramic mosaics we see on floors are square or rectangular, you can buy triangular or other shapes for special installations.

The next best - known ceramic is glazed wall tile. It has a glass-like surface which is fused to the basic tile by firing at temperatures of about 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit in special ovens. The glazes can be bright or with a reduced gloss or with a texture. There is also a heavy-duty glazed wall tile.

These tiles come in many sizes, the most usual of which are 4¼ inches by 4¼ inches and 6 inches by 6 inches.

Quarry tile, used principally for floors, both inside and outside, come in 6-inch squares. Most people think they can be purchased only in an earthy red color, but they are available in several other colors, with patterned and textured designs.

Some persons make the mistake of purchasing ceramic tiles and then spending a lot of time rounding edges and trying to reshape tiles to fit in corners. For a little extra, they can buy specially shaped pieces of tiles that will perform those functions. Furthermore, the finished job will have a far more professional appearance.

It is a moot point, even within the industry, whether the installation of ceramic tile is for the do-it-yourselfer. One thing is sure. The home handyman who works with ceramic tile these days has a big advantage over the one who handled it years ago.

This is because he can use the relatively new dry - set mortar, especially suitable for masonry or concrete surfaces. It does away with the old method of soaking each tile in water to prevent it from drawing moisture from the mortar.

Construction Plans Offered For Clever Breakfast Nook

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Flexible, half-inch-thick finishing strip and plywood will enable anyone to build a comfortable and good-looking circular breakfast nook.

The job starts with the building of a plain frame of 2-by-4 common studding worked into a box-frame. The base of this frame is nailed securely into the floor and the inner horizontal members nailed to the walls.

A good height for the seat is 18 inches and the best width the same, but these dimensions may be changed to work into space restrictions.

When the frame is finished, the front is sheathed with plywood bent in an arc and the seat covered in like manner. Another sheet is bent in corresponding style to furnish the back and the open frame ends are covered. Half-inch finishing strip is used for both top and bottom face moldings and to finish the frame edges.

The upholstering is probably the most difficult part of the work, but it can be done neatly if the inside edge of the material is turned up and tacked in place first, the wadding then laid and the fabric drawn down tight over the curved face and tacked into place. The half-inch molding will hide the raw edge.

The wadding of the seat may be done in several ways. Old blankets or quilts are ideal and have the advantage of not bunching; cotton wadding also may be laid in several layers. Even standard insulating batts or blankets make excellent upholstery backing.

When the assembly is painted or finished to conform to the general color scheme of the walls and trim, and the seat material in keeping, the unit is most attractive.

A half-moon table which will fit into the circular seat may be cut of half-inch plywood, reinforced with the strip and fitted with three legs. In many cases a portable or folding table is used instead of one particularly designed for the seat.

October Steel Picture Good

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel production has been edging downward for three weeks, but the present rate is high enough to make October's output second only to the record set in October, 1964, Steel Magazine said today.

Last week's production was estimated at 2.6 million tons, compared with 2,615,000 in the preceding week and down only 2.6 per cent from three weeks ago, the weekly journal of metalworking said.

Steel finishing is continuing almost unabated, and the let-up is primarily in ingot production, Steel said. "Ordering by the automotive industry has not been up to the level steel companies had expected," the magazine added.

"It's becoming apparent that automakers will operate on narrow inventories while they appraise sales prospects for 1967 models," Steel said. And building construction requirements are beginning to slow seasonally.

A growing tonnage of steel is going into defense business indirectly, although direct defense orders take only 2 to 4 per cent of production, steelmakers reported to the magazine.

Service centers are buying actively, with accent on plates, structurals and other heavy products, Steel said.

"The U. S. Steel industry is faring better than some producers abroad," the magazine noted. "West German and other European mills reportedly have a significant amount of unbooked capacity."

The magazine's 31 - member panel of economic consultants issued its fall prediction of upcoming business conditions and foresaw 1967's business topping this year's, but with a slightly slackened growth rate.

The panel predicted gross national product would gain 6 per cent, against an 8 per cent gain this year; capital spending will persist with wholesale prices rising 2.5 per cent against an expected 3.4 per cent rise in 1966.

"About two-thirds of the panelists look for steel ingot output to decline to 132 million tons next year, following this year's estimated 134 million net tons," Steel said.

Steel's composite on No. 1 heavy melting grade scrap was down 17 cents last week to $28.33 a ton, due chiefly to a decline at the Pittsburgh market.

Ralph Bunche's Daughter Falls Or Jumps To Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Jane Pierce, daughter of Nobel Peace prize-winner Ralph J. Bunche, fell or jumped to her death from her apartment residence in the Riverdale section of the Bronx.

The fully clothed body of Mrs. Pierce, 33, and mother of three children, was found early Sunday in the courtyard of the nine-story building.

It was not known from what height she fell. The Pierces live on the first floor. No notes were found. An autopsy report said she was killed by a fall from "a good height."

The body was found by Samuel Salamon, the building superintendent. He told police that he had heard a roof alarm go off, went to investigate, but found no one there. The alarm is set to sound when the roof door opens. When he checked the outside of the building he discovered Mrs. Pierce.

Mrs. Pierce's husband, Burton, returned home from a night football game to find his wife missing. He awakened their daughter, Karen, 9, who told him she thought her mother was visiting friends. It was then that the superintendent reported finding the body.

The Pierces were married in September, 1956. Their other two children are Nina, 4, and John, 7.

Pierce, an alumnus of Cornell University, is a labor relations executive.

Bunche is United Nations undersecretary for special political affairs.

Nottingham Sheriff Pardons Robin Hood

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — Robin Hood has been granted an official pardon seven centuries after the last wanted notices for him decorated the trees of Sherwood Forest.

The pardon was signed by the sheriff of Nottingham, Elliott Durham, one of the long line of successors to Robin's greatest enemy.

Hotel Executive Dies

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Richard A. Klaerner, 57, president of the National Hotel Co., a chain of 24 hotels in the eastern two-thirds of the nation, died Sunday after several months' illness.

Key Polish Officials Begin Moscow Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — Poland's top leaders arrived in Moscow today for talks on Viet Nam, China and other subjects.

The talks are part of a series of Soviet consultations with East European allies. With some signs pointing to improved East-West relations on subjects other than Viet Nam, there has been diplomatic speculation that some change on Viet Nam might be in the offing, but there has not been any evidence of this.

Dear Folks: Before laying your own wall to wall carpets, especially runners on stairways and in halls.

Test which way the nap runs!

All you have to do is take a broom or your hand and sweep or rub the carpeting gently. The direction the nap runs well show immediately. It will rub or sweep hard one way and easy another. The rug will also shade just a little.

Don't lay the rug with the nap running the wrong way.

Always lay carpets with the nap running in the direction in which you ordinarily sweep.

In your hall, on a stairway or in the living or bedroom, always lay it with the nap running toward the door . . . or down a staircase or toward the entrance where you collect the dust in a long hall.

This not only prevents imbedded dust in your carpet, but it is far easier to clean it. Sure saves energy and your carpet in the long run.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a really free item:

Remove the corks that come in pop bottle caps. Let them dry out thoroughly. Then glue on the bottom of your ash trays, vases, or anything that may scratch your table tops. They can also be cut into different shapes to fit things like picture frame corners, etc.

DOLOROS C. DONATELLI.

DEAR HELOISE: When you use tomatoes in sliced meat sandwiches, slice your tomatoes thin and sandwich them in between your meat slices.

This way your bread does not become soggy when left wrapped for any amount of time.

MRS. A. PARKER

DEAR HELOISE: I find that instead of doing Spring and Fall cleaning, if a room is done each month, it is much easier than doing it all at once.

If you have six rooms, your whole house is still done twice a year.

GRACE M. WHIPPLE.

DEAR HELOISE: We love nylon net pompons at our house. We use them for dishes and also use them as wash cloths—real good for scrubbing children.

I make miniature pompons for my older daughter to use as complexion brushes.

AUDREY MENTH

DEAR HELOISE: In one of your articles, you suggested laying a towel on an old screen and drying sweaters on this.

Why not use nylon net—more than one layer if necessary.

The air can get through the net more easily than through a towel, thus hastening the drying of the sweater.

MRS. LOIS MUNGELLO.

DEAR HELOISE: I was given a pair of down pillows, but they have a slightly musty smell.

Is it possible to laundry them, and if so, what is the best method?

MRS. L.C.M

The following is information we received from the Cleanliness Bureau, and I think it is very good advice:

"Pillows filled with feathers, down, Acrilan, Dacron, or Orlon can be laundered and dried by machine.

"To balance the washer load, wash two pillows at a time or add clean towels.

"With feather filling, use extra soap or detergent because feathers cause the suds to die down quickly.

"Pillows tend to float on the surface of water, so turn them over during washing, if possible, to give both sides a thorough sudsing.

"Rinse well, then dryer-dry them at a LOW setting, or hang them out on a breezy day in the shade, NOT for a prolonged time in hot sunlight. Shape and punch pillows several times during the drying to plump up and fluff the filling."

HELOISE

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

'Dial-Prayer' Service Gives Spiritual Solace

SYDNEY (AP) — Since its inception in 1961, Sydney's "dial-a-prayer" service has provided spiritual solace to nearly 1,350,000 telephone callers.

The service, originated in Sydney by the Seventh Day Adventist Church has now spread to all states of Australia, New Zealand, England and Europe.

The prayers are pre-recorded by Pastor H. W. Kingston and changed every day. They are distributed by five telephone lines connected to a suburban home.

For some reason unknown to Church spokesmen, telephone callers have made most use of the service in May each year.

Why Are You Here? Loudspeakers Shout

GANGTOK, Sikkim (AP) — Chinese troops facing Indian soldiers on the frontier of this Indian protectorate high in the Himalayas are asking, with loudspeakers a disturbing question.

"Why are you here?" they shout.

Indian officials say this is disturbing because it implies a Chinese claim to territory India has pledged to protect and is reminiscent of Chinese propaganda that preceded the 1962 China-India border war.

Does The Club Fly Aircraft Or Kites?

NEW DELHI (AP) — In response to a question, Aviation minister C. M. Poonacha told Parliament the government could not at this time provide a flying club in Salem, in south-central India, with an airstrip.

"How then does the club operate? asked Arjun Arora, a member of Parliament. "Do they fly aircraft or kites?"

Poonacha asked for time to study the situation before replying again.

Freezing Technique Study Set In Cancer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. William G. Pace III of the Ohio State University medical faculty will direct a three-year study of effects of cryogenic—freezing—techniques applied to malignant cancer tissue in the body.

A $100,000 grant from the John A. Hartford Foundation, New York City, announced over the weekend will finance the tests. Using a slim surgical rod to apply temperatures as low as 200 below zero centigrade, Pace says, "we are hoping to leave frozen and dead cancer cells in the body to determine whether the body can build immunity."

NEW DELHI (AP) — City authorities are considering the request of a New Delhi businessman for the allotment of land on which he plans to build the capital's first drive-in theater.

Beer Trucks Rolling As Pact Ends Walkout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wholesale beer deliveries were set to resume in Columbus today after being stopped nearly two weeks because of the strike of Brewery Workers Local 47.

A ratification vote, 92-44, Sunday on a new contract with 12 Columbus area distributors sent the 190 union members—truck drivers, driver helpers and warehousemen—back to work. Details of the pact were not disclosed but a union spokesman said the distributors relented in their effort to abolish a load limit for delivery trucks.

Don't lay the rug with the nap running the wrong way.

Always lay carpets with the nap running in the direction in which you ordinarily sweep.

In your hall, on a stairway or in the living or bedroom, always lay it with the nap running toward the door . . . or down a staircase or toward the entrance where you collect the dust in a long hall.

This not only prevents imbedded dust in your carpet, but it is far easier to clean it. Sure saves energy and your carpet in the long run.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a really tree item:

Remove the corks that come in pop bottle caps. Let them dry out thoroughly. Then glue on the bottom of your ash trays, vases, or anything that may scratch your table tops. They can also be cut into different shapes to fit things like picture frame corners, etc.

DOLOROS C. DONATELLI.

DEAR HELOISE: When you use tomatoes in sliced meat sandwiches, slice your tomatoes thin and sandwich them in between your meat slices.

This way your bread does not become soggy when left wrapped for any amount of time.

MRS. A. PARKER

DEAR HELOISE: I find that instead of doing Spring and Fall cleaning, if a room is done each month, it is much easier than doing it all at once.

If you have six rooms, your whole house is still done twice a year.

GRACE M. WHIPPLE.

DEAR HELOISE: We love nylon net pompons at our house. We use them for dishes and also use them as wash cloths—real good for scrubbing children.

I make miniature pompons for my older daughter to use as complexion brushes.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: In one of your articles, you suggested laying a towel on an old screen and drying sweaters on this.

Why not use nylon net—more than one layer if necessary.

The air can get through the net more easily than through a towel, thus hastening the drying of the sweater.

MRS. LOIS MUNGELLO.

DEAR HELOISE: I was given a pair of down pillows, but they have a slightly musty smell.

Is it possible to laundry them, and if so, what is the best method?

MRS. L.C.M.

The following is information we received from the Cleanliness Bureau, and I think it is very good advice:

"Pillows filled with feathers, down, Acrilan, Dacron, or Orlon can be laundered and dried by machine.

"To balance the washer load, wash two pillows at a time or add clean towels.

"With feather filling, use extra soap or detergent because feathers cause the suds to die down quickly.

"Pillows tend to float on the surface of water, so turn them over during washing, if possible, to give both sides a thorough sudsing.

"Rinse well, then dryer-dry them at a LOW setting, or hang them out on a breezy day in the shade, NOT for a prolonged time in hot sunlight. Shape and punch pillows several times during the drying to plump up and fluff the filling."

HELOISE

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Freezing Technique Study Set In Cancer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. William G. Pace III of the Ohio State University medical faculty will direct a three-year study of effects of cryogenic—freezing—techniques applied to malignant cancer tissue in the body.

A $100,000 grant from the John A. Hartford Foundation, New York City, announced over the weekend will finance the tests. Using a slim surgical rod to apply temperatures as low as 200 below zero centigrade, Pace says, "we are hoping to leave frozen and dead cancer cells in the body to determine whether the body can build immunity."

Beer Trucks Rolling As Pact Ends Walkout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wholesale beer deliveries were set to resume in Columbus today after being stopped nearly two weeks because of the strike of Brewery Workers Local 47.

A ratification vote, 92-44, Sunday on a new contract with 12 Columbus area distributors sent the 190 union members—truck drivers, driver helpers and warehousemen—back to work. Details of the pact were not disclosed but a union spokesman said the distributors relented in their effort to abolish a load limit for delivery trucks.

'Dial-Prayer' Service Gives Spiritual Solace

SYDNEY (AP) — Since its inception in 1961, Sydney's "dial-a-prayer" service has provided spiritual solace to nearly 1,350,000 telephone callers.

The service, originated in Sydney by the Seventh Day Adventist Church has now spread to all states of Australia, New Zealand, England and Europe.

The prayers are pre-recorded by Pastor H. W. Kingston and changed every day. They are distributed by five telephone lines connected to a suburban home.

For some reason unknown to Church spokesmen, telephone callers have made most use of the service in May each year.

Why Are You Here? Loudspeakers Shout

GANGTOK, Sikkim (AP) — Chinese troops facing Indian soldiers on the frontier of this Indian protectorate high in the Himalayas are asking, with loudspeakers a disturbing question.

"Why are you here?" they shout.

Indian officials say this is disturbing because it implies a Chinese claim to territory India has pledged to protect and is reminiscent of Chinese propaganda that preceded the 1962 China-India border war.

Does The Club Fly Aircraft Or Kites?

NEW DELHI (AP) — In response to a question, Aviation minister C. M. Poonacha told Parliament the government could not at this time provide a flying club in Salem, in south-central India, with an airstrip.

"How then does the club operate? asked Arjun Arora, a member of Parliament. "Do they fly aircraft or kites?"

Poonacha asked for time to study the situation before replying again.

Relieve Your Tensions: Watch TV

Brutal and unnecessary violence is back in style on our TV screens this season. More than a third of the new series are employing physical mayhem as the climactic point in the story lines.

Hal Humphrey

Some producers blame the violence revival on the networks and major sponsors, who they say are constantly demanding "more action." Other producers defend themselves with that old wheeze about TV being simply a reflection of our society. They've rather gleefully added to this reflection the Viet Nam war with its ever-increasing battle-scene coverage by the network news programs.

WALTER GRAUMAN, executive producer of ABC's "Felony Squad," disagrees with those of us who think these heavy TV dosages of violence are creating a bad social effect. He says it offers "nonparticipants" a release for their pent-up hostilities and repressed emotions.

"We've seen how more and more people are afraid of involving themselves in what's going on today. Look at those 37 people, or however many it was, who watched while the Genovese girl was slain on a New York street.

"I think this bottling up of involvement is causing anxiety and frustration. The vicarious involvement we get from watching a hero's involvement on a TV or movie screen helps to relieve these anxieties," Grauman elaborates.

THE NOTED psychiatrist and author Fredric Wertham insists there is more contagion created by TV and movie violence than release of hostility, and his latest book "A Sign for Cain" is another condemnation of TV as one of the major instructors in the "school for violence."

Most of us, I believe, would side with Wertham in this debate. I got bogged down discussing it with producer Grauman because he looks upon vicarious violence as a kind of mental therapy, while Wertham and others have convinced me that so-called fictional violence breeds the real thing.

Also, I cannot buy Grauman's thesis that what is on our TV screens is more a reflection of our society than the hyped-up inventions of TV writers, producers and networks looking for higher ratings through sensational violence.

GRAUMAN TALKS about TV's obligation to "deal with the facts of life," but I see very little on my TV screen which has any resemblance to the life I know and read about.

Because he is dealing with cops in his Felony Squad series, Grauman may have more of a license to depict brutal beatings and cold-blooded shootings than some of the other series, but a series called DRAGNET (which is about to be revived) showed very little actual bodily violence and was a hit for several seasons.

The brand of violence being displayed on TV now is often sadistic and senseless, as witnessed on a recent episode of NBC's "THE Cat," in which a man was pinned to a door and stabbed at least twice.

He is seen later in a hospital (and these were supposed to be efficient killers), but got stabbed again in his bed by two more killers posing as police. The whole thing was so ridiculous that the "action" or violence had to be relied upon to hold any viewer's interest.

THE MURDERED MAN in that story wasn't even a bad man. The "bad man" theory is usually used by producers to excuse some violence, and generally the "badder" he is, the more justification for seeing that his end is brutally merciless.

Although it is difficult to find a stuntman who'll admit it, the fights seen on TV today are generally longer and rougher than ever before. The karate blow, growing ever more popular, is excused on the grounds that the camera never shows the actual punishment resulting from such a blow.

Isn't it nice to know that TV producers are sparing us the sight of a broken neck? Switchblade knives are out now, too, I'm told. For some reason, however, straight daggers are okay. We can only hope that our corner hardware store didn't go overboard in stocking switchblades.

Lutheran Official Inducted In Ohio

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)— The president of the Lutheran Church in America, Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, officially inducted Dr. John W. Rilling as the denomination's Ohio synod president Sunday night.

Dr. Rilling, formerly of Wittenberg University's Hamma School of Theology, and Dr. E. Rudolph Walborn of Columbus were installed in ceremonies at Wittenberg's Weaver Chapel for four-year terms as synod president and secretary, respectively. The synod has 337 congregations with nearly 190,000 baptized members and is headquartered in Columbus.

The U.S. Foreign Service numbers 3,620 officers staffing 111 embassies and 152 consulates.

POSSOM FINDS HOME. Eleven-year-old Douglas Decker, of Hamptonburgh, N. Y., uses a tiny doll's baby bottle to feed milk to a possom that is only a few days old. Donald came to the rescue after the possom's mother was killed by a car.

A Moscow Car Dealer Attacks Soviet System

MOSCOW (AP) — One of Moscow's three car dealers has come out with a scathing criticism of the way cars and parts are sold here.

V. Osiko, director of the car and parts distribution center near Yelokhovka Cathedral, voiced his complaint in the popular Moscow newspaper Vechernaya Moskva — Evening Moscow. He said his showroom is too small and always overcrowded.

"Many people coming in are surprised to find out how long the procedure is," he said.

"You have to wait in line to make an application. You leave a postcard with your address. You wait. Finally you are invited to come back.

"But not to get your car. First, you have to pay for it."

Osiko did not mention the prices, but they are high. A $4,000 Moskvich is smaller than an American compact. Other models are similarly expensive.

Despite this and the many difficulties involved, the Soviet public shows every intention of bringing a full-fledged car civilization to this country. Passenger car production is scheduled to rise from 200,000 last year to 800,000 in 1970.

The director said the buyer had another wait of some months after paying his money.

When the buyer finally drives off in his new car, his troubles are not over.

"You discover you need a spare part," Osiko said. "Something simple, like a float for a carburetor or glass for your tail light. Something that should cost only a few kopecks.

"But it is impossible to find this on our shelves."

Osiko said the shortages arise because all spare parts are given to a giant combine called Zelkholz Tekhnika and "this organization, naturally, provides first for its own branches. What is left goes to retail outlets. Unfortunately, this is very little."

Four Ohioans Are Killed As 1 Of 3 Planes Crashes

HUDSON, Mich. (AP) — Tragedy marred the flying trip of nine Circleville, Ohio, residents near here Sunday as they returned home in three separate aircraft—one after the other in a loose formation.

Unknown to those aboard the first two planes, the third airplane, a single-engine Stinson, plunged to the ground killing four Circleville residents.

The victims of the crash were Bobby Miller, the pilot; and his wife Norma, both 39; Marvin Maxon, 33, and his wife Margaret.

Pilots of the first two planes, discovering the three craft had lost contact with each other, turned back and landed at Reynolds Field in Jackson.

"I expected the third airplane to be on the ground," said Leon Ostrander, 50, a Circleville salesman who was piloting the first plane.

"We found out what had happened almost immediately," Ostrander said.

The party of nine persons had left Circleville Saturday morning, to visit a friend at a cottage in Hessel, near Sault Ste. Marie, in Michigan's upper peninsula.

An investigation was ordered by state police to determine cause of the crash.

The plane snapped a power line when it plunged to the ground, cutting off electricity for a period to a large section.

Miller, who had about 150 hours flying experience, was manager of a City Savings branch in Circleville. Maxon, also a licensed pilot, was a barber in the town. Miller had two daughters. The Maxsons had a 12-year-old daughter.

Along with the other pilot, Jim Phelps, of Circleville, the men had joint interests in a small airfield at Circleville.

All nine persons had been "very good friends for at least two years," Ostrander said. "All the others in the party rented a car and drove home Sunday night," he said.

Plans for a tunnel under the English Channel date back to 1856. The channel varies in width from 22 to 150 miles, and its depth at the deepest point is 360 feet. Chief obstacles to the project are the prohibitive cost of ventilation and the great difficulties which would be involved in dealing with accidents or breakdowns in the tunnel.

Clinton Group Seeks Delay In Airport Step

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)— The Clinton County Farm Bureau Federation has passed a resolution to keep farmland from being taken over by the proposed Clinton County Airport.

The resolution, adopted last weekend, calls for "more intensive study of possible utilization of the present air field facilities in Clinton County before any land is acquired for development of an air strip." The Clinton County Air Force Base two miles southeast of Wilmington is now used largely by the Ohio Air National Guard.

British Transport Chief To See How U.S. Does It

LONDON (AP) — Barbara Castle, 55, buoyant redhead, wept when Prime Minister Wilson appointed her British transport minister.

"But I can't even drive a car," she reportedly told Wilson.

It was her last excuse to avoid leaving a job in the Overseas Development Ministry to head the Transport Ministry — the traditional "hot seat" in ministerial appointments.

But today Mrs. Castle begins a 12-day tour of the United States to study transportation developments in San Francisco, Los Angeles, New York, Boston and Washington.

Enthusiasm is her big quality. She throws her energy completely into everything she undertakes.

"When you're a woman in politics, you have to prove yourself three times over — you can't be average," she says.

"It was tough at times, but never in my whole life have I felt like giving up politics," she added.

Political observers say Wilson knew what he was doing when he gave Mrs. Castle the nation's complex and frequently snarled traffic problems.

The task of managing Britain's often antiquated road and rail system is one vitally tied in with the big rescue operation which Wilson seeks for the ailing economy.

Mrs. Castle put it in a nutshell when she told newsmen after her appointment in December last year: "The problems are there for us to see. We live with them. The misery of the computer, the death toll on the road and the fact that traffic will come to a standstill unless we have some new ideas."

She is married to a British newsman. They have no children.

Mrs. Castle says she often falls back on her husband, Ted, for consolation when the going gets rough.

"I sit there moaning 'I'm a failure, I'm a failure,' she says, "until he can't stand it any longer and shouts, 'All right, you're a failure, now shut up.'"

'London Was Mess,' New York Aide Finds

LONDON (AP) — If misery loves company, then Londoners, strangling in their motor snarls, felt a little better when they read New York Traffic Commissioner Henry Barnes' remark:

"London was such a mess that it made me feel real good to come back to our own chaos."

Barnes came here to inspect London's traffic and its attempted solutions. His tart comments drew many a "Yeah, yeah, amen!" response.

Some of Britain's best brains are working on traffic problems.

One of their handiest solutions is to push more people underground. The new Victoria-Oxford Circus subway link is being rushed to completion.

The number of buses is being reduced — has been for more than a decade.

But the London transport authority wails: "Even if large sums are spent on London's road network, the buses generally cannot be expected to run significantly better as a result of the construction program alone. There will be too many other vehicles trying to use the highways."

The Ministry of Health says Britain has halted its population explosion. The birth rate has fallen for the first time since 1955.

But back to Barnes. He told New York correspondents of British papers: "What London needs is somebody in a position like mine — with over-all authority to make any regulation deemed necessary for traffic control. In London there are too many fingers in the pie."

But Barnes had compliments for Britons. He found London drivers "excellent and extremely polite." The New York traffic czar was quoted.

West Coast School Hit By $200,000 Fire

ZILLAH, Wash. (AP) — Chief Elmer Schultz of the Zillah rural fire department visited Zillah elementary school last Thursday to lecture on fire prevention.

Sunday, the first day of Fire Prevention Week, he was back again — to fight a fire.

The blaze destroyed 10 of the school's 13 classrooms, a library and an office despite efforts of three fire departments. Damage was estimated at $200,000.

How Did He Do It?

NEW DELHI (AP) — City police had little trouble recovering an item stolen from a suburban Indian Air Force base. They found the item, a semi-trailer tanker loaded with 1,000 gallons of fuel, parked several miles from the base. Now, Air Force officials are trying to find out how the culprit got the tanker off the base.

Because he is dealing with cops in his Felony Squad series, Grauman may have more of a license to depict brutal beatings and cold-blooded shootings than some of the other series, but a series called DRAGNET (which is about to be revived) showed very little actual bodily violence and was a hit for several seasons.

The brand of violence being displayed on TV now is often sadistic and senseless, as witnessed on a recent episode of NBC's "THE Cat," in which a man was pinned to a door and stabbed at least twice.

He is seen later in a hospital (and these were supposed to be efficient killers), but got stabbed again in his bed by two more killers posing as police. The whole thing was so ridiculous that the "action" or violence had to be relied upon to hold any viewer's interest.

THE MURDERED MAN in that story wasn't even a bad man. The "bad man" theory is usually used by producers to excuse some violence, and generally the "badder" he is, the more justification for seeing that his end is brutally merciless.

Although it is difficult to find a stuntman who'll admit it, the fights seen on TV today are generally longer and rougher than ever before. The karate blow, growing ever more popular, is excused on the grounds that the camera never shows the actual punishment resulting from such a blow.

Isn't it nice to know that TV producers are sparing us the sight of a broken neck? Switchblade knives are out now, too, I'm told. For some reason, however, straight daggers are okay. We can only hope that our corner hardware store didn't go overboard in stocking switchblades.

POSSOM FINDS HOME. Eleven-year-old Douglas Decker, of Hamptonburgh, N. Y., uses a tiny doll's baby bottle to feed milk to a possom that is only a few days old. Donald came to the rescue after the possom's mother was killed by a car.

A Moscow Car Dealer Attacks Soviet System

MOSCOW (AP) — One of Moscow's three car dealers has come out with a scathing criticism of the way cars and parts are sold here.

V. Osiko, director of the car and parts distribution center near Yelokhovka Cathedral, voiced his complaint in the popular Moscow newspaper Vechernaya Moskva — Evening Moscow. He said his showroom is too small and always overcrowded.

"Many people coming in are surprised to find out how long the procedure is," he said.

"You have to wait in line to make an application. You leave a postcard with your address. You wait. Finally you are invited to come back.

"But not to get your car. First, you have to pay for it."

Osiko did not mention the prices, but they are high. A $4,000 Moskvich is smaller than an American compact. Other models are similarly expensive.

Despite this and the many difficulties involved, the Soviet public shows every intention of bringing a full-fledged car civilization to this country. Passenger car production is scheduled to rise from 200,000 last year to 800,000 in 1970.

The director said the buyer had another wait of some months after paying his money.

When the buyer finally drives off in his new car, his troubles are not over.

"You discover you need a spare part," Osiko said. "Something simple, like a float for a carburetor or glass for your tail light. Something that should cost only a few kopecks.

"But it is impossible to find this on our shelves."

Osiko said the shortages arise because all spare parts are given to a giant combine called Zelkholz Tekhnika and "this organization, naturally, provides first for its own branches. What is left goes to retail outlets. Unfortunately, this is very little."

Four Ohioans Are Killed As 1 Of 3 Planes Crashes

HUDSON, Mich. (AP) — Tragedy marred the flying trip of nine Circleville, Ohio, residents near here Sunday as they returned home in three separate aircraft—one after the other in a loose formation.

Unknown to those aboard the first two planes, the third airplane, a single-engine Stinson, plunged to the ground killing four Circleville residents.

The victims of the crash were Bobby Miller, the pilot; and his wife Norma, both 39; Marvin Maxon, 33, and his wife Margaret.

Pilots of the first two planes, discovering the three craft had lost contact with each other, turned back and landed at Reynolds Field in Jackson.

"I expected the third airplane to be on the ground," said Leon Ostrander, 50, a Circleville salesman who was piloting the first plane.

"We found out what had happened almost immediately," Ostrander said.

The party of nine persons had left Circleville Saturday morning, to visit a friend at a cottage in Hessel, near Sault Ste. Marie, in Michigan's upper peninsula.

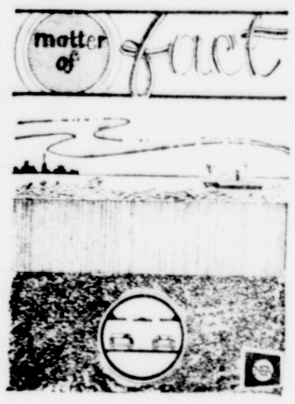
An investigation was ordered by state police to determine cause of the crash.

The plane snapped a power line when it plunged to the ground, cutting off electricity for a period to a large section.

Miller, who had about 150 hours flying experience, was manager of a City Savings branch in Circleville. Maxon, also a licensed pilot, was a barber in the town. Miller had two daughters. The Maxsons had a 12-year-old daughter.

Along with the other pilot, Jim Phelps, of Circleville, the men had joint interests in a small airfield at Circleville.

All nine persons had been "very good friends for at least two years," Ostrander said. "All the others in the party rented a car and drove home Sunday night," he said.



Plans for a tunnel under the English Channel date back to 1856. The channel varies in width from 22 to 150 miles, and its depth at the deepest point is 360 feet. Chief obstacles to the project are the prohibitive cost of ventilation and the great difficulties which would be involved in dealing with accidents or breakdowns in the tunnel.

Clinton Group Seeks Delay In Airport Step

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—The Clinton County Farm Bureau Federation has passed a resolution to keep farmland from being taken over by the proposed Clinton County Airport.

The resolution, adopted last weekend, calls for "more intensive study of possible utilization of the present air field facilities in Clinton County before any land is acquired for development of an air strip." The Clinton County Air Force Base two miles southeast of Wilmington is now used largely by the Ohio Air National Guard.

Sowers' Rites Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services are scheduled here Tuesday for Howard William Sowers, 63, assistant enforcement chief of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control. He died at home Saturday. Sowers formerly was an Ohio Highway Patrol lieutenant and a member of the original patrol training class in 1933.

British Transport Chief To See How U.S. Does It

LONDON (AP) — Barbara Castle, 55, buoyant redhead, wept when Prime Minister Wilson appointed her British transport minister.

"But I can't even drive a car," she reportedly told Wilson.

It was her last excuse to avoid leaving a job in the Overseas Development Ministry to head the Transport Ministry — the traditional "hot seat" in ministerial appointments.

But today Mrs. Castle begins a 12-day tour of the United States to study transportation developments in San Francisco, Los Angeles, New York, Boston and Washington.

Enthusiasm is her big quality. She throws her energy completely into everything she undertakes.

"When you're a woman in politics, you have to prove yourself three times over — you can't be average," she says.

"It was tough at times, but never in my whole life have I felt like giving up politics," she added.

Political observers say Wilson knew what he was doing when he gave Mrs. Castle the nation's complex and frequently snarled traffic problems.

The task of managing Britain's often antiquated road and rail system is one vitally tied in with the big rescue operation which Wilson seeks for the ailing economy.

Mrs. Castle put it in a nutshell when she told newsmen after her appointment in December last year: "The problems are there for us to see. We live with them. The misery of the computer, the death toll on the road and the fact that traffic will come to a standstill unless we have some new ideas."

She is married to a British newsman. They have no children.

Mrs. Castle says she often falls back on her husband, Ted, for consolation when the going gets rough.

"I sit there moaning 'I'm a failure, I'm a failure,' she says, "until he can't stand it any longer and shouts, 'All right, you're a failure, now shut up.'"

'London Was Mess,' New York Aide Finds

LONDON (AP) — If misery loves company, then Londoners, strangling in their motor snarls, felt a little better when they read New York Traffic Commissioner Henry Barnes' remark:

"London was such a mess that it made me feel real good to come back to our own chaos."

Barnes came here to inspect London's traffic and its attempted solutions. His tart comments drew many a "Yeah, yeah, amen!" response.

Some of Britain's best brains are working on traffic problems.

One of their handiest solutions is to push more people underground. The new Victoria-Oxford Circus subway link is being rushed to completion.

The number of buses is being reduced — has been for more than a decade.

But the London transport authority wails: "Even if large sums are spent on London's road network, the buses generally cannot be expected to run significantly better as a result of the construction program alone. There will be too many other vehicles trying to use the highways."

The Ministry of Health says Britain has halted its population explosion. The birth rate has fallen for the first time since 1955.

But back to Barnes. He told New York correspondents of British papers: "What London needs is somebody in a position like mine — with over-all authority to make any regulation deemed necessary for traffic control. In London there are too many fingers in the pie."

But Barnes had compliments for Britons. He found London drivers "excellent and extremely polite." The New York traffic czar was quoted.

West Coast School Hit By $200,000 Fire

ZILLAH, Wash. (AP) — Chief Elmer Schultz of the Zillah rural fire department visited Zillah elementary school last Thursday to lecture on fire prevention.

Sunday, the first day of Fire Prevention Week, he was back again — to fight a fire.

The blaze destroyed 10 of the school's 13 classrooms, a library and an office despite efforts of three fire departments. Damage was estimated at $200,000.

How Did He Do It?

NEW DELHI (AP) — City police had little trouble recovering an item stolen from a suburban Indian Air Force base. They found the item, a semi-trailer tanker loaded with 1,000 gallons of fuel, parked several miles from the base. Now, Air Force officials are trying to find out how the culprit got the tanker off the base.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a thoracic surgeon. He has operated on hundreds of people whose lungs have been ravaged by cigarettes. As you know, medical science has discovered a link between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

We are very proud of our two teen-age daughters. They have been warned of the dangers of smoking and I doubt seriously that they ever will take up the habit.

Both girls are popular. They go to many house parties and their friends seem to be level-headed and sensible. Drinking is not allowed at these parties, since we parents have agreed to ban it.

Now my husband wants to impose an additional ban when these teen-agers come to our home—no smoking. He has explained that it is not a moral issue but a health issue.

Our daughters are unhappy about it and have let him know it. They feel this rule will keep some of their friends away.

I do not want to challenge my husband's authority as head of the house, nor do I question his professional conclusions. But I DO question whether it's wise to impose our health standards on others. Will you express your opinion, please?—SURGEON'S WIFE.

Dear Wife: If your husband were a teacher or a clergyman I would agree with you. The teen-agers certainly would interpret the cigarette ban as a moral issue in spite of his protestations and they would resent it—was well they might.

Since your husband is a surgeon, however, I feel that the ban against smoking in your home would serve as an effective reminder that cigarettes can be deadly. A sensible teen-ager would not be resentful of the prohibition, he would be respectful—and perhaps even grateful. I say more power to your husband.

Mother Of Bride

Dear Ann: Who gives the wedding when the girl's parents are divorced?

My first husband (the father of the girl) wants to foot the bills, which is just fine with me. My present husband never has met my first husband and has no desire to meet him. He says he will not go.

I, on the other hand, dread the whole affair because my ex-husband's wife will be there and I despise her.

Our daughter doesn't care who gives the wedding or who attends. She is interested only in having the most elegant and glamorous affair possible. In other words, she's selling out to the highest bidder. What do you think about this?—N.Y. MESS.

Dear N.Y. MESS: Let the girl's father pay for the wedding. Leave your present husband at home. Put on your best face and be as gracious as you can to the woman you despise. This is little enough to do for a girl who undoubtedly has shed many tears because her parents could not make it together.

Confidentially

TO CAN'T FIGURE IT OUT: If you think that's a mystery, just how do you explain the phenomenon of a minister living on a salary fixed 10 years ago and staying out of debt?

TO CHANGE PICTURES — YOU LOOK LIKE A MONKEY: Thanks a lot. I'd rather look like a monkey than sound like a jackass. Your essay on what makes life worth living was the most asinine piece of tripe I've ever read.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

When The Going Gets Rough

A wise doctor has urged your dietitian to help you over the rough spots. If the rough is mainly mental, the right psychological approach can be most helpful.

Ida Jean Kain

Many of you expalin that you can stay with a slimming pattern for a time and then, almost as if on signal, you revert to your old fattening ways of overeating. You point out that it isn't dietary know - how you lack, but the will to carry on.

—:—

TAKE A fresh avenue of approach. If you are to carry on, it must be in a positive way. It is not a matter of applying will power to not eating. That negative plan causes you to feel deprived.

It will help you to be alert to how you habitually react in a given situation, or at a specific place in your reducing regime. By being aware of what you tend to do, this insight sets you free. You can then turn your energies in a positive direction.

The whole point in being aware is to prevent the automatic response. With a new perspective, you can help yourself over the rough places. Direct your will toward overcoming your fear of failure rather than toward resisting fattening fare.

You ask if it helps to picture yourself wearing your right size dress. Certainly it does, for visualizing makes your goal more real. To take a giant stride, see yourself coping triumphantly when the going is rough.

Face the fact that slimming down is not all smooth sailing . . . anything else is less than realistic. There is never any use in trying to kid yourself. To take obstacles in stride, visualize yourself equal to the situation. In effect, you give yourself a stimulating challenge.

An awareness of how the mind works toward whatever goal you set puts you in a stronger position to identify with success. Truly, you can re-vitalize your personality.

THOSE OF you who call for help, help throughout a long letter, are really asking that someone be concerned with your problem. You need encouragement from someone who understands and with whom you can work on a continuing basis.

Could you join with a group? The group method of losing weight is based on the principle that together people will do many things which are difficult to do alone.

In some cities there is a group called Weight Watchers. The YWCA offers courses. There is a national organization called TOPS — Take Off Pounds Sensibly. To find if there is a group in your vicinity, write to TOPS Headquarters at 3180 South 27th. Milwaukee, Wis.

Be sure to go to a good medical man for periodic checkups. He will encourage you to tackle the weight problem in the right way and to make it a new way of life.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a thoracic surgeon. He has operated on hundreds of people whose lungs have been ravaged by cigarettes. As you know, medical science has discovered a link between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

We are very proud of our two teen-age daughters. They have been warned of the dangers of smoking and I doubt seriously that they ever will take up the habit.

Both girls are popular. They go to many house parties and their friends seem to be level-headed and sensible. Drinking is not allowed at these parties, since we parents have agreed to ban it.

Now my husband wants to impose an additional ban when these teen-agers come to our home—no smoking. He has explained that it is not a moral issue but a health issue.

Our daughters are unhappy about it and have let him know it. They feel this rule will keep some of their friends away.

I do not want to challenge my husband's authority as head of the house, nor do I question his professional conclusions. But I DO question whether it's wise to impose our health standards on others. Will you express your opinion, please?—SURGEON'S WIFE.

Dear Wife: If your husband were a teacher or a clergyman I would agree with you. The teen-agers certainly would interpret the cigarette ban as a moral issue in spite of his protestations and they would resent it—was well they might.

Since your husband is a surgeon, however, I feel that the ban against smoking in your home would serve as an effective reminder that cigarettes can be deadly. A sensible teen-ager would not be resentful of the prohibition, he would be respectful—and perhaps even grateful. I say more power to your husband.

Mother Of Bride

Dear Ann: Who gives the wedding when the girl's parents are divorced?

My first husband (the father of the girl) wants to foot the bills, which is just fine with me. My present husband never has met my first husband and has no desire to meet him. He says he will not go.

I, on the other hand, dread the whole affair because my ex-husband's wife will be there and I despise her.

Our daughter doesn't care who gives the wedding or who attends. She is interested only in having the most elegant and glamorous affair possible. In other words, she's selling out to the highest bidder. What do you think about this?—N.Y. MESS.

Dear N.Y. MESS: Let the girl's father pay for the wedding. Leave your present husband at home. Put on your best face and be as gracious as you can to the woman you despise. This is little enough to do for a girl who undoubtedly has shed many tears because her parents could not make it together.

Confidentially

TO CAN'T FIGURE IT OUT: If you think that's a mystery, just how do you explain the phenomenon of a minister living on a salary fixed 10 years ago and staying out of debt?

TO CHANGE PICTURES — YOU LOOK LIKE A MONKEY: Thanks a lot. I'd rather look like a monkey than sound like a jackass. Your essay on what makes life worth living was the most asinine piece of tripe I've ever read.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

When The Going Gets Rough

A wise doctor has urged your dietitian to help you over the rough spots. If the rough is mainly mental, the right psychological approach can be most helpful.

Ida Jean Kain

Many of you expalin that you can stay with a slimming pattern for a time and then, almost as if on signal, you revert to your old fattening ways of overeating. You point out that it isn't dietary know - how you lack, but the will to carry on.

—:—

TAKE A fresh avenue of approach. If you are to carry on, it must be in a positive way. It is not a matter of applying will power to not eating. That negative plan causes you to feel deprived.

It will help you to be alert to how you habitually react in a given situation, or at a specific place in your reducing regime. By being aware of what you tend to do, this insight sets you free. You can then turn your energies in a positive direction.

The whole point in being aware is to prevent the automatic response. With a new perspective, you can help yourself over the rough places. Direct your will toward overcoming your fear of failure rather than toward resisting fattening fare.

You ask if it helps to picture yourself wearing your right size dress. Certainly it does, for visualizing makes your goal more real. To take a giant stride, see yourself coping triumphantly when the going is rough.

Face the fact that slimming down is not all smooth sailing . . . anything else is less than realistic. There is never any use in trying to kid yourself. To take obstacles in stride, visualize yourself equal to the situation. In effect, you give yourself a stimulating challenge.

An awareness of how the mind works toward whatever goal you set puts you in a stronger position to identify with success. Truly, you can re-vitalize your personality.

THOSE OF you who call for help, help throughout a long letter, are really asking that someone be concerned with your problem. You need encouragement from someone who understands and with whom you can work on a continuing basis.

Could you join with a group? The group method of losing weight is based on the principle that together people will do many things which are difficult to do alone.

In some cities there is a group called Weight Watchers. The YWCA offers courses. There is a national organization called TOPS — Take Off Pounds Sensibly. To find if there is a group in your vicinity write to TOPS Headquarters at 3180 South 27th, Milwaukee, Wis.

Be sure to go to a good medical man for periodic checkups. He will encourage you to tackle the weight problem in the right way and to make it a new way of life.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOLES

QUESTION: Is a mole able to see?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Animals possess an amazing ability to adapt themselves to strange environments where, from our human point of view, it does not seem that life could go on at all. Fish swim in the midnight blackness of the ocean abyss; birds fly far up, with apparently nothing to support them. Few animals live stranger lives than the mole, most species of which spend all their lives underground. As our picture shows, their tunnels lie both just under the surface and further down. In his tunnels, dug with his powerful front claws, a mole finds shelter and protection from hunting animals. In the winter, he retreats to his nest two feet down. There are many worms and insects to be found, which satisfy his ravenous appetite (his food for one day equals his weight). His sensitive snout and sensory hairs of feet and tail show him where the walls of his tunnel are, so that a mole has no real need for vision. The result is that after centuries of living underground, practically all of the mole family has grown blind. Their eyes are extremely small, shaded with fur and are mere remnants of earlier days when their ancestors lived above ground.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch for mole hills in your lawn and see what you can find under them.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Oct. 10, the 283rd day of 1966. There are 82 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1913, the Gamboa Dike, the last obstruction to navigation through the Panama Canal was removed and the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans were united.

On this date:

In 1845, the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., was opened.

In 1938, Nazi troops completed the occupation of the Sudetenland in Czechoslovakia.

In 1941, the British announced commandos were being trained for an invasion.

In 1943, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek took the oath of office as president of China.

In 1944, American forces delivered to the Germans at Aachen a 24-hour surrender ultimatum.

Five years ago—West Berlin sources reported 50,000 Soviet combat troops and some 10,000 Polish Communist troops had arrived in East Germany. Ostensibly they were sent to take part in Warsaw Pact maneuvers, but Western observers speculated the newly arrived forces would remain in East Germany.

One year ago—U.S. paratroopers killed 46 Viet Cong guerrillas near Saigon as thousands of American troops in South Viet Nam joined government forces in a giant sweep of the country's central highlands.

Today is Monday, Oct. 10, the 283rd day of 1966. There are 82 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1913, the Gamboa Dike, the last obstruction to navigation through the Panama Canal was removed and the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans were united.

On this date:

In 1845, the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., was opened.

In 1938, Nazi troops completed the occupation of the Sudetenland in Czechoslovakia.

In 1941, the British announced commandos were being trained for an invasion.

In 1943, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek took the oath of office as president of China.

In 1944, American forces delivered to the Germans at Aachen a 24-hour surrender ultimatum.

Five years ago—West Berlin sources reported 50,000 Soviet combat troops and some 10,000 Polish Communist troops had arrived in East Germany. Ostensibly they were sent to take part in Warsaw Pact maneuvers, but Western observers speculated the newly arrived forces would remain in East Germany.

One year ago—U.S. paratroopers killed 46 Viet Cong guerrillas near Saigon as thousands of American troops in South Viet Nam joined government forces in a giant sweep of the country's central highlands.

Ike Clarifies Remarks Over Nuclear Weapons

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower still insists "we must do whatever is necessary to win" fast in Viet Nam. But he calls it silly for anyone to conclude this means he favors U.S. use of nuclear weapons there.

The five-star general who led Allied forces to victory in Europe in World War II says it is an entirely different kind of war in Viet Nam — a guerrilla type which exposes friend and foe alike to any weapons used. Only President Johnson, Eisenhower adds, ultimately can call the signals on broad policy and grand strategy.

Eisenhower says his only advice is that it ought to be a strategy aimed at winning quickly and putting an end to loss of American lives.

But to anyone who got the idea — and some did — that in recent remarks he was calling for or even suggesting use of nuclear weapons to achieve a swift victory, Eisenhower — in response to a quest for comment — has this to say::

"This is silly. How would you use nuclear weapons in Viet Nam? I ask: Do you have any idea?

"Personally, I would say whatever the President finds out he must do, I shall not criticize him. I do not know whether this war is going to escalate or de-escalate or anything else.

"I do know we must do whatever is necessary to win as quickly as possible. If not, the war will grow in costs, both in money and lives, and the nation's morale will be lowered."

And he says:

"The morale of a nation is just as important a factor — probably a more important factor — in determining its capacity to lead as is its military or economic strength."

Eisenhower, who will observe his 76th birthday at his farm home here Friday, differs sharply with the Johnson administration in the domestic policy area. But he shows no little irritation at the thought that anyone would attempt to drive a wedge between him and Johnson on the matter of how to conduct the Viet Nam war.

This does not mean, necessarily, that Eisenhower endorses all the fine print of Viet Nam policy. But he strongly believes that in war Americans ought to stand squarely behind the commander in chief.

In that connection the former president cautions fellow Republicans seeking election to Congress Nov. 8 against trying to make an issue of administration policy in Viet Nam. He thinks such an effort would be very risky from a political standpoint, and that domestic issues such as spending and inflation danger offer GOP candidates much better opportunity to capitalize at the polls.

'Against LBJ And Nixon,' Gov. Wallace Stresses

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — "I'm not only against Lyndon B. Johnson," says Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace. "I'm against Richard Milhous Nixon also."

Thus Wallace, campaigning for his wife to succeed him, has set the stage for another presidential venture. And he has answered Republican critics who have sought to tie him, through party identification, to President Johnson's administration.

Johnson's demonstrated unpopularity in Alabama has become a major issue in a race which will give the state its first woman governor in history or its first Republican governor in almost a century.

Wallace's wife, Lurleen — running as a stand-in for her husband because he is prohibited by law from succeeding himself — is a heavy favorite to defeat her GOP opponent, Congressman James D. Martin, and an Independent, Dr. Carl Robinson, in the Nov. 8 election.

Martin says his own polls show Mrs. Wallace's margin is narrowing.

Wallace, a symbol of segregationist resistance in the Deep South, is counting heavily on his defiance of federal desegregation orders to put his wife into office. Again and again, as he speaks in her behalf, he has promised an unending struggle for "the right to run our own affairs."

He has never said unequivocally that he will run for president in 1968, as he did in 1964. But he has told campaign crowds that he "just might" be a candidate "unless the major parties give us someone (a conservative) we can vote for."

And then he systematically rules out every Democrat or Republican thus far mentioned as a nominee, including former Vice President Nixon, who is Rep. Martin's choice.

Wallace says Nixon was partly responsible for the use of troops to integrate Central High School at Little Rock, Ark., in 1957 and that Nixon supported civil rights bills.

"Nixon stands for the same things Lyndon B. Johnson is for," says the governor. "So what do you gain if you defeat Lyndon Johnson with Richard Milhous Nixon? You're jumping from the frying pan into the fire."

Martin, who almost defeated veteran Sen. Lister Hill four years ago and then was elected to the House in the 1964 Alabama landslide for Barry Goldwater, has sought to make an issue of Wallace's presidential ambitions.

He argues that a third party race for president would split the anti-Johnson vote and help re-elect the President.

Wallace's reply to that is, "Sure, we want to hurt them. We want to hurt both parties. Then maybe they will pay attention to us."

Sentencing Awaited In Ohio Slaying Case

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Curt Barger, 33, Hamersville, faced sentencing today after being convicted of first degree manslaughter in the shooting of a customer at a New Richmond tavern.

Barger had been charged with second degree murder in the death of Colonel Woods, 33, early on April 18, but a Clermont County common pleas court jury found him guilty of the lesser charge. Barger worked as bartender at the tavern.

Police Arrest Ohioan In Shooting Of Uncle

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Charles D. Webb, 30, Franklin, was held by authorities today in connection with the shooting of his uncle, Edward (Dink) Powrell, 48, Franklin.

Police chief Frank Harbach of Franklin said Powrell was shot four times in the stomach Saturday night while standing in a downtown street. A bystander, John W. Chasteen, 18, Franklin, suffered a slight head wound during the altercation.
